Last night, one Jack McCormick, a notorious ruffian and scoundrel, who has hung around this place for several months past with no visible means of support whatever, concluded to upset the usual order and quiet that prevails by getting drunk, in which he succeeded, but eventually found himself in the lock-up. After getting his miserable carcass well filled with rot gut whiskey, he proceeded to the mouth of Bennehoff Run and commenced the evening's performance by breaking in the door of Mr. Jas. Lyndon's house and seizing a valuable dog by the hind legs smashed it down on the counter breaking the poor beast's legs. When remonstrated with the villain threatened to set fire and burn all the buildings down in the neighborhood. A short time afterwards this brute in human form met Rev. Father Dunn and assailed him with the most vile and low-lived language, threatening his life and intimidating him to such an extent that the Rev. Father was forced to flee for fear the villain would do him bodily harm. After committing sundry other depredations he was arrested by officer McHugh and placed in the lock-up, concluding the evening's performance by making night hideous with his drunken howlings.

This morning he was brought before Justice Reynolds, and after an examination was bound over in the sum of $700 to appear at the August term of Court at Franklin, to answer a charge of malicious mischief. He failed to procure bail and was taken to Franklin on the 1:20 train by officer McHugh, where it is to be hoped the villain will "rot in the Bastille" for the rest of his natural term of existence.

SINGULAR CASE.—On Monday last, Mr. C. B. Stewart, a carpenter and joiner in the employ of J. C. Scott of this place, while at work suddenly lost the use of his speech. No cause can be assigned for his misfortune. He is in good health and remains so except that it is impossible for him to speak. The case is a singular one.

SENTENCES BY THE COURT.—John Winans, found guilty of breaking into a house at Waterloo, this county, was sentenced by Judge Trunkey to be imprisoned in the Western Penitentiary for the term of one year and six months.

James Melville, found guilty of shooting D. C. Clark, at Akin's billiard room in this place, with intent to kill, was sentenced for two years and six months.

John Devitt, colored, found guilty of committing a rape on the person of a little girl two and a half years old, at Oil City, received his just deserts, being sentenced for ten years, the full penalty of the law.

Van Schoyer alias Osgood, found guilty of horse stealing, at McClintockville, received a sentence of four years.

The above completed the list of criminal sentences at the late term of Court held at Franklin.

Mr. H. R. Miles of the Duncan House, Oil City, has sold out his interest in that well known house to our townsmen, Messrs. G. J. Cross and John McOmber, the old and popular landlords of the Central House in this place, who will hereafter run that hotel. It is sufficient for us to say that when these gentlemen take hold of an enterprise of this kind it will be run in first-class style or not at all. The people of Oil City will discover this fact before the Duncan House has been opened many days.

The above change will not interfere with the business of the Central House in this place. It will remain under the same management, retaining its old-time reputation as being the best regulated hotel in this section of the oil region, which it has fairly earned through Messrs. Cross & McOmber.

The Forest Republican says:

The Grove & Wolcott well is down through the third sand rock, the whole depth of the well being 781 feet. The third sand was 16 feet through. They will tube the well to-day (we write on Monday) and commence testing to-morrow. The indications for a good well are favorable, and the owners are confident that they will soon have oil in such quantities as to cause an excitement on the Sowers Farm. This territory has been considered as nearly sure and we earnestly hope that it may prove all that is expected of it.

Rev. J. W. Spoor, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Oil City, has tendered his resignation.

A telegram from Shamburg, dated May 1 says:

At eight o'clock this morning the Beardsley House, owned by R. W. Barr, caught fire from the pipe consuming the whole building, and all but a few articles of furniture in the lower rooms. Total loss about four thousand dollars; insurance two thousand five hundred dollars in a Buffalo Company.

Speaking of natural gas wells the Cleveland Herald says:

We have been informed that various citizens having manufactories and shops on the flats, contemplate the project of sinking artesian wells for gas as that already down at the works of the Cleveland Gas Company proves a valuable acquisition.

There is quite an excitement in Warren county over the finding of oil on the surface of the old Holcomb well, between Pittsfield and Wrightsville. Land is being leased in the vicinity, and the territory is to be tested. So says the Corry Republican.

Tionesta rejoices in a new brass band. Their instruments have arrived and they will commence "tooting" at once.

The Exchange Hotel at Franklin, will be opened on the 20th of this month, by Maj. S. M. Mills, formerly of the American Hotel, Titusville.

The Petroleum Advertiser says that since the sinking of the deep well at Petrolia, Canada, "Titusville must look to her laurels."

Union Mills is no longer Union Mills. It is hereafter to be known as Union City, the Postmaster General having changed the name of the Postoffice to that.

An effort is being made to establish a collegiate institute at Oil City, with fair prospects of success.

The Oil City Register speaking of the late cases of robbery in that city says:

Thieving gentry purchase tickets and come here the same as other people. If they "work" they are spotted by the Police and driven away. That Oil City is to blame for this is preposterous. There is no lack of vigilance on the part of the Police, and the reason why people are robbed here is simply because they make a show of their worth and foolishly give thieves a chance to operate.

The Republican primary election will be held on Saturday next.

A train, Monday morning, from Plainfield New Jersey, for New York, struck one of Barnum's circus wagons, near Crawford, New Jersey, killing three men outright and dangerously injuring two others, while the sixth was slightly injured. All of them belonged to the circus. The wagon was loaded with provisions, dishes, etc., and was totally demolished. The two males were carried over two hundred feet and left dead. The driver's body was found seventy-five yards from the crossing.

Mr. Cisco, of Newark, while chasing his wife around the room for the purpose of giving the lady her morning thrashing, fell dead of heart disease. How cruel some women are. She knew he was afflicted with heart disease, and that any sudden excitement would be liable to kill him, yet she inhumanly ran away from him when her presence was needed. She must feel sad.

Young Charley Bennett, son of a hotel keeper at Denver, shot and killed a girl named Cynthia, a domestic in the house, because she had been upon terms of improper intimacy with him. He says he can prove it against her. Here is another warning for men to go armed.

Bella French, who is lecturing in Iowa on "Progression," closes one of her productions thus: "Mark our progress, for we beat the world. Our Yankee race is plenshes, not by Yankee mothers; they know a thing or two that Eve did not. John Chinaman, the Scandinavian, the Dutch or Irishman—they do all this, the lower work for emigration is the true panacea for peopling our beloved America. On, on we go. What next? The Kettle sings our lullabys, the cradle rocks by steam, the baby sucks it Alexandria, and women all go lecturing. The dawn of millennium has come.

Dr. Jas. L. Thayer, of circus fame, is soon to start out again with his circus. He will visit the oil region.

The Canton Repository thus records another death by coal oil. A fatal kerosene explosion took place in Pike township on Monday evening about nine o'clock, Cesa, daughter of Adam Stuck, fifteen years of age, was engaged in filling a lamp while burning; the oil became ignited and exploded the lamp, setting fire to her clothes and burning her so badly that she died at 10 o'clock on Tuesday morning.

Wm. Keck, postmaster of Greenville, died very suddenly Thursday night last.

The railroad from Pithole to Pleasantville has been surveyed, and the work of grading will commence soon.
