ASSAULT WITH INTENT TO KILL.—That portion of community composed of XVth Amendments appear to be in trouble among themselves most of the time. On Saturday night about 11 o'clock, while Peter Thomas reposed in peaceful slumbers in "his little bed," in a house a short distance above the American Hotel, the ruthless invader in the person of Charles Bland, a barber by profession, armed with a large cut glass brandy bottle, appeared and without warning struck Thomas on top of the head with the bottle, cutting him frightfully, and smashing the bottle to fragments. As soon as Bland unleashed his assault, leaving the victim in an insensible condition, his better half, Lottie Bland, concluded to "take a hand in" and went to Thomas with a chair-battering him unmercifully. A warrant was issued by Justice Reynolds, and placed in the hands of an officer, who arrested Bland and his wife at a late hour Saturday night and placed them in the lock-up. An examination was had this forenoon, which resulted in Bland being held in the sum of $1,000 to appear at Franklin to answer a charge of assault and battery with intent to kill. His wife was fined $10 and costs.—Bland was taken to Franklin by officer Lawrence on the 1:20 train. The affair originated from an old family quarrel. He will probably realize the fact that a bottle is a dangerous instrument, especially when used on a man's cranium.

The Jamestown Democrat, destroyed by fire some weeks since, has again commenced publishing.

Mr. William Gally, the unfortunate man who was caught in the sand rope coil, while at work on the Columbia Farm, on Friday last, is slowly recovering. His leg was broken in three places. Once at the ankle, and twice a short distance above that. He has been caught in the cable which would have been instantly killed.

Another New Well at Pitohole.—Well No. 2, Phillips Bros. lease, Rooker farm, Pitohole, commenced to pump oil at midnight Saturday, starting off at the rate of fifteen barrels per day, with prospects of increasing. Entire depth of well 800 feet; 4th sand about 16 feet deep and of excellent quality. The well has a large supply of gas. No. 1, same lease, holds out at about eighty barrels per day.

The same parties will commence the drilling of the third well on same lease to-morrow (Tuesday), and the building of three more rigs this week.

Boyles Bros. & Leslie commenced to-day drilling a well on the Reesor farm, adjoining the Rooker farm.

Developing progresses at a lively rate in that vicinity.

By an announcement published in another column, it will be seen that it is the intention of our townsman, Mr. James H. Smith, to be a candidate for the office of District Attorney of Venango county, subject to the usages of the Republican party at its primary election in May. While we make it a standing rule not to meddle with politics, we cannot refrain from saying a word or two in his favor. We have been intimately acquainted with Mr. S. for the past four years, both at Pitohole and in this place, and in our intercourse with him, both socially and otherwise, have found him fair honorable and upright. He is a young and rising lawyer, well posted in Coke and Blackstone, and has already made his mark on more than one occasion, displaying signal talent and ability. If chosen to that responsible office we have no doubt he will sustain the position in a manner alike creditable to himself and his constituency.

New Crockery.—O. F. Schonblom, next door to the Record office, has just received a large assortment of new and elegant crockery ware, of almost every conceivable style and pattern, and which for richness of finish and beauty of designs cannot be excelled. Every neat house-keeper takes pride in her dinner or tea sets, and those who have none should by all means call at Schonblom's and select a set from his extensive assortment. In addition he keeps on hand a large variety of all styles lamps, shades, &c., together with groceries, provisions, vegetables, and other articles. Mr. Ambrose Weaver, has charge of this store, and can always be found at his post ready and willing to wait on customers. Give him a call.

Presentation.—A few days since, Mr. M. E. Taylor, a popular and efficient conductor on the Oil Creek Railroad, was made the recipient of a nice gold watch, as a testimonial of regard on the part of the business men on the Creek, and from Oil City to Cory. Mr. D. O. Day made a very neat and happy speech, and Mr. Taylor, who was quite taken by surprise, responded in a brief and feeling manner.—The watch was gotten up expressly by Isham & Co., of this city.—Titusville Herald.

Petroleum in San Domingo.
Mr. C. J. Fulton, of the Baltimore American, who accompanied the Commission to San Domingo, writes of the existence of petroleum in that Island, among its other rare peculiarities. In company with Professor Marvin, of the scientific corps with the Commission, Mr. Fulton went on an excursion to Azua, and writing from that place says: "We were soon in a region replete with petroleum and sulphur, and found a decayed derrick, two borings, and all the evidences of considerable oil having been extracted from Mother Earth, though all work had long since been abandoned. Several vats in the earth surrounded the well, one of which was full of oil, and from one of the borings the bubbling of gas through petroleum, which was within two inches of the surface, was visible to the eye and distinct to the hearing. Near the derrick the remains of an engine are standing, a perfect wreck, and the houses around have all gone to ruin. There is no doubt that over one hundred barrels of oil were taken from this well, and that it yielded a very superior article for lubricating purposes, but its distance, some miles from the seashore, and the scarcity of vessels to transport it to a market, rendered the speculation a total failure.

The well was opened some three years since, and some eighty barrels of it were taken to Boston, where it was analyzed and found to be heavier and better suited for lubricating purposes than any oil found in the United States. The duties, however, were prohibitory, and after laying in bond for some time, it was reshipped, taken out to sea and disposed of by knocking the heads of the barrels out. Fifty barrels were also transported to the beach to be shipped to Germany, but no vessel arriving the barrels laid for months exposed in the sun, until the staves finally warped and let the contents gradually flow into the sands of the ocean.

Mr. Fulton adds:
About a quarter of a mile further north there is another flow of petroleum, exuding from the surface at various places, and flowing on the surface of a small stream. Professor Marvin was of opinion that this whole region is rich in petroleum deposits, and he also found abundance of sulphur scattered about in the vicinity. There is said to be an excavation in the vicinity from which sulphur has been mined, but we could not trace it, and our guide did not know its precise locality. How any one could have anticipated making a petroleum yield pay in this remote place, some miles from the beach, over bad roads, and with the uncertainty of transportation to a market, seems most strange. If no sugar was broken, it had to be sent to Boston for repair, and nothing could be obtained here that was required for the work.

ROAD LAW REPEALED.—By the legislative proceedings of the 15th inst. we see that Mr. Finley called up and had passed in the Senate the House bill repealing the act of April 9, 1870, relative to roads and bridges in the counties of McKean, Bedford and Venango, so far as Bedford and Venango are concerned, and reviving the laws in existence before the passage of the act.

French journals report a singular mode of transporting letters, resorted to during the recent war. Two hollow hemispheres of zinc were filled with eight hundred letters and then soldered together, so as to form a ball twenty-five centimetres or nearly ten inches in diameter. This ball, on the circumference of which small paddles were attached, was thrown into the Seine some distance above Paris, and were fished up near that city at a water gate contrived for the purpose. The weight of the ball was so adjusted that it moved at a certain depth below the surface of the river, the current striking the paddles and driving it rapidly along.

A hotel at Windsor, Vt., charges guests twenty-five cents extra if they go to bed after 11 o'clock, and charges the same for calling a man in the morning, and an extra quarter for every time a man gets up in the night. A man had the cholera morbus one night, and had to go down stairs a good many times during the night for brandy, and when he went to pay his bill he had to pawn his trunk.

Kenyon's New Double Acting Oil Pump for Pumping Oil or Water in Deep Wells.
Kenyon's New Double Acting Oil Pump is acknowledged to be the best pump now in use. One of its leading features is that it not only produces a continuous flow of oil or other fluid, but that it creates and sustains a constant and powerful suction, by means of which the seams or veins of the well are in a great measure cleared of paraffine and other obstructive oils, and the oil in the veins is drawn towards the well. It has been ascertained by actual test that the use of this pump causes a gradually increasing flow of oil. It is well known by all operators that this improvement is of great value, and one that has been long sought for. The ablest mechanics of our country have for years been at work trying to find out some new and untried plan to prolong the life time of an oil well; and nothing yet to our knowledge has been brought before the public that in any way equaled the power of the Kenyon Pump, experience having taught that it is the long continued suction that has the power to keep up and increase the production of oil wells. Oil operators are referred to Mr. Geo. Bonilton, Superintendent of the Columbia Farm, for information in regard to the practical workings of the Kenyon Pump. We appeal the following testimonials from the managers of the Columbia Farm:

MR. H. K. KENYON:
Dear Sir:—We are using your Double Acting Oil Pump in three of our oil wells and take pleasure in stating that we are getting more oil and gas from even them than was previously obtained by the use of working barrels. We believe your oil pump to be the best in use.
Respectfully yours,
G. W. BORTON, Sup't.
