POLICE NEWS.

Yesterday afternoon Constable Atwell went to Columbia Farm, and arrested a man named Wolf, on a Sheriff's warrant, charged with selling liquor without license. When coming up the Columbia Hill, Wolf made his escape, ran down the hill through the woods, forded the Creek, and up the hill on the other side towards Plumer. Atwell came to town, procured a horse and started in pursuit, recapturing his man at the house of one Meyer in the village of Plumer. This time the bracelets were put on his wrists, he was brought to town and placed in the lock-up. Last night he was removed to Franklin to await trial.

Yesterday afternoon, Charles Kennedy and a woman named Mary O'Connor, were arrested on a charge of selling liquor without license. About 2 o'clock this morning they also "rammed the ranche" and have not been recaptured.

The Maple Shade Oil Company, owners of the Hyde & Egbert farm, recently purchased sixty acres of land in President township, and have commenced the work of drilling a well, having let the contract to Mr. N. B. Parker. Their tract lies near the edge of Clarion county, and is thought to lie in a direct line with the St. Petersburg and East Sandy oil belts. The same company have also leased a large amount of land in the same vicinity.

The Oberly well, near Plumer, located by the spirits, was completed a day or two since, and proved to be a dry hole. Something wrong with the spirits. It can't be they are evil spirits.

CLAM CHOWDER.—Clam Chowder, cooked in Mrs. Dodge's very best style, will be served up at the Petroleum Exchange, this afternoon and evening. Lovers of chowder and patrons of the house will take notice.

The Pennsylvania Petroleum Railroad is a fixed fact. We met Mr. Steele, the President of that road, a day or two since, and from his conversation, judged that everything was progressing favorably along the line.

Oil News.—Reports from Blyson Run yesterday are most favorable. The drillers of the well being put down at Blyson think they are now in the boulder immediately overlying the third sand.

The well at Kingville is progressing. It is now down about seven hundred feet.

The Trout Run well near this borough is down 415 feet, and the work is being pushed on with dispatch, and is watched with interest. Last week the cable broke letting the tools down in the well, which caused some delays but the operators remedied the trouble as soon as possible.

A well on the Isaac Neely farm, east of Turkey Run, commenced yielding on Wednesday of last week. On Saturday, when we visited it there was 155 barrels of oil in the tank. It is estimated as a fifty barrel well. The owners are Paul Neely and P. R. Bowlen. This shows that the developments is still extending up the Clarion, [Clarion Democrat.

A friend of Hon. S. P. McCalmont, of Franklin, writes to a Chautauqua county paper to contradict it and say that he is not the McCalmont who got into the muss, and a libel suit, at Petroleum Centre. He is not that kind of a McCalmont.—[Oil City Derrick.

Sensible man!

A correspondent of the Titusville Herald, writing from San Francisco, Cal., gives an account of the discovery of oil near Los Angeles, and thinks a company of Oil Creek men would make it pay to develop the oil land thereabouts. He says the sand rock is the same as that found at Petroleum Centre and Funkville—slate shale and white sand stone. The belt is thirteen miles long.

Yesterday afternoon, a game of base ball was played on the Tarr Farm, between the Scoopers of Columbia Farm and the Tarr Farm Club, resulted in the defeat of the Scoopers. Nine innings was played.—Score—21 to 14.

The whaling business, once an industry of great importance, is fast going to decay. Fifteen years ago New Bedford alone sent out three hundred and twenty-nine vessels, now that number comprises the whole of the American vessels engaged in whaling. But one vessel was added to the trade in 1871, while seventy-two were lost to the business.

The whaling business had to succumb before petroleum, which is king, and destined to light the world. Although to a certain extent the petroleum business has to rely on New Bedford. Nearly all the cable used in drilling oil wells is procured at that place, where a large body of men are employed in its manufacture.

RESTAURANT.—A good and desirable place to get a square meal is at the Petroleum Exchange Hotel, of which W. D. Dodge is the landlord. The cuisine department is under the immediate charge of Mrs. Dodge, who is an experienced cook, can get up a meal in a style to suit the most fastidious epicurean, and on a clam or oyster stew she cannot be excelled. The bar is under the supervision of Wait Vannaudell, and what he don't know about mixing liquors ain't worth knowing, besides he is always "on deck" ready to attend to the wants of customers. The whole concern is superintended by "Cort" Dodge, and he just fills the bill. We must not forget to mention that those shell clams have arrived. We would advise our readers to try a half dozen or so.

Bradstreet, the new landlord of the Roch, enter House, has had expressed to him direct from New York, a mammoth Sea Turtle. On Friday or Saturday he proposes to serve up Turtle Soup to his patrons.

Foot ball is all the amusement each evening on the street, and the boys have lots of fun kicking the balls.

The Masons of Oil City are to give a grand banquet in their new hall, on Thursday evening. Extensive preparations are being made and the banquet promises to be a grand affair.

Sheriff Marks is in town today.

The Petrolia Base Ball Club, are playing practice game, this afternoon.

A new well was struck on the Bully Hill territory, on Friday last, which is owned by Watson, Pittcock & Co., of Franklin, and is yielding six to eight barrels daily.

Smith's ice cream is all the rage these hot days.

We are informed that a new well is to be put down on Beenehoff Hill. There is not much doubt but that oil exists there yet.

The captain of a Massachusetts whaler on a recent voyage took from a sperm whale which he captured in the South Pacific, an iron belonging to the ship Catawba, of Nantucket, lost some twenty years ago.

A new oil well is being sunk at White Oak Station.

The excitement south of Fairview and in the vicinity of Fairview is intense, multitudes actually thronging the highways. Parker's Landing, the starting point, is crowded to overflowing with strangers on their way to Fairview. The Cooper well, one mile and a half southwest from the Blyson farm, is making a big show, leading operators still farther south. Land is being bought up at high rates for several miles on the southwest belt, and operators do not hesitate to sink their money anywhere within the limits of the said belt, which is about three-fourths of a mile in width. The village of Fairview bids fair to be one of the towns of the oil region. Lots are selling and houses building at a rapid rate.—[Emlenton Friend.

"Come into The Garden, Maud."

Come into the garden, Maud,
With a brickbat and a stone;
Here's the biggest cat you ever "saw'd"
A gnawin' a chicken bone!
Run like the mischief, Maud,
I'm here with the beast alone.

There has fallen a heavy shoe
From the window into the yard;
Maud has a soft eye, blue,
But she flings at a cat awful hard,
And she throws so straight and true
That his visage is generally marred.

The sale of the Northern Pacific Railroad bonds, which has been steadily increasing ever since they were put on the market, shows no falling off. On the contrary the bonds are in great demand, both in this country and in Europe, and with good reason. The rapid and almost unparalleled progress of the road, together with its favorable situation, are sufficient to guarantee the success of the enterprise. During March and April the sales of bonds in this country amounted to $1,891,000, and the demand for them has been largely increased since the beginning of the present month. They are a good and reliable investment.

Memoir of a Dog.

On Saturday, Napoleon, John Wilson's old circus dog, died in this city, at the advanced age of twenty-three years. Dog's die daily that deserve no particular mention, but Napoleon merits as fair a share of honorable reference as any dog that ever lived or died in this city. One fact alone will prove it. He accomplished in his lifetime more than thousands of men do in theirs; he saved three persons from drowning at the risk of losing his own life. Napoleon knew all about the circus, and was never better pleased than when witnessing or participating in the sports of the saw-dust arena. When he reached the years of doghood, he became subject to fits, resulting from precipitation of blood to his overwrought brain. He became his own physician, and instead of resorting, as men similarly afflicted sometimes do, to stimulating drinks, which aggravate their malady, he tried cold water.

Whenever he felt an attack coming on, Napoleon would start for a bucket of water, or a trough, plunge his head into the water, and hold it there as long as he could hold his breath. This generally had the effect which he desired. As age advanced he became deaf and blind, and his limbs were stiff and almost useless. The last attack killed him. Napoleon was a "traveled" dog. He came to this city from New Orleans when but a youth, and soon engaged with Wilson's circus. With that he visited nearly every county and town in the State and on the coast. He visited Australia and China, and became a favorite with men wherever he went, for he was honest and true. Yesterday Napoleon was buried on a hill at the corner of Powell and Sacramento streets, in the presence of a very large company of men who had known and respected him. A gentleman read a sketch of his life, and when they all went away fresh flowers and wreaths lay on Napoleon's grave.—[San Francisco Bulletin.

An Oil train on the Allegheny Valley road, near Kittanning took fire on Saturday night, and caused great destruction of rolling property. The cause of the accident was two cows on the track, which, notwithstanding the signals, it was neither possible to drive them off or check the engine.

A man named John Keiting was struck by lightning and killed, at Farrantown, near Lawrenceburg, on Thursday last.

A grand picnic is to be held at Shamburg, to-morrow.

An editor out west became martial, and was made a captain. On parade, instead of "two paces in front—advance," he unconsciously exclaimed, "cash—two dollars a year in advance!" He was court-martialed and sentenced to read his own paper.

Carelessness somewhere. During the past four years 1473 lives have been sacrificed and upwards of $13,000,000 worth of property lost in the United States, by steamboat disasters alone. Nearly one-half the whole number of casualties occurred on western waters. Five hundred and twenty-six boats were destroyed, of which 112 were blown up and 302 burned.

Travel to the Yo Semite opens unusually brisk this spring, and that famous resort promises to be the centre of attraction for a vast number of pleasure seekers this season.

THE HARVEST OF THE HEAD.—When the comb acts as a rake, bringing away a roll of parted fibers every time it passes through the hair, baldness would soon be inevitable. But even in this case, forasmuch as it may seem, the mischief can be arrested, the loss repaired. Lyon's Katharion, aided by a brisk application of the brush to promote the absorption of the fluid by the scalp, will stop the thinning out process in forty-eight hours. The roots from which the dead filaments were shed will soon be re-endowed with vitality, and a new growth will speedily spring up on the denuded places. This work of reproduction will go on until the damage is completely repaired, and the luxuriant crop of hair thus produced will never wither or fall out as long as the vitalizing application is regularly continued.

Some idea of the labor devolving on the six revenue vessels on active duty in the great lakes, whose business it is to examine clearances, prevent smuggling and assist vessels in distress, may be gained from the fact that last year upwards of a thousand vessels were boarded, a hundred and twelve seized and reported, assistance rendered to forty-one vessels in distress, and seven men saved from drowning.

A few days ago a couple of Boston runners entered a restaurant in Portland and ordered dinner. One was pleased to order a plate of baked beans. When he came to settle he asked the price, and was informed that forty cents would be satisfactory. The runner was astonished, and exclaimed—"Isn't that a h—l of a price for beans?" The man of grub got mad, and said that was the price and that must be paid. The runner reiterated the same pious exclamation of astonishment several times and paid the cost. On going out of the door he turned and yelled it again, but the bean man was silent. The next day the restaurant keeper received a dispatch and paid the telegraph boy forty cents, Judge, if you can, of his utter disgust when upon opening it he read, "Isn't that a h—l of a price for beans?" [Bangor Commercial.

The Rev. Mr. Wilcox, of Riceford, Minnesota, devotes his Sundays to preaching that the world will this year come to an end, and devotes his week days to sowing one hundred acres of grain.

A New Fairfield man who failed to get a thirty cent pine apple for a quarter of a dollar, wanted to know "whether we are breathing the pure air of freedom, or being strangled with the fetid breath of a hellish despotism?" The storekeeper said those were the only pine apples he had.

A woman's head, with the present fashion of wearing the hair, and the high bonnet, is said to be as large as that of a horse.
