The Titusville papers of this morning publish a complete expose of the villainous scheme to rob the oil region, including a personal sketch of the organizers of the S. I. Co. The most singular thing about the monopoly is the fact that it can not be discovered who introduced the bill before the Pennsylvania State Legislature or when it was passed. Something rotten in Denmark

It is whispered that there are traitors in the camp not a thousand miles from Petroleum Centre. But their movements are being watched. Double-dealing, gentlemen, won't win, and you had better clear the track while you can—for when the "League" train gets fairly under motion the chances are you'll get badly hurt.

From Mr. James Anderson, one of the owners of the well on the Ed. Tarr farm, we learn it is now 400 feet deep and drilling is progressing favorably. The tools were fast in the hole two days last week but fortunately were removed without serious trouble. Mr. A. and Dr. Egbert have traced the belt on which their well is located, and are of the opinion it is a continuation of the Tarr Run territory. We hope such may prove the case.

Those of our citizens who desire to have a rare literary treat, should bear in mind that Rev. J. M. McElroy, lecturer before the Columbia Library Association, Columbia Park, tomorrow evening. Subject—Travels in Egypt and Life on Shipboard. We predict a crowded house.

The New York and Philadelphia oil refiners and dealers are with the oil men of Pennsylvania heart and hand against the villains that seek to rob us and ruin the region. Let the oil men of this region see to it that not one barrel of oil goes to Pittsburgh or Cleveland, the headquarters of the gang of robbers composing the So. Imp. monopoly.

Winter oil is affectionately in the lap of Spring. It's fearful cold today—just the kind of a day to sit by a good coal fire and enjoy a drop of the good oil stuff steaming

H. D. McGaw, State Lecturer of the I. O. of G. T., will deliver a Free Lecture on Temperance, at Good Templar's Hall, to-morrow (Thursday) evening. The gentleman is spoken of as an able and eloquent speaker. All are invited to attend.

A goodly delegation of Oil Creekers left for Parker's Landing, this morning, to attend the mass meeting. Oil Creek muscle and backbone will aid the Parker oil men materially in routing the emissaries of the So. Imp. Co. from that district. Give it to 'em good, boys! "A long pull, a strong pull, and a pull all together," and the victory is ours.

On Saturday last a drilling well owned by John Armstrong and others, on the Ashbaugh farm near the Hullings well, took fire, occasioned by an extensive flow of gas and oil from the third sand. The derrick and other fixtures were destroyed. Rhody Messer and a man by the name of Whitehill, driller, and tooldresser employed on the well at the time, were severely burned. It is hoped and believed, however, that their injuries will not prove fatal. This well is owned by Armstrong, Ira Fuller and John Heath, and promises to be a big one. The rig was rebuilt and everything ready to drill on the following Tuesday.

Oilman's Journal. Had the owners of the Armstrong well purchased one of Grotter's Oil and Gas Controllers, the two workmen would not have been burned, and almost $2,000 worth of property would have been saved. Since the fire the owners of the well have purchased one of these valuable machines, not caring to run the risk of another scorching. Messrs. Fisher, Norris & Co., owners of the patent, have one of them on exhibition at their shop on Main street. Our oil men should call and examine it.

A well owned by Porterfield & Treat, Fuller, Jackson and others has just been completed on the Frink farm, Southwest of Petersburg, which starts up big, throwing a large amount of oil. Owners and others think its production will not fall below 40 or 50 barrels per day.

On Wednesday last, we noticed a drilling well at the East end of Antwerp City, Ashbaugh farm, which was throwing out large quantities of oil. The oil standing in pools on the road and around the derrick. This well will no doubt prove a big one.—We know not who the owners are.—[Oilman's Journal.]

The Tidou's Commercial continues to whack away at the So. Imp. Co. sending in some telling blows. Keep at the good work, Commercial. We are trying to do our share at this point.

The following was picked up: "My eyes with tears are red and dim, Cause he loves me and I love him; But they'll be better by and by. When she cuts him and he loves I."

Concerning the Lake Superior gold discoveries, the Detroit Post has a letter from Captain Frue, dated at the Silver Islet Maine, February 19, representing that great excitement then existed in consequence of the recent developments in that vicinity.—The place at which gold has been found is called Jackfish Lake, and is seventy-five miles north of Thunder Bay, not far from the road constructed by the Canadian government in 1870, when sending troops to Manitoba. Captain Frue had just returned from a personal inspection of the vein, and reports it to be of the greatest richness, far surpassing any similar discovery on this continent. The vein is of almost pure native gold, though silver is found mixed with it in some places. Specimens which Captain Frue picked up he said would yield gold at the rate of $20,000 to the ton. The location was owned and the gold was found by some New York parties. A recent letter from Lake Superior received by a Detroit business man represents that the greatest excitement was prevailing on account of the reports from the North Shore. All the surveyors who could be found had been engaged to proceed to the vicinity of Jackfish Lake, and prospecting for gold and silver was likely to become the chief occupation of the inhabitants.

PETROLEUM CENTRE, March 20, 1872.

Ed. Record:—Owing to the severity and long continuance of the winter, some very worthy families in the neighborhood are very destitute, needing fuel, clothing and food. Many of these have labored hard and sacrificed the last trinket they had, but all is insufficient to keep warm from the door. Large amounts are collected yearly as poor tax, and no neighborhood pays quite so much as this. We call upon Messrs. Sage and McHugh to devote themselves at once to finding out these people and relieving their necessities. There is ample room for private and public charity in this matter. We want a distributed fund, not a sinking fund. Let the hungry, naked, shivering, shirtless children have food and warmth.

It is said that a woman in Pennsylvania has been cured of consumption by taking kerosene as a remedy. She took a dose of ten drops every night before retiring to bed for some months, and was finally cured.—The New York Mail must be sarcastic when it says: Well, we have heard of several instances in which a single dose of this fluid taken by a person in the proper manner, has put an end to all the ills that flesh is heir to for that individual in the shortest space of time.

Among the new places lately sprung into notoriety, and seeking for a name among the "oil towns," is Antwerp, situated about a half a mile east of St. Petersburg. The first well struck in that vicinity was the "Hullings" late last fall, and which since pumped at the rate of 100 barrels daily.—This, of course, caused a big rush of speculators, operators and "whippers-in" of every variety, who came and gobbled up all the land considered to be greasy. Quite a number of rigs were up and wells put down and thus far have been met with signal success. The town now has about seventy-five houses. Among them are two hotels, three oil wells, supply stores and quite a number of other stores of various kinds.—[Erie Dispatch.]

Preamble and Resolutions of the Petroleum Producers' Association. At a meeting of the Petroleum Producers' Association, held at Oil City on Wednesday, the 13th inst., the following preamble and resolutions were passed, and the Secretary instructed to have the same published in the daily papers:

Whereas, Certain representatives of the Southern Improvement Company have solicited an appointment of a committee of producers representing that interest, to confer with them: therefore,

Resolved, That believing that the principle involved in the organization of the Southern Improvement Company with such chartered rights, point to a monopoly, and that it is intended to control the producing and manufacturing of petroleum by foreign capital, to the detriment and destruction of home industries and free capital, we therefore refuse, under any circumstances, to consider any compromise which on the face of it is unjust in principle and wrong in practice. Wishing, however, to be enlightened, if in error, and if the Southern Improvement Company claim they are not a monopoly, this Association would ask to be supplied with the following information:

1. The charters under which the Southern Improvement Company was organized.
2. The articles of association.
3. The officers names.
4. The contracts with the railroad companies, and who signed it.
5. The general plan of management; also,

Whereas, The people of the Oil Region, in mass meeting assembled, did resolve that, as one step toward the defeat of the schemes and purposes of the Southern Improvement Company, no wells shall be begun for the term of sixty days; and Whereas, it was further resolved at said meeting that, in pursuance of the said object, all producing wells shall be shut down on Sundays; therefore,

Resolved, That this Association do hereby endorse the action of those meetings, and do urge upon producers generally the faithful observance of their agreement to these measures which are not only eminently calculated at the present crisis to strengthen our position, but in view of the surplus production, as shown by our monthly reports, are also demanded by common business prudence and sagacity.

Resolved, That the completion of wells now drilling be delayed by discontinuing night work, and by every other practicable means which may be suggested by the circumstances of each individual whose interests are involved.

SIXTEEN YEARS OF SUCCESS.—In 1856 the now famous Mustang Liniment was first made known to the public by an extensive system of advertising. From that time to the present, the demand for it has been steadily increasing until it has taken the lead of all embrocations, lotions, ointments and other external remedies, imported or domestic, ever introduced into the American market. In the most celebrated racing and trotting stables, in the establishments of stage and city car companies, and in the stables of private gentlemen, is the only recognized cure for such diseases of the horse as require outward treatment. Nor is it less valuable as a local application for some of the most distressing complaints to which man is subject. Rheumatism, stiffness of the joints, neuralgia, sore throat, tumors, wens, carseae, toothache, yield to its pain-subduing, counter-irritant properties, and burns, scalds, and cuts are healed with incredible rapidity under its operation.

WHAT IS WHISKY.—Ten gallons of kerosene, three pounds of pot-ash, one ounce of strychnine, mixed with soft water. It was according to this cheerful, not to say convivial formula, that a quantity of "whisky" last week in Newton, Mass., was compounded, the recipe having also been found in the possession of the unfortunate dealer. If you want "gin" add quantum sufficit of oil juniper! The mystery is that men who drink this diabolical fluid do not drop stone dead at once

A lady writing from Florence says that Hart, the Kentucky sculptor, is engaged upon "the most beautiful female figure the world has ever seen," and that it will require many years to complete the work. "You know, my dear friend," said Hart "it takes even the Almighty nineteen years to make a perfect woman."
