TERRIBLE RAILROAD ACCIDENT -A terrible and probably fatal railroad accident occurred at Miller Farm, this morning, by which our townsman, Mr. H. C. Chapman, Superintendent of the Claremont farm for Mr. D. O. Wickbam, had both legs cut off and will probably die. The particulars of this sad effair appear to he as follows: Mr. C. was standing on the platform in front of Brown's Hotel, engaged in conversation with another gentleman, when the 9:30 a. m. freight going north passed, moving at a rapid rate of speed. Wishing to make the train be ran along the platform until nearly in front of the freight depot, when he made a jump for the platform of the caboose, catching the railing with his bands but falling to secure a footing was thrown back his body resting on the platform and both legs scross the rail, the wheels of the car passing over them, cutting off one below the knee and the other one a short distance above the knee. The train was stopped, and the unfortunate man taken on board and carried to Titusville. Physicians were called, who dressed the wounds, and it is understood have some hopes of saving his

The unfortunate man's wife and family were telegraphed to in regard to the secident, and left here on the noon freight train for Titusville. Truly the meeting between the sflicted ones and the maimed and bleed ing father will be a end one. They have the sympathy of all in their terrible and bears rending affiction.

Mr. C. was an bonest, hard working and upright citizen, and his death would be keenly felt by all.

ACCIDENT. - Last evening about 6 o'clock, a little son of our townsman, Mr. W. R. Merchant, met with quite a severe accident He was engaged in a playful wrestle with another boy named Frank Wilson, and was threws to the ground quite neavily, breaking his arm a short distance above the elbow. The bones were re-set by Dr. Stuart, and the boy is in a fair way of recovery.

He to also the exclusive agent in the oil regions for the Erie City Iron Works, manufacturers of the selebrated Monitor engines and boilers, which are coming into general use among oil men for pumping and drilling oil wells. The engines manufactured by the Erie Iron Works are staunch and serviceable and capable of standing so immense amount of wear and tear. Our oil men will find it ing section; in the exciting times of 1864-65, to their advantage to give Mr. Durfey a call before buying their engines elsewhere. His place of business is located at the corner of lars in cash and as much more in stock, and Perry and Mechanio Ste., Titusville, Pa.

We are a very sensible people, and yet we appear to have an inborn disposition to cringe to the nobility of Eulope when they come into our midst. The visit of Alexis, of Russia, has already set the young men gog, as avidenced by a bat to be worn in imitation of his. It is of no use to murmur, as such is our fate. Some one has said that if the King of the Cannibal Islands were to come over, we would immediately tall our noses and tatoo our breasts.

Those of our citizens desiring to have a the party to be given at Prather's Hall, Plumer, this Thursday evening. Clark, the popular landlord of the Spencer House, under whose auspices the party is given, has made every arrangement for a pleasant time, and those who attend will undoubtedly enjoy themselves to the fullest extent.

An interesting case is on trial at Cincin nati. Jacoby & Co., liquor merchants, sued Frank Hall and Cora Phillips for moneys alleged to be due from them for wines purchased. The woman now comes loto court, man expedition heading for the blil was contracted they were keepers of bawdy houses, that there can be no claim tor debt against a prostitute, under the law, and certainly not against the landlady of a known house of ill repute. In other words, they interpose their own shame as a bar against recovery of dents of their own coutracting. The decision in the case will soon be made known.

Of course it is now proved that Shakespeare is the author of the slang. "You know how it is yourself" It is found in the "Merry wives o: Windsor," where Ford, disguised as Master Brook, thus discourseth to Sir John Falstaff, (the Tweed of Godshill:)

"I shall discover a thing to you wherein I must very much lay open my own imperfections; but, good Sir John, as you have one eye upon my fullies, as you have them unfolded, turn another into the register of your own, that I may pass with a reproof the easier Sith, you yourself know how easy it is to more appropriate. be such an offender."-[Act ii. scene 2.

If any better evidence of the possession of far more than the average of common sense, which, by the way, is about as scarce and preclose as any other valuable commudity. or of sound bust ness judgement, exists; than has been shown by the gentlemen above named, we should like to know them. Pos essed of a farm of some two hundred scres, located in the very center [of the oil produc. be successfully resisted the tempting offers made, in one case over half a million dolheld on to the old homestead bequeathed to him as a priceless heritage. By nonest industry be accumulated sufficient to com-mence something over a year ago the development of his farm. The success he met with is a matter of bistory in oildom. From thirty acres of this farm he has realized a good square million of dollars, and he still was it intact. The daily production still yleided is nearly three bundred barrels per day, and of this Mr. McCray owns four-fifths. A plain, unassuming gentleman, he manages his large and ever increasing business with rare tact. Just and prudent in all his pleasant social time should bear in mind relations with his fellow men, unswerving in his integrity, but few men stand deservedly higher. In his own quiet way, he has contributed liberally to all deserving objects, and his beart is as kind as his bend is level. Mr. McCray has invested largely in oil lands and other enterprises. The firm of McCray, Rockwell & Co., are among our leading coal firms, doing a large and ever increasing business. Mr. McCray is favorably spoken of as a candidate for Congress from this district at the next term. A selfmade man, bonest, ane capable, no more fitting rerepsentative of the great petroleum district could be selected.
