SERIOUS BURNING ACCIDENT.—About 10 o'clock this forenoon, a man named P. Bendurfer, in the employ of Mr. A. S. Smith, the well known proprietor of the boot and shoe emporium, was fearfully burned thro' the careless use of kerosene oil. He had taken a can filled with oil and was engaged in lighting a fire in the stove, turning the oil on the smouldering embers in an exceedingly careless manner, when an explosion occurred enveloping the poor man in flames, blowing the stove to pieces, and nearly resulting in a disastrous conflagration. The man ran out the back door into the bakery in rear of Messer's grocery store, where the bakere succeeded in extinguishing the flames by the use of an old carpet and plunging him into a barrel of water, but not until his clothes were almost entirely burned off and the middle and lower extremities of his body dreadfully burned. Through the exertions of the neighbors the fire in the store was put out after some trouble. A physician was called who dressed the unfortunate man's burns, and he was conveyed to his home on the Egbert farm. The burns although severe are not necessarily fatal.

The accident was purely the result of carelessness on the part of Bendurfer, and adds one more casualty to the long list of burning accidents arising from the use of kerosene in lighting fires, and yet people will not learn. Next!

Considerable excitement was occasioned among our oil men, this forenoon, at the receipt of several telegrams announcing the striking of a large flowing well on the Kerr farm, three miles north of Titusville. The well is rated as flowing all the way from 60 to 300 barrels of oil per day, in consequence of which it is difficult to say what it is doing.

Larn.—From gentlemen who visited the well to-day, we learn that it is flowing fully 200 barrels per day.

At a great bargain pause awhile.

A dead beat, named Botawick when last heard from, was traveling around this and neighboring counties, representing himself to be a prodigy in the medical profession.—He has a woman with him, claiming her to be his wife, of course. He was arrested and imprisoned in Little Valley for "bash" money, but the kind folks wishing to rid their village of the tramp and give other confiding towns a chance, paid his fine and dispatched him to Dunkirk. If you notice any one filling the following programme, it is he: Average sized man, lame, imbibes whiskey and opium freely—two prominent features in his make-up. Name he has several. Printers and hotel keepers are warned to "play shy" of him for he is no respecter of persons in his little games.—All of which the Republican promulgates.

On Wednesday evening next, Gen. Judson Kilpatrick, the celebrated cavalry leader in Sherman's march to the sea, is to deliver his great military lecture, entitled, "Battle Scenes and Incidents of the Rebellion," at Sobel's Opera House. The name of Gen. Kilpatrick as a lecturer and soldier is a sufficient guarantee of itself of a crowded house.

The foundling child left on the door step of Mr. N. H. Payne's residence, a night or two since, has been adopted by Mr. William Dwyer, who resides on the Egbert farm.

The new well on the Lake farm continues to yield 30 barrels per day.

Greenville, Mercer county, is out of debt.

Sharon is going to have a hotel on the European plan.

A girl in Mercer county danced all night with her corsets pulled up to the last hole. Her funeral was largely attended.

Wide-awake and enterprising Dunkirk has voted unanimously to bond the town for $100,000 to supply the village with water for fire and other purposes.

The Pittsburgh Commercial says: Mr. McClintock, formerly of the McClintock farm, Oil Creek, has purchased the residence of the late A. A. Carrier, paying therefor $25,000.

Oil matters at Scrubgrass are looking up. A new 75 barrel well was recently struck on the McMillan farm.

Meadville has a new banking house, with Hon. Gideon Mosier as president, and J. H. Lenhart, cashier.

The San Francisco minstrels are to be at Meadville, May 8th.

An aged and respectable citizen of New Albany, Indiana, not having heard from an absent son for eight years, was induced to believe him dead, having been so advised by Spiritualists, who professed to have had communication with the deceased. The father was himself a spiritualist, and believed that he frequently held communication with his dead son. But a few weeks since he received a letter announcing that his son was alive and in good health, residing in Australia. Faith in Spiritualism has been most decidedly shaken in New Albany by the circumstance.

"DINNER HORN."—Joshua Billings discourses thereon: "Dinner Horn." It is set to music, and plays "Home, Sweet Home," about noon. It has bin listened to with more rapturous delight than even Graziadei's band has. You can hear it further than you can one of Mr. Rodman's guns. It will arrest a man and bring him in quick or than a sheriff's warrant. It ken outloo' any other noise. It kaizes the deaf to hear and the dum to shout for joy. Glorious old instrument! long may your lungs last.

The fountain designed for the boulevard at New Orleans is finished, and is a rather novel arrangement. It will throw a cascade of water with six feet fall into a broad basin, from which spring twenty more separate jets; this overflows through four large orifices, represented as the mouth of dolphins, pouring into a sub-basin of larger size. In the latter reservoir, which is about the height of a man's waist from the ground two life-sized swans moved by clock work, which runs forty-eight hours, will appear to swim around; and a miniature steamship, which is so arranged as to fire a gun every hour, will also sail around the basin.

The well now being sunk in Buffalo, with a view of securing a flow of natural gas, such as they have in Erie, has reached a depth of one hundred and fifty feet, and is progressing at the rate of twenty feet in twenty-four hours. The belief exists that the gas is somewhere in that region, and although none has yet been discovered, the well will be sunk to the depth of eight hundred or one thousand feet before the search is given up.

A faithful friend is a good defense.

A romantic incident, showing the power of an earnest love to overcome the most formidable difficulties, is reported in the Colorado papers. A Chicago youth fell in love with a Colorado maid, whose father was so much opposed to the proceedings that he drove the young man from his house with wrath and a revolver. Upon this the earnest youth had the stern parent arrested for threatening his life, and when the old gentleman was safely locked up by the judicious use of a ten dollar bill, he induced the same Justice of Peace who had imprisoned the father to marry him to the daughter. This done, the old man was brought up for trial when he concluded to swap forgiveness with his enterprising son-in-law, who thereupon magnanimously withdrew his complaint.

Like dropping, dying stars, our loved ones go away from our sight. The stars of our hopes, our ambitions, our prayers, whose light shines before us, they suddenly pale in the firmament of our hearts, and their place is left empty, cold and dark. A mother's steady, soft and earnest light, that beamed through all our wants and sorrows; a father's strong, quick light, that kept our feet from stumbling in the dark and treacherous ways; a sister's light, so mild, so pure, so constant and so firm, shines upon us from gentle, loving eyes, and pursuing us to grace and goodness; a brother's light, forever sleeping in our soul, and illuminating our goings and comings; a friend's light, true and trusty—gone out forever? No! the light has not gone out—it is shining beyond the stars, where there is no light and no darkness forever, and forever.—[Theodore Parker.

A gentleman named Lafever, of Kentucky, eloped with his niece, leaving a wife and child and an able bodied mother-in-law, who were dependent upon him for support in destitute circumstances. How can a man who has a cheerful mother-in-law, endowed with all the accomplishments, including a never-failing appetite, elope with a girl?

In Louisville, on Monday last, two men were killed by a large rock falling on them two men were murdered; an editor committed suicide; a printer was found dead in his bed, and two cases of cowbiding by women occurred. All of which made up a programme of horrors unequalled in one day anywhere else we have yet heard of.

Kenyon's New Double Acting Oil Pump for Pumping Oil or Water in Deep Wells.

Kenyon's New Double Acting Oil Pump is acknowledged to be the best pump now in use. One of its leading features is that it not only produces a continuous flow of oil or other fluid, but that it creates and sustains a constant and powerful suction, by means of which the seams or veins of the well are in a great measure cleared of paraffine and other obstructions, and the oil in the veins is drawn towards the well. It has been ascertained by actual test that the use of this pump causes a gradually increasing flow of oil. It is well known by oil operators that this improvement is of great value, and one that has been long sought for. The ablest mechanics of our country have for years been at work trying to find out some new and untried plan to prolong the life time of an oil well; and nothing yet to our knowledge has been brought before the public that in any way equals the power of the Kenyon Pump, experience having taught that it is the long continued suction that has the power to keep up and increase the production of oil wells. Oil operators are referred to Mr. Geo. Boniton, Superintendent of the Columbia Farm, for information in regard to the practical workings of the Kenyon Pump. We append the following testimonial from the managers of the Columbia Farm:

OFFICE COLUMBIA OIL Co. }
Columbia Farm, Jan. 28. }

Mr. H. K. KENYON:

Dear Sir:—We are using your Double Acting Oil Pumps in three of our oil wells and take pleasure in stating that we are getting more oil and gas from each of them than was previously obtained by the use of working barrels. We believe your oil pump to be the best in use.

Respectfully yours,

G. W. BOULTON, Sup't.
