At Last.

The Grand Duke has come. Hope deferred made the hearts of New Yorkers sick, as sick as the Grand Duke probably was whilst knocking around among heavy seas and head winds for the past fortnight, but now it is all right. Alexis is at last among them, and the Noddies and Doodies of Gotham can make themselves ridiculous to their heart's content. The Committee on Reception, on Carrriage, on Banquet, on Wine, on Invitations, and on Toasting, now have their heads full in preparing to demonstrate to the Russian visitor that America is the greatest nation on the globe, and has among its people some of the biggest fools. But the prince, if he has made himself familiar with New York manners and customs, will remember that the "honora" paid to him have been shared with a score of others "distinguished" and "notorious" personages, with some neither distinguished nor notorious outside New York, and that the fools and sud tuft hunters of Gotham do not constitute all its population, nor do they represent in any appreciable degree the spirit of the American people.

SOMETHING NEW IN DRILLING FLOWING WELLS.—Our townsman, Mr. Vic. Greiter, has invented something decidedly new and novel in the way of an oil saver and fire preventive, which will eventually come into general use, and be the means of saving much oil, especially at flowing wells, that now goes to waste.

The invention consists of a hollow piston working through a stuffing-box which is closely fitted to the ordinary casing head, the cable being secured within the tube. By this arrangement the hole is only open during the passage of the length of the tools.

Greiter's Oil-Saver and Fire Preventer has been thoroughly tested on the well-owned by our townsman, Messrs. Patterson, Dickey, Lockwood and Nicholson, and Kemp Bros. of Columbia Farm, located on the N. Eley Farm, near the St. Petersburg oil district, and is also in use on the big well at Pitohole, now flowing 200 barrels a day and being drilled through the sand at the same time. Its simplicity commends it, and its merit is acknowledged at sight by every practical man.

Mr. Greiter is an old and experienced driller, and now that large casing is in general use, he saw the necessity of lessening the danger from fire in drilling flowing wells to say nothing of saving in oil.

He has applied for a patent and proposes to have the invention in general use.

By reference to the advertisement in another column, it will be seen that Dr. W. H. Reynolds of Rousseville, will be at the McClintock House, on Monday next and remain six days, for the purpose of practicing Dentistry in all its branches. The Dr. has a good reputation for healing up the teeth and making them almost as good as new.

The Disasters of the Year.

During the centuries to come, the year 1871 will be spoken of as the year of the great fire. There is nothing in history like the fearful conflagration of the present season. Where only a few weeks ago, magnificent trees covered thousands of acres, nothing now remains but charred timbers still smoking from the effects of the sweeping fire. The towns and cities that have suffered present a scene not unlike the ruins over which travelers in oriental countries pause with awe.

Wonderful changes are suggested by a comparison of the late with former disasters of the same character. The intelligence of the London fire was a full month creeping over Europe—two months barely sufficed to make it known on this side of the water. The press of London and Berlin issued bulletins announcing the hourly progress of the Chicago fire, and before its ashes were sold it had been communicated to every part of the civilized world. Yet even this evidence of the triumphs of human art and science is not so gratifying as the rich proofs we have had of that spirit of international sympathy and world-wide charity which was well nigh unknown two centuries ago, but which is to-day sending, unasked, vast treasures across the Atlantic, to swell the voluntary contributions from our towns and county and from every city and county in the land. It is the sentiment of a common humanity, whose munificence can hardly be contemplated with dry eyes, and whose growth is, more than anything else, the pride and glory of our nineteenth century civilization.

Mrs. Logee, formerly Miss Etison, the celebrated elocutionist, will give readings in the public school building, Cottage Hill, this morning. As an elocutionist Mrs. L. has few superiors in this section, and we advise all who can take advantage of this opportunity to hear her.—Oil City Derrick.

The friends of the M. E. Sabbath School of this place, should bear in mind that Mrs. Logee will give a series of readings for the benefit of that school, at Sobel's Hall, tomorrow evening. Our former townsman, Mr. E. Blake and other amateur musicians, will furnish music for the occasion.—The entertainment will prove a rare literary treat, to say nothing of the beneficial object for which it is given. We hope to see a large attendance.

OBITUARY.—Died at the residence of R. W. Evans, at Titusville, on Tuesday, Nov. 21, 1871, of typhoid fever, KATZ, youngest daughter of P. V. D. V. Sobermerborn, and sister of our townsman, Mr. Schermerborn, of the firm of Sobermerborn & TeuEyck.—This young lady had a large circle of relatives and friends in our town, to whom she had endeared herself by her many amiable qualities of head and heart, and to whom the memory of the "dear one gone before" will not soon be forgotten.

Divine services will be held at the residence of Mr. Evans, in Titusville, tomorrow (Thursday) afternoon, at 2 1/2 o'clock.—Friends of the family are invited to attend.

A special from Boston says: A man named John G. Clinton, a barber, was arrested in Lynn, Mass., charged with beating his wife in a brutal manner, then pouring kerosene over her and setting her on fire. She was literally roasted to death. The body was still burning when found, and presented a sickening sight. There were marks of violence on her head, consisting of two or three cuts looking as though they had been made with some dull instrument. On the breast were also wounds, which appeared to have been caused by something besides the flames. The features were rendered unrecognizable, and the hair was burned close to the head, leaving the skull bare and horribly crisped and black. The flesh was dropping from the hands, arms and body.

Howe & Cook have a large quantity of Second-hand Tubing, Casing, Gas Pipe, Engines, Boilers, and in fact everything in the line of oil well supplies, which they are selling remarkably cheap. Read their new advertisement and pay them a call.

On Saturday evening last a man named Timothy Donovan, met with an accident at the mouth of Stewart's Run on the O. C. & A. R. Rv. He with some other men were riding on a hand car; Donovan's legs were hanging over the end of the car on which Donovan was riding, struck against some ties, breaking one leg between the ankle knee. Drs. Hunter and Winans reduced the fracture, which was a compound one, and the patient will get along nicely.

A Good Arrangement.

The managers of the A. V. Railroad have placed two new local trains upon their road, the Parker accommodation and Oil City and Kittanning accommodation.

The Parker accommodation leaves Oil City at 7:15 p. m., stops at all intermediate points, and arrives at Parker at 10:15 a. m. Leaves Parker at 6 p. m., and arrives at Oil City at 9:15 p. m.

The Oil City and Kittanning accommodation leaves Oil City at 4:00 p. m., arriving at Eastanning at 9:10 p. m. Returning, leaves Kittanning at 7:05 a. m., and arrives at Oil City at 12:20 p. m.

Gen. Hardee has been instructing the Florida farmers in a new system of tactics, to be employed against vegetable-eating insects, which is "naturally enough, concussion by gun powder, or other explosives.—He cleared his garden of the curculio by touching off two pounds of powder, the shock killing every insect with a considerable radius. Evidently he uses powder with better success as a farmer than as a Confederate General.

The wonderful endurance of the Western people is proved again, they having stood a three hours speech by Train in Omaha.—Being called upon for an explanation of the report of his connection with the burning of Chicago, Train said he could not imagine where such a vile slander on him and the Internationale originated, except that it was concocted by his confederates of Bismarck, Thiers and the ruling powers of the Old World to strike a death blow at him and the Internationale?

Grass widows are highly favored in England. It has been judicially decided in that tight little island that a married woman is entitled to vote at municipal elections, if she happens to be living apart from her husband. The law, as now interpreted, is that every woman can vote for municipal officers if she is an independent householder; or having a husband, if she is not under his control; which puts the grass widows on a political footing with spinsters and sure enough widows.

Mr. Fields, in his lecture on Cheerfulness, describes a man so shut in with dignity and exclusiveness that when you shake hands with him you always feel as if you were doing it through a knot-hole.

De Tocqueville, in a note in his admirable work, "Democracy in America," uses his language: "I look upon the size of certain American cities, and especially on the nature of their population, as a real danger, which threatens the future security of the democratic republics of the New World."

The gallant Henry Berry Lowry of the North Carolina bushes, recently captured a freight train and compelled the conductor to "carouse" with him in a bar-room near at hand. After the spree was over he allowed the train to proceed unmolested, and all hands unharmed, except the conductor, who complained of being "drowsy" like.

A short time after the war a man named Wm. Dozier shot and killed a policeman named Nathan Haines, on the corner of Gay and Main streets, Knoxville. About three years afterward Dozier was shot and killed on almost the same spot, by John M. Anderson, and on Thursday last Anderson was shot at Sweetwater by an officer of the law.
