At San Francisco, on Tuesday evening a comet appeared little southwest of midheav. en, moving rapidly and somewhat irregularly, passed across the sky northeasterly, and disappeared, apparently ascending again like a star of the first magnitude. Its tail was a weavy mass of luminous rose colored vapor, and in sight six minutes.

At the session of Congress which has just been brought to a close, 489 bills were passed and approved by the President.

Among the killed in the recent battle at Monterey was Ezekiel Steele, an American, who was well known throughout Mexico as the pioneer cotton manufacturer. He was in that country before the war between the United States and Mexico, during which he rendered assistance to Gen. Taylor. He had taken command of a regiment under Gen Trevino. Almost during the whole battle he fought desperately, lost three horses, and was finally killed.

Two miles northwest of Walnut Hill, Randolph county, Arkansas, may be seen a wonderful work of nature. Amidst one of the most wild, rugged spots, there rear heavenwards a couple of rock walls, two hundred feet high and say a quarter of a mile long, between and at upper end of which there arises a deep, bold, clear spring, forming a branch which runs off through the chasm between the walls. Two hundred yards below the spring is a cave ten feet in diameter at the mouth, depth unknown, penetrating one of the above walls about half way between top and bottom. Fifty yards below is another cave, making into the wall at its base. Centrally between the walls arises a rock pillar, from off which springs a solitary cedar—no other vegetation. Beyond a mere glance from their entrance, no explorations have been made of these caverns. In the early settlement of the country, they were much inhabited by ravens, hence the name, "Raven's Den."

The "strike" of the sugar refiners in New York has had the effect to raise the price of refined sugars. The supply being cut off, and that on hand being unequal to a demand of any duration, the prices of the present stocks have gone up one and a half cents per pound on all grades of refined. The prices were raised in Pittsburgh yesterday.

The weather is red hot and still a heat.
