Our townsman, Mr. J. H. Luther, has recently received a letter from the Department at Washington, containing the information that his application for a patent for an improvement in Crabs for Extracting Well Tools, has been examined and allowed. Also, for a patent for an improvement in Casing Cutters for Removing Castings from Artesian Wells. Both of these are useful and valuable adjuncts to the machinery already in use in the drilling of oil wells. In a day or two we shall give a sketch of the advantages claimed for these new oil well tools.

The principal topic of conversation today, is in regard to the nomination of Horace Greeley for President by the Cincinnati Convention. Many differences of opinion exist among our voters as to whether Horace should be the "incoming man" or not. The probability is that if he gets enough votes he will be elected.

"Bass," our Pithole correspondent, sends us another interesting letter from Pithole. From it we judge that old Pithole is about to experience a revival in oil matters.

A new well, located on the Tarr Run territory, and owned by Milton Stewart, is nearly down. The indications are good for a big well. The tools penetrated the third sand about three days ago, and yesterday the hole was nearly filled with oil, and a powerful vein of gas had been struck. This augurs well for the future of our town.

It will be remembered that in August last a boy named Thompson, residing on the Clapp Farm, was blown up by a torpedo, which himself and some other boys had found in the woods and while fooling with exploded it. Since that time and until recently the unfortunate boy has been confined to the house. Yesterday, the poor boy was in town led by a younger brother, soliciting alms from our citizens. With both eyes forever closed to the beautiful sunlight, one arm torn off, and all but tarred up otherwise, he presented a truly pitiable and harrowing spectacle to look upon. We are informed his mother and brothers and sisters yet reside on the Clapp farm, and are in very straitened circumstances. He is, therefore, a worthy object of charity, and we trust all will respond liberally in his aid. Remember, the young life forever blighted and always destined to grope in darkness and have pity.

Among the list of jurors drawn for the first Monday of June, 1872, are the following from this vicinity:

Petroleum Centre—G. W. Wilson, oil operator.

Cherrytree—John Irwin, farmer.

Out of 90 applications to sell liquor in this county, at the last court, but 16 were rejected.

The following licenses were granted for this place, by the court at its last session: Hotel—W. D. Dodge, Cross & McOmber, J. E. Hulbert, B. A. Boyes, Restaurant—D. Kane, L. J. Voucher. Wholesale—W. A. Lezier.

Not a day passes but what our citizens are besieged with applications for relief from beggars of every description, from the Chicago sufferer down to the poor lorn woman generally carrying a half starved child and hailing from Corry or Titusville. Our people should be on their guard as nine-tenths of these traveling mendicants are imposters.

Let us take the proper precautionary measures accordingly. The London Lancet thinks that during the coming spring or early in the summer, cholera will reappear in Western Europe.

Petroleum in the Indian Territory.

Our fellow townsman, P. H. Burchfield, Esq., returned home last evening from an extended visit to the Indian Territory, having been absent several weeks. Mr. Burchfield was engaged some time since by the St. Louis Oil Company, who have leased of the Indians some 7,000 acres of land located in the territory, to prospect the new oil fields for them.

The lease of the company has been sanctioned by the United States government.—Starting from St. Louis the party consisting of Mr. Burchfield, and several members of the company, went by rail to Norfolk, Choctaw county, and there took stage to New Boggy Depot, and from there to the residence of Ex-Governor Colbert, at Oil Springs, Chickasaw county. This was the headquarters of the party.

The party visited the several counties of the territory. The country, Mr. Burchfield states, is the garden spot of the continent, rich in iron, cannon coal, copper, lead, gold, granite and marble. The oil lands of the company are located between Boggy Depot and Fort Sill, in Chickasaw and Choctaw nations. The surface of the country is broken and hilly. At Oil Creek, Chickasaw nation, the principal petroleum deposits are found. The oil comes to the surface, and runs out of broken rock in the hills. It is gathered by the Indians in same manner as practised in early days in this section.—The specimen of surface oil brought home by Mr. Burchfield is a beautiful dark green, of about twenty-seven degrees gravity. The rocks presented an appearance of upheaval at some remote period, by earthquake or other cause. By introducing a stick in the fissures of this rock, gas and oil bubbles forth freely. Sinking a stick in the ground is followed by the same results. The rock is a hard white sand, limestone, and slate. This latter seems on edge, while the sand rock and limestone lies flat. Occasional ledges of granite and fine marble is also found. From the surface indications Mr. Burchfield is satisfied that developments will lead to the discovery of an oil field as productive as our own. The distance from the oil fields to the Missouri, Kansas, and Texas Railroad, is about forty miles, which road is being completed as fast as possible. Mr. Burchfield will return in ninety days, having contracted to drill three wells for the company. Mr. Burchfield was highly pleased with the country and people.

Mr. J. G. Butterfield, formerly station agent at Tonesta for the Oil Creek and Allegheny River Railway, has accepted a position as conductor on the Pithole Valley road, and has entered upon his duties. Mr. B. is an experienced man in railroad business, enjoys an extended acquaintance in the oil region, and all will be pleased to learn of his promotion.

SENTIMENTAL MAY.—The traditionally sentimental May has come. This is the month of all the rest, whose beauties have been most sung by the poets. It has been robed in beauty of the immortal song of Spenser, Milton and Jamie Thompson, and its budding flowers, ethereal mildness, balmy zephyrs, smiling lawns, merry songsters, and fresh and sunny faces, have been the themes of hordes of lesser poets down to the petty scriblers of newspaper verse. It is the month when the boarding schools take their vacations, and tender maidens are moved to air themselves in verse. The stakes and shivers and the intor cable influences of March are over, and April, the month of mingled austerity and mildness is past. The billiard room gives place to base ball and other outdoor athletic sports. The glittering ball room is succeeded by the evening promenade and the moonlight boat ride. The fashionable resorts are opened and the frequenters of such places begin to talk of what they shall fill their corpulent trunks withal. The young ladies glory in a new found life, and flirt about dressed in their spring attire, and are rapturous in their praises of the delightful weather. In short it is the month of new hopes, aspirations and joys, and the time when toiling humanity is renewed to start afresh and grapple with another year's trials and privations.

IMPORTANT IF TRUE.—The London Advertiser says: "A well known citizen has perfected a method by which he can deodorize and refine crude petroleum in such a manner as to make the invention of inestimable value to both the manufacturer and consumer. Oil refined by this new process has been subjected to the severest tests, and in every case so far has proved the entire success of the invention. It is claimed that the fluid is non explosive, having stood a fire test of 140 degrees; when burning in a lamp, does not emit smoke; is of a pure white color; without odor; refined without the use of sulphur or lead, and can be manufactured cheaper than by the ordinary means. These facts, if borne out by the test of time, it is apparent to every one, will make this discovery one of the most important of the age, and of universal interest."

THE OLD PARADE GROUND.

[From the New Orleans Picayune.]

Spring with her rosy flags unfurled
Tents on the old parade,
Sweetly her wild musicians sing
Where once the bugles played.

With crested helm and nodding plume,
Knights of the Sun and Dew,
Her flower-chivalry spring forth
In colors bright and new.

And plebeian daisies rise and form
In little companies,
While back and forth in gilded mail
Hurry the courier bees.

Here where a hundred horsemen rode
With jingling bit and spur
Squadrons of timid patridges
Rally and wheel and whirl!

There where the plowman guides his plow
Lies the old camping ground
With quick and tender memories
Sentinelled around.

Behind the fence the brambles scout,
Or meet in thorny fray;
The gaily turbaned hollyhock
Is marshal of the day.

Only a cricket files pipes
The time for gay review;
Only the drummer locust
At sunset beats tattoo.

When informed that he was at liberty to quit the prison he could hardly credit the welcome news. On reaching the open street, the liberated man drew a long, deep breath, with the heartfelt remark, "How sweet the air smells. After he began to realize that he was really released, he said that he suffered more when told that he was free than when he heard the sentence of imprisonment for life passed against him. He was taken in charge by a brother-in-law who lives in Philadelphia, and left with him on Saturday for his home in that city. His parting words to his counsel, as he was about leaving in the cars, were: "God bless you, sir; only for you I'd be in the prison now; I'll pray for you; and if you ever need a man to die for you, send for me."

Letter From Pithole.

PITHOLE CITY, May 3d, 1872.

ED. RECORD:—Since my last there has been but one well completed at this place, which is the one near the U. S. Hotel. It is owned by Mr. Isaac Acken, of Plumer, and much to the gratification of our borough denizens, and contrary to the opinion of oil smelters, is turning out nicely, and bids fair to be a paying well.

In the neighborhood of the Catholic Church there are three wells drilling, one of which belongs to Perkins, Billinger and Vannatter. It will be completed this evening. There is little doubt of it being a good well, and I venture to say many of our burghers will be reminded a little of 1865, by this time to-morrow. The sand rock is by far the best yet got in this territory, and the abundance of oil and gas surprises old operators. There are two more wells going down near this, belonging, I believe, to Rhoades, Beecher and others.

There are now in operation on the Thomas Holmden farm eight wells—four pumping and four drilling.

There is every indication of a revival of a Pithole within the next few months.

I understand the U. S. Petroleum Company are reserving their leases and propose operating themselves.

The old Morey well still continues to pump about 75 barrels.

The Railroad Company have commenced grading on the extension of the Pithole Valley from here to Titusville. Yours,

BASS.

The crater of Mount Vesuvius, which since 1862 has been in a state of quiescence, is once more in a dangerous eruptive condition, sending forth burning lava and ashes, and threatening the destruction of the neighboring villages. It is even longer since the eruption of the volcano has caused any considerable loss of human life. In 1855 the town of Torre Del Greco was destroyed and many lives were lost, but in 1862 there was little or no sacrifice of life, although then, as now, a new crater opened in the side of the mountain, and the burning lava compelled the inhabitants to flee for their lives. The present eruption seems to be one of the grandest as well as one of the most disastrous that has occurred for a number of centuries, although the number of persons killed and injured is happily not so large as was first reported.

Snow fell this forenoon.
