Almost a serious confingration occurred a one of the tenement bouses owned by the Amer can Gil Works, in Wild Cat Hollow, on Friday alternoon last. The fire originated from the steve pipe, and nearly the enfire upper portion of the building was in finnes before it was disposered. The aterm was given by Dr. Playford, who happened to be passing at the time. Furturately, an abundance of water was pear at hand, and the disposered of Mrs. Crane's hearders, and several of Mrs. Crane's hearders, and cauge to the rectue, the flames were extinguished before any grown and the continuous of the several of Mrs. wire extinguished before any great amount of damage wer dense. It was a natrow es cape from a serious fire.

The Supreme Court of Pounsylvania has offirmed the judgement of a lower court in the case of McMasters vs. Pennsylvania Railread Company, and dreides that when freight is shipped on the railroad to a station where the relirond company has no warehouse erected, the parties interested in the freight eagnot recover from the railroad company if the freight be lost after it is landed at the station it being then the dury of the parties to whom it is shipped to look after it.

The name of the man injured at one of the Central Petroleum Co's wells, yesterday, was Michael McGovern, instead of Hillery as reported by us. Mr. M. belonged to the eucker rod gang in the employ of the compa ny. At the time the accident occurred, the any. At the time the accident occurred, the gang were at work fishing for a working barrel in one of the wells. The tools had taken hold of it, and had drawn it up fome distance, when the rope slipped allowing the tools to drop back. The coil caught Mc-Clovers around the tegs, draw him over bull wheel two or three times and brained him. quite severely. Fortunately for him the weight at the end of the describing osbie was light. Had the beavy tools been attached he would no doubt have been instantly kill-

STORY OIL FARM CASE.

ER's. Pa., January 22. The great Story oil farm case, after over two weeks' trial in the United States Cir-coffcluded to-day. Ricchert & Co. conditionally bought the Story farm on Oil Creek in April, 1860, were to wind up the bergajn to April, 1861. Nobolig knew anytime, and these failed rapidly. On April 1, 1657, the targets or the land war con-counted at a loss figure than the original agreement, Richard & Co. saying they would lose the two thousand dollars at ready paid rather than pay more than twen It was only worth five thousand dellars for farming perposes. At that time there were seven wells on the land, but none were pumping. Two months afterwards the Stringer well, the first flowing five bundred barrels per day, was struck then, and the family bi bie at ten cents a shake. territory became immediately productive. Six years after Story thought be had been defrauded and brought this suit.

The charge of Judge McKennan was di rect for the delendants, as was the weight of evidence; but the jury found for the plaintiff in the sum of $31.095 Judge McKennan indignantly set saids the verdict, on the ground that it was against law and evidence, and awarded a new trial

An attempt was made by plaintiff to im peach the integrity of C. E. Taylor, o Franklin, and Story's former attorney, but this signally and utterly failed.

The attention of our citizens is called to the advertisement of L. M. Sternburg, to be found in enother column. by which it will be seen that be has disposed of his interest in the Petroleum Centre Lumber Yard, to his brother, Mr. R. F. Sternburg. Both of these gentlemen have long been interested in the immer trade in this town, and by their uniform courteey, accommodation and strict attention to the wants of their many friends and customers, have built up an extensive trade. We are sorry L M has re tensive trade. We are sorry L M has re-tired from the business, as we can ill afford to love so energetic a business man and good a citizen. At the same time we know of no better man upon whom "his masti could fall," than R. F. S. May good lortune at-tend them, and as old Rip Van Winkle says "May they live long and brosher."
