Producers' Union.

A meeting will be held at Odd Fellows' Hall this [Wednesday] evening, a To'ctock, to elect local committeemen for the 11th District-of Producers' Unioncomposed of Petroleum Centre, Central Petroleum Co., McElbeny' Wm. and James McCray, Egbert Farm, Stevenson, Wood, Pearson, Hess, " Claremont Farms, and Bennehoff and Tarr Runs.

PRODUCERS.

We trust every producer, no matter whether his well yields a quart of oil or 50 barrels daily, will be in attendance at the Producers' meeting, at Odd Fellows' Hall, this evening. The meeting is beid for the purpose of electing five directors to act for the Eleventh District in the Producers' Prociation of eil regions of Pennsylvanis. We want the best men in the district to represent us; men who will not give in one inch to the common enemy, but will fight them to the bitter end. Let it be distinctly understood that the South Imp. Nothing, she is thoroughly aware, contri-Company is not defeated. They may be somewhat demoralized but are not dead by any means. They have capital, brains, low cunning, and plenty of rascality to back them up, besides the aid of railroad monopolies and corrupt corporations. must organize thoroughly for defense, else our good ship and gallant crew will be swamped. Let every man constitute thimself a vigilance committee of one to aid in defeating the villains and thieves that seek to rob and plunder the entire region, and render us worse than bankrupt. Therefore, let every bonest man, no matter whether he is a producer, refiner, engineer, driller, or laboring man, attend the meeting this evening, and assist in forwarding the good work. "Stand to your guns, men of the Eleventh District, and if you must go under, go down with 'all sails set and colors natied to the mast brad." Ruination on one hand, or Prosperity on the other!

Capt. H. M. Hughes, of your city, and R. Riebardson, of Tarr Farm, have a well down about 1,100 feet on the Wm. Cromer farm, one-half mile from Salem, which will be a good well. The strike creates considerable excitement among operators, and good times are coming .- [Venango Citizen.

The well owned by our townsmen, Messra Howe and Cook, and others, is located but a short distance from the above well, in the St. Petersburgh district. It is now down about 300 feet, and drilling is progressing as rapidly as possible. There is no doubt but that they will have a good well, and we hope such may be the case.

The reporter of the Pittsburgh Gazette, instead of reporting the proceedings of the Oil City mass meeting, endeavored to drink all the whisky in the region. A B. S. bath would be a good cure for him and his slan-ders. Whisky got the best of him, and the peer inebriate had to be put "in his little bed" by some of the oll men he was endeavoring to viility.

The Kane Run branch of the Cherrytree Pipe Line, bursted at a point near the mouth of the Run, last evening, and about sixty barrels of oil, which was being run from the tank at the VanSchaick well, escaped and was lost. The pipe froze up, and this forenoon, while the workmen were engaged in thawing it out, the waste oil caught fire and for a short time made a lively blaze .-The loss falls on Mr. J. Stambaugh.

Work was recommenced on the Warren & Venango Railroad, this morning, at the foet of McCray Hill. About 509 or 600 men have been at work between Ploneer and Titusville for some time past. It is currently reported that the road is to be nushed through OIL NEWS .- The Stubble well, on Turkey Run near Keating's Furnace, is now pumping nine barrels of oil a day. It was thought to be a dry bole, and little or no third sand rock was found. Thus, as it often happens, theories and indications are of little account in the ell regions.

The well at Troutners, a short distance west of Sale m, and three miles north of Peters burg, was down 1,175 on Saturday last. For some time it has been flowing oil [while drilling-occusionelly throwing oil and water over the derrick. The gas is very strong. The well is perhaps fluished drilling, and ready for tubing by this time. A good well is confidently predicted by some persons, while others think the rock and ap pearances of the oil, unfavorable. The well will be tested, and the question decided very soon.

Another well on the same farm, abou 100 rods west of the first one is now being drilled. It is down about 200 teet.

The Boise well, on the Wester farm, mile east of Salem is down 800 feet. There is a heavy vein of gas, and the owners are expecting a good oil well.

A well on the Agnew farm, two miles below Troutner's is down 1100 feet, and toe bole full of oil.

The well on the farm of John M. Kurtz, north east of Salem is down 200 test. [Clarion Democrat.

SMALL Pox.-Persons have been entertaining the hope for some time past that the Small Pox was entirely banished from this region, but such is not the fact. A young man named Black and a married man named Hooke, both employed in pumping one of Thomas Donnelly's wells, on Bear Creek, died some weeks ago with the digease. An English family, we understand, lives not far from the Donnelly well No 7, two of whom are dangerously sick with the Small Pox at the present time .- [Oilman's Journal.

BEAUTY'S BEST AUXILIARY .- Ask the bells of the season what appointment of her toilet-table bolds the bighest place in her esteem, and she will reply without a moment's reflection, Hagan's Magnolia Balm butes so powerfully to enhance her charms and render her irresistible as that most deand receive her irresistible as that most quightful and healthy auxiliary of Beauty.—
By using it ladies are enabled, long after they have passed the meridian of life, to preserve the youthful bloom and purity of their complexions, and where Nature has denied that superlative attraction, the denied that superlative attraction, the Baim fully compensates for her deficiencies Horse car-conducting has its amenities in San Francisco. The other day, there entered a was) ager, righly dressed, wearing a suit who e polish reflected one's face almost as a mi for, and from the pocket of his velvet vest bung a massive gold chain. The chain alone gave him the look of a fortunate miner. The conductor, as the car neared the depot, started on his tour of collection intending to commence with the miner. H. placed his hand on the side pocket of his coat to draw forth his nippers, when ou came a formidable five-shooter from, the miner's bip pocket, accompanied with the exclamation: "Look byar, stranger, I kim rom the mountains, but you can't get the dop on me!"

A Scene Not on the Bills-An Indig.

[From the Syracuse Standard.] There was a little "episode" in Wild's Opera House last night that had not been previously advertised. It was one of these impromptu affairs that sometimes occur in bonseholds not well regulated. It was a bit of a play in one act in; which a husband, a woman of the town and an indignant wife appeared. The scene opened with the appearance of the town woman and the bus band. They took a seat in the orchestra chairs, and the bushand made himself par, ticularly agreeable, Things went on swimmingly, and the husband doubtless thought all was well-but he hadn't looked behind him, if he had done so, he could have seen a tall, well dressed lady enter the Opera House and carefully scrutinize himself and companion. One or two glances seemed to satisfy her periectly, and then she deliberately walked down the center aisle and stood before the loving couple. About six handred ladies and gentlemen turned their eyes from the actorsjon the stage and fas tened them on the towering form of the indignant woman and waited. They were not obliged to wait long. The atorm burst. Wife-"Ain't you ashamed of yourself, Husband - "Sit sit-sit-sit-sit-down my dear!" Wife-"Sit down beside you and that thing there?"

Husband-"Don't talk so loud. You see bey all hear you. Now don't."

Wife-"I hope they will all ibear. (And she talked loader.) You are a pretty thing to be here with that mean thing besid e you and your two children half starved at home. Just let me get at her a moment!"

And the wife did get at her and slapped her in the face with ber glove, then turning to ber busband.

"Now I want you to go home with me, sir, and if you don't I'll expose you before the whole house. Do you bear, sir?"

The husband evidently heard, for he trem blingly arose, put on his hat, and followed his wife out of the hall, while the audience cheered his brave wife. At the door be tried to avoid her, but she collared him, and again the audience cheered. It is hop d she led him home a wiser, if not a better

Every paper in Cleveland, except the Herald, has been subsidized by the So. Im. Co., and have not one word to may in regard to the matter. We expect to see the refiners of that city go begging for aid from the oil men, and when that time does come they may cry in vain. The Herald says on this subject:

All that we know of the morits of the case as connected with the excitement among the oil men, and the cause of such excitements our readers know. It is but very lately we could gain any information relative to "The Scuth Improvement Company," and we are free to confess that its gigantic proportions, its sweeping influences upon not only the oil producing and refining business, but up on the management of our great trunk rallways, excite our fears, and excite a natural, calonsy against buge combinations, wherein aggregated capital bas the power to work swift destruction to individual operators and manufacturers who with limited capital fight such disadvantages single banded.
