The Young Men's Christian Union of Tidouche are doing a good work. At a recent meeting the question "What can be done for our oil well engineers?" was recognized as one of vital importance to our Association. This class in our community consists mostly of young men living away from the restraints and the ballowing influences of the home circle, spending twelve hours out of each twenty-four at the well, where they are usually alone, with considerable opportunity for reading, and the remaining twelve in a narrow crib at the boarding house and in lounging on the streets or in saloons. It was decided that the first means for reaching these young men should be by holding an "Engineers Sociable," where they might meet the Christian women of Tidouche. The time for holding the sociable could not be determined to a day, but it was thought that some evening in the latter part of this month or early in May might be found suitable.—Journal.

QUERY—Why would not some such entertainment be of benefit to many young men in this place? and would it not be a good idea for the Y. M. C. A. of Petroleum Centre to act in the matter and not be behind our Tidouche neighbors in the good cause of carrying forward the Master's work?

Mr. John Meator, a train dispatcher on the O. C. & A. R. R., was quite severely hurt at the yards in this place yesterday. He was engaged in coupling cars when a sudden start of the engine caused the coupling pin to fly out, striking him in the left eye and inflicting a bad wound. He will not be able to use his eye, but it was a narrow escape.

The Titusville Courier's monthly petroleum report for March places the daily production of oil at 14,118 barrels.

The first circus of the season is now looking upon or about the first of May.

Another Suicide -- The Body of Patrick Pryor Discovered Back of Wild Cat Hollow, and about 150 Yards from the beaten path, they discovered the body of a man entirely naked and in an advanced state of decomposition. The young men immediately upon arriving in town reported the discovery of the remains to Justice Reynolds, who immediately empannelled a coroner's jury, visited the spot and took a view of the body. Our reporter was early on the ground and ascertained the following facts:

About 9 o'clock this forenoon, as Mr. Walt Gorham and Mr. Frank Bovee, of this place, were descending the hill from the Niagara farm, by an unfrequented path back of Wild Cat Hollow, and about 150 yards from the beaten path, they discovered the body of a man entirely naked and in an advanced state of decomposition. The young men immediately upon arriving in town reported the discovery of the remains to Justice Reynolds, who immediately empannelled a coroner's jury, visited the spot and took a view of the body. Our reporter was early on the ground and ascertained the following facts:

The remains were past recognition and had evidently lain where found for several months past. From its position it was apparent that the poor man had gone to work with the deliberate intention of committing the rash act of self-destruction. He had evidently first removed all his clothing, folded and laid them together neatly in a pile including boots and hat, retaining his undershirt, which he used to hang himself with. He had then evidently proceeded to a small sapling, about fifty feet from where he had left the clothing, climbed it about ten feet, tied one end of the undershirt to a limb of the tree, and the other end round his neck, and in that nude condition jumped off to his death. When discovered the body was lying at the foot of the tree, having evidently fallen head downward; the head was almost completely hidden from view being under the body; one leg was extended down hill and the other in the opposite direction. The neck had been broken by the fall, but whether that destroyed his life or he was dead before the fall can only be conjectured. A portion of the flannel undershirt still remains attached to the limb of the tree.

An examination of the clothing was made and in the pockets $5.30 in currency, a package of medicine enclosed in an envelope from the drug store of M. S. Simmons having no name on it, a spool of thread, several needles, and an account book, were found. The name of deceased did not appear in the book, but from it the fact was learned that he had been employed by the firm of Porter Sisson & Co., Lockport, N. Y., making hose hodies, in 1868-69; and for Homer McLean, at Abilon, N. Y., in 1868. He had also worked at Genesee, N. Y., and had boarded with Mr. Sisson while at work for him at Lockport. There was other memoranda in the book but it could not be made out having been obliterated by the action of the elements.

HIS IDENTITY.

During the forenoon the remains were visited by several of the workmen in the employ of the Central Petroleum Company, who identified the clothing as having belonged to Patrick Pryor, a former employee of the Company, and who disappeared about six months since. The books of the Central Petroleum Co. show that Patrick Pryor left their employ the 24 day of October, 1870, leaving a balance due him from the Central Company of $19.25. He stayed about two or three days, and was seen about that time by Mr. John Hanley going in the direction where the remains were found, who inquired where he was going and how he felt. Deceased replied "I am gone up, and am going on the bill to Griffes'" or words to that effect. This was the last seen of him alive.

At the time he left the employ of the Central Co. he remarked that "he was sick and thought he would go to the hospital at Buffalo," and was promised employment on his return.

Those who were intimate with him think that he was not in his right mind at the time of committing the rash act, and the surroundings of the body would indicate such to be the case. The remains have been taken in charge by Mr. Griffes, who resides on the Wood farm, and is a cousin of the unfortunate man. He has a brother residing at Dunkirk, who has been telegraphed to and returned an answer stating that he would arrive on the evening train.

From other sources we learn that Pryor had only been in this country about four years; was about 32 years of age and unmarried; had lived at Lockport for about two years. The jury are now in session and will probably render a verdict this evening.

Trout fishing is said to be good in the neighborhood of Titusville, and the weather exceedingly favorable for fishing.

Frank Murray, of Detroit, second mate of the schooner Plover was drowned off the port of Erie, in Lake Erie, Tuesday morning. He was engaged in stacking off the main boom tackle when he slipped and fell overboard. A boat was lowered but he could not be found. He leaves a wife and three children.

Snakes have been killed this spring, and we suppose the rattles of the poisonous ones will soon be brought in. These rattles will be fashionable for earrings in this section during the coming summer.—Forest Republican.

The belles and beauties of Titusville are not at all proud even if they are handsome, as will be seen by the above. They probably prefer "saratoga rattles" to the finest of gold or diamond jewelry, and that's where they are right, as real beauty needs no ornaments.

A movement is on foot for organizing a militia company at Titusville. Capt. Knox is the mover in the matter, and the Republican says it is sure of success.

The Tidouche Journal sits up the Temperance question at a lively rate, pitebng into the liquor business tooth, nail and claw. Give it to 'em good, Journal, while you are at it, and make a clean sweep.

The daily production of the Tidouche oil field for the week ending April 8, is 829 barrels.

Authority on the subject says that "married people should study each other's weak points." Jones says his wife has found his, and knows to a fraction of a second when to ask him for money, and he has found hers, and knows to a dot when it will do to refuse. There is no couple that get along any better together than Jones and his wife.

The Erie Lime and Cement Gas Company's well is now sunk to a depth of 560 feet and is being sunk at the rate of about 10 feet each day. It will be sunk 625 feet.—Eight vesels of gas have been struck. The tools used weigh about 1,500 lbs., the heaviest in the city. The well is being sunk by Mr. Martin Mills, who has had considerable experience in such matters.—When the required depth is reached, the well is to be cased and tubed.—Erie Dispatch.

Ann E. Cole, of Edgely, Tenn., was fatally burned to death by the explosion of a lamp, which she was filling without extinguishing the light. She had always borne a good reputation, only she used to say she didn't believe half she saw in the papers. If she had, the funeral might have been indefinitely postponed.

A Chicago man got into a row and had a quantity of his lungs shot out and his ear hit off, besides receiving a couple of stab in the ribs and a broken arm, in addition to which his left eye was put out of joint, and a hurricane-deck was put on his head after his teeth had been knocked out and his hair pulled, and his throat cut, yet he refused to expose his assailant, saying it is a mere trifle. He says if they think he is hurt much they ought to look at the other fellow.

One of our popular preachers says: I have great hope of a wicked man; slender hope of a mean one. A wicked man may be converted and become a pre-eminent saint. A mean man ought to be converted six or seven times, one right after the other to give him a fair start and put him on an equality with a bold wicked man.

Kenyon's New Double Acting Oil Pump for Pumping Oil or Water in Deep Wells.
Kenyon's New Double Acting Oil Pump is acknowledged to be the best pump now in use. One of its leading features is that it not only produces a continuous flow of oil or other fluid, but that it creates and sustains a constant and powerful suction, by means of which the seams or veins of the well are in a great measure cleared of paraffine and other obstructing matter, and the oil in the veins is drawn towards the well. It has been ascertained by actual test that the use of this pump causes a gradually increasing flow of oil. It is well known by oil operators that this improvement is of great value, and one that has been long sought for. The ablest mechanics of our country have for years been at work trying to find out some new and untried plan to prolong the life time of an oil well; and nothing yet to our knowledge has been brought before the public that in any way equals the power of the Kenyon Pump, experience having taught that it is the long continued suction that has the power to keep up and increase the production of oil wells. Oil operators are referred to Mr. Geo. Boulton, Superintendent of the Columbia Farm, for information in regard to the practical workings of the Kenyon Pump. We append the following testimonial from the managers of the Columbia Farm:

OFFICE COLUMBIA OIL CO.
Columbia Farm, Jan. 28.
Mr. H. K. KENYON:
Dear Sir:—We are using your Double Acting Oil Pumps in three of our oil wells and take pleasure in stating that we are getting more oil and gas from each of them than was previously obtained by the use of working barrels. We believe your oil pump to be the best in use.
Respectfully yours,
G. W. BOULTON, Sup't.
