REMOVAL.

The office of the Daily Record has been removed to the building situated four doors below the late location, directly opposite the McClintock House, and next door to Odd Fellows Hall. Our friends are invited to call and see us.

The Union School House at Corry was burned down on Tuesday afternoon. The school had not been dismissed when the fire was discovered, but the scholars got out safely. A defective furnace is said to have set the building on fire. Loss $10,000; insured for $6,000.

On the evening of the 19th the ladies of Rossville will hold their annual fair for the benefit of the poor.

Mr. G. C. Hempstead, of Oil City, has purchased the Photograph Rooms of Chas. Griffin, on Washington street, and will hereafter conduct the business for his own use and behoof. Mr. H. has the reputation of being a first-class artist, and those who desire to secure good pictures should pay him a visit.

There was a large audience in attendance at the lecture given before the Young Men's Christian Association by Josh Billings, at Sobel's Opera House, last evening. His subject—Milk—was characteristic of his writings, with which everybody is familiar, except that in lecturing his witticisms lack the point they have in print. His name appears to cover any defect the lecture may possess, and all appeared to think that they had "seen the elephant," whether the lecture amounted to anything or not.

Since the opening of the doors to the public, large crowds have been in attendance at Bergmann's Automatic Wonder, or, The German's Dream, on exhibition in O. W. King's Building, on Washington street, and all unite in pronouncing it the most wonderful piece of mechanism ever put together, and worth thrice the price of admission charged.

This institution is not run on the plan of "you pay your money in advance" to see the sight, but every person is allowed to pass in, and if not satisfied he passes out free; if satisfied that the Automatic Wonder is a rare piece of mechanism—instruction is given, and he pays the sum of 25c upon passing out.

To enable all to see this most wonderful piece of workmanship, it will remain on exhibition to-morrow and Monday, leaving here for Oil City on Tuesday morning. We would advise all to embrace the opportunity of seeing it.

THE NATHAN MURDER.—A ship has recently arrived at Honolulu from the spot where were wrecked the entire whaling fleet. This vessel brings the last of the shipwrecked sailors. These men now being cared for by the authorities. One of the shipwrecked seaman, who died at the United States Hospital, two days ago, has made a statement which has created a sensation. While on his death bed he was visited by a shipmate, to whom he confessed the startling fact that he was a murderer. Being asked what had led him to the commission of such a crime he avowed it was for the purpose of obtaining money. He was pressed by his shipmates to disclose the full details of the horrible affair, and thus case his conscience. He confessed some particulars which led directly to the belief that he was either the principal actor or else an important accomplice in the atrocious massacre of Mr. Benjamin Nathan, in New York, last year.—Phila. Press.

"TIMES IS CHANGED."—A copy of the Salem Gazette for May 9th, 1800, has among its advertisements the following:
 "Smoking Segars Public notice is once more given to all persons who are in the habit of smoking segars in the evening, that the constables have received orders to enter a complaint against any person who shall be found smoking a segar after sundown, as it is contrary to the law of the town, made for the purpose of preventing so dangerous a practice, and every person, without distinction, will be prosecuted on the first complaint entered with the officer of the police."
 Signed, NATHAN WALDO."

CORRY RECORD.—The following sentences were pronounced upon the prisoners convicted at this term:
 Ada Wingard, convicted of concealing death of a bastard child. Sentenced to pay a fine of $100 and costs, and undergo imprisonment in the county jail for three months.
 Lou. Sherman, convicted of keeping a bawdy house. Sentenced to pay a fine of $150 and costs, and undergo imprisonment in the county jail for ten days.
 Minnie Tarr, convicted of keeping a bawdy house. Sentenced to pay a fine of $150 and costs, and undergo imprisonment for twenty days.
 Louis C. Sattley, convicted of outlaw fully cutting, stabbing and wounding. Sentenced to pay a fine of $100 and costs, and undergo imprisonment in the county jail for three months.
 George Schoppe, convicted of assault and battery. Sentenced to pay a fine of $100 and costs.
 J. P. Dewoody, convicted of assault and battery. Sentenced to pay a fine of sixty dollars and costs.
 Wilson Scott, convicted of assault and battery. Sentenced to pay a fine of sixty dollars and costs.

We would call the attention of our citizens, and the ladies in particular, to the advertisement of Messrs. Sobel & Auerhaim, dealers in dry goods, ladies and gents' furnishing goods, carpets, trunks, valises, &c. This firm have been engaged in the dry goods trade in this town for the past six years, and having always kept on hand a full and complete stock of everything in their line, and sold goods at low rates, have always done a good business. In this connection we would state to our citizens that they no need to go to Titusville, Oil City, or any other point to purchase dry goods, as the same can be purchased at Sobel & Auerhaim's for less money, and a better quality of goods at that. Call on them and "see how it is yourself."

The suits recently brought by Mr. Sterling Bonnell against a certain oil dealer are not definitely settled. Thomas Ewing, Esq., one of the arbitrators, dissenting from the findings of the others on the ground that the "call contracts" sued on were wagering contracts, and consequently illegal. Mr. Ewing refused to sign the awards in all the cases in which he was the arbitrator, on the ground that "call contracts" were wagering contracts in law, and therefore valid. All the cases in which awards were filed were appealed.—[Pittsburgh Post, 13th.]

Neat housekeepers are generally put on...

George Jewell, an Irishman employed in a stone quarry at Brookville, attended a murder on last Wednesday evening, by cutting his throat with a razor. He had been drinking hard for some time, and he showed frequent signs of delirium. About eight o'clock he retired for the night, but soon afterwards some of those in the house with him heard a strange noise in his room, and on going in found him partially undressed, with a fearful gash in his throat. A physician was summoned, and efforts were made to save his life, and there is some hope of his recovery. He is supposed to have been formerly a resident of Butler county.—Venango Citizen.

A counterfeit fifty dollar, greenback, new issue, was passed yesterday in Cincinnati by a man from the Indian country, and detected at one of the banks. The bill is one-eighth of an inch shorter than the genuine one, and of inferior paper. It is well executed and calculated to deceive in commercial circles not noted in counterfeit detection.—Both vignettes are good, but the eyes of the female figure look obliquely to the left instead of the front.

An Sable (N. Y.) woman who is young, beautiful, and accomplished, writes as follows: "When our colony reached here there were few carpenters or mechanics of any sort to be had. Seeing they were fully employed, rather than wait for them I revived an ancient banking for tools which I used to indulge at my father's work-bench when a girl. I lathed five rooms entirely, and set the studding for three. I made the doors and window-casing, planing and joining all myself, and hung the doors, setting the glass in the window frames.—Made the pantry shelves, a table for the kitchen, and cupboard, besides painting all the woodwork. Did my own housework, cut and made all my boy's clothes, and made garden besides caring for a sick neighbor."

THE LAST OF THE CORNPLANTERS.—Polly Logan, the last of the Cornplanter's children, died on the Reservation in this county on Thursday last, the 7th inst., at the age of eighty-five years. She was buried on the reservation beside her father, John O'Ball, or Cornplanter. We believe there were six children, and all lived to an advanced age. We gather this information from J. F. Davis, who has for many years been the agent for this tribe of Indians, acting for the Quakers in the interest of the tribe.—Warren Ledger.

OIL WELL AT WILCOX.—An oil well sunk as a test, near Wilcox, commenced producing oil on Monday and has been producing at the rate of a barrel and a half per hour, since. The people are greatly excited at Wilcox, Ridgeway and neighboring localities, and the probabilities are that several wells will be sunk within a short time.—Erie Dispatch.

The trunk line railroads have just increased the rate for freights from New York, Boston and Philadelphia westward, on an average, over a hundred per cent.

How High is that Dot?

"Goot morning, Schneider. 'We gechts den.' 'Do you know what church that is?' 'Yaw, dot is der Drinity Church.' 'You see the steeple and that little cross w-a-a-y up there?' 'Yaw, I saw him.' 'Well, how is that for high?' The German looked pleased, scratched his head and said: 'Dot is goot! Der best I hear dese six weeks—yrv, dot is very goot!'"
 The wag went his way, leaving the German smiling, scratching his head, and gazing abstractedly at the little cross so high in the air. While thus standing, a smile came over his face, a friend came along and he thought to give him the same thing, and have another laugh and said:
 "Hallo Fritz, how you was, eh?" "Goot, How was it going to be mit yourself?" "Goot all dere vile. Do you know what church am dere?" "Yaw dat am de Drinity. I know dese church more as a dozen years already." "You see dem steeple, und der leedle cross on de top of dem steeple w-a-a-y mit der glouds?" "Yaw, I see der leedle cross." "You see him?" "Vei! I shunt ask you, how high is dot?" Then he laughed and laughed, while the other man replied: "I don't know; but what for you make so much laugh?" "It's the schoke—don't you see him—the schoke—ven I ask you how high is dot?" "No, I don't see der schoke." "Vei! dot is funny. A man shunt told that to me, and I made laugh wih dere vile. Und you no see dere schoke? I think you peen a jumping around all night und you can't see nottings!"
