"DRIVING UP"—A gentleman largely interested in the Petersburg oil field, informs us that no less than ten dry holes have been the result of as many finished wells, in his immediate locality, within the last two weeks. This is of course only from one portion of the locality; there are many more not reported. One informant is an experienced operator, and gives it as his opinion that the lower territory is playing out very rapidly.—[Oil City Register.]

Latest advices from the Cash-Up oil district report oil matters as exceeding dull.— The famous McLaughlin well has ceased producing. Ninety wells pumping are producing less than 150 barrels daily.

The Hon. Eliza Pert, arrived from Franklin, this morning. She has been rustica-ting there for the last thirty days, boarding at Sheriff Mark's Hotel.

The Petrolia Club are getting their hands full. Yesterday they received a challenge from the St. Petersburg Base Ball Club.— The challenge will probably be accepted.

The match game of base ball, yesterday afternoon, between the first and second nines of the Petrolia club, resulted as follows:

The Petrolia Base Ball Club of this place left for Titusville, on the 10:20 a. m. train, to play a match game of ball with the Eagle Club of that city.

To-day is the last day for paying the m. r. cattle licences at the County Treasurer's office, at Franklin.

OIL NEWS.—Four new wells are going down on the Brown farm, Cherrytree Run.
Capt. Oliver is drilling one. S. Elliott St., one. Fisher & Son, one. Powers & Griffith, one.

On the Big Tank farm, Marston & Shreeve, of Oil City, are sinking a new well.

On Kane Run. Mr. T. O'Donnell, has one well nearly completed.

Mr. Davis is sinking a well on the Dempsey farm.

A new well was completed on Kane Run, a day or two since. Yesterday, it was torpedoed by Mr. Thos. Roach, of this place, and is making a good show for oil. Will probably prove a good small well. Owned by William Arnold.

On the McElwee Farm, the land interest are drilling a well, and Mr. James Perkins has a well nearly down.

THEATRE.—This evening the New York and Western Theatrical Company, give one entertainment only at Sobel's Opera House.
The thrilling sensational drama entitled, "Inshavogue, or, The Fenian Chief of '98," will be produced, the young and talented actor, Mr. Felix A. Vincent, assuming the character of Brian Maguire, in which he cannot be excelled. Mr. Harry Gray as Ulrick Burk; Geo. C. Jordan as Harry Carrington; Miss Dollie Pike as Kate O'Dwyer; Miss Marion as Lady O'Dwyer, and the balance of the company in the cast. We have not been favored with an entertainment of this kind for a long period, and we trust Mr. Blakeney and his company will meet with a hearty reception. We have been acquainted with the ladies and gentlemen composing this troupe for a long time, and know them to be not only talented artists but high-minded men and women in every respect. Give them a full house.

See here, Muggios, have you heard the news? "No! Inform me." "Why they have just received at the Petroleum Exchange Hotel another lot of those nice-fresh Shell Clams.

other workmen were badly burned.

TROTTER AT SHARON.—On the 2d, 3d and 4th of July, the Sharon Driving Park Association held their second annual meeting.
The purses offered amount to $3,700, and are open to all competitors. The purses offered amount to $1,600, and will no doubt draw many fast horses of note to the races.

Under the new time table on the New York Central Railroad, an express train runs from Rochester to Albany, 250 miles in six hours and ten minutes, or over forty miles an hour including stops.

The trotting race, mile heats, three in five, between the stallions Ajax and Alexander, at Oakland, California, for $20, 000 a side on Saturday, was won in three straight heats by Ajax. Best time 2:29.

A narrow gauge railroad, 147 miles in length, is being constructed from St. Louis to Cairo. One hundred miles of the grading will be finished by the 1st of July. It is estimated the cost will be below $15,000 per mile.

The man with the iron jaw lives at Taus-ton, Massachusetts. He takes a thick, heavy flint glass tumbler and bites large pieces out of it with perfect ease, and chews them to powder. He does not swallow them, however, for fear of having a pane in his stomach.

Goldsmith Maid's Fast Time.

Yesterday the great trotting event of the season came off at the Prospect Park Fair Grounds, between Goldsmith Maid, Lucy, and Henry, for a purse of $5,000. Over ten thousand persons were present. The weather was favorable, the rain of the previous night having laid the dust left the track in excellent condition.

Much disappointment was manifested when the announcement was made that American Girl would not trot on account of lameness. She was brought on the track for inspection by the judges, and was at once surrounded by an excited crowd who had backed her for the second place in the race. It was found that she had hit her knee while exercising, and her leg being much swollen, her owner was given permission to withdraw her.

In the pool selling Goldsmith Maid was virtually ignored, her success being a foregone conclusion. Lucy had the call for second place at $230 to $40. The Judges were Messrs. C. Kerner, J. Harker, and W.
Turnbull. Budd Doble drove the Maid, John Murphy handled the reins over Henry, and O. A. Hickock piloted Lucy. The horses were in fine condition when they made their appearance on the track. The excitement was intense.

OIL NEWS.—The Mason well on the Heater farm Turkey Run commenced pumping on Monday and is doing about 15 barrels per day.

The Angell well on the Howe farm about one-half mile east of Fairview is good for 25 to 30 barrels a day. This well opens up a large amount of territory lying very close to the village of Fairview, and considerably west of the supposed belt.

The McClmonds well south-east of Fairview is doing about 85 barrels a day. This well is the farthest south of any yet completed, but there are 8 or 10 wells in operation four to five miles further south-west.
Lambing is starting two east of Millertown, Donegal township; if these should prove a success they would lead us to believe that the greater part of southern Butler county is underlaid with the fiery fluid.

The well on the William Campbell farm west of Fairview, which has been tested in the second and or "Millford rock" is not pumping much oil, but has been troubled considerably with salt water. They intend drilling it deeper to find the third sand.

Up the creek from Martinsburgh there are several new towns being built up one of which is named Petrolia on the summit north of the Blany well one-half mile.— Ementon Friend.

A Nevada paper, speaking of the atmosphere at Virginia City, says that ballet dancers are frequently unable to go through their parts, and encores are impossible.— Persons arriving from places near the level of the sea, who are at home rapid walkers, soon find themselves brought up with a round turn, and either spit blood or bleed at the nose. Little brisk walking is ever seen in the city. People do not seem so active as they really are, for the reason that they have been compelled to adopt a gait which, if not lazy, is at least rather leisurely. Hot weather is felt much more severely, and is much more debilitating than at the sea level. When the thermometer marks 80 degrees in this elevated region the air is of much less value than it is at the sea level under the same heat. Pigeons that fly very strongly in California are almost like unflinched birds when brought here. Lots of pigeons brought from California for pigeon shooting matches are often almost worthless, as upon being sprung from the trap they will flutter and come to the ground, before going two rods.

At last, from an exchange paper, we have found why Butler county is known as the "soap mines." Whether the story "will wash" or not, we don't know, but give it for what it is worth: "Many years ago, in boring a well for salt water, near Fairview, a vein of what is known as petroleum was struck, and the owners and drillers of the well, not knowing what it was, pronounced it soft soap, and having no chemical knowledge to guide them adopted this conclusion, and the word having gone abroad of this discovery, the name was ever after applied to the county."

London is fuller than it has been for many years, and an extraordinary demand for house room is the result.

Two Names.

BY JEAN FLOYD.

There were two who stood on the sea shore,
As the tide began to flow;
One traced his name on the rock above,
And one on the sand below.

One idly glanced at the rising wave,

And the sunset skies aflame,
And one spoke low—"I will have a place On the shining rolls of Fame!"

Faster and faster the tide came in,
Like a living thing unchained,
And the name on the sand was washed away But the name on the rock remained.

Years passed away; and a gray-haired man Came back to the lone sea shore.
His place was bright on the rolls of Fame, But the strength of youth was o'er.

And when, to the well remembered place, At last, the wanderer came, Though marked with the wear of sea and storm,

The rock still held his name.

"The name on the sand is gone," he said,
"And the name on the rock is dim." What matter my laurels, when at last I sleep in the dust with him?"

The local editor of Erie Dispatch visited the oil region with the editorial excursion party and writes as follows of the Columbia farm:

The train stopped at the Columbia Farm platform and there a band of fourteen picees were drawn up ready to give the guests a fitting reception. The members of the band are all employed on the oil "farm," but discourse none the less excellent music on that account, and they were highly complimented, deservedly so, for their performance.— Messrs. George Bonilton, and John P. Barcroft, managers, were on hand to show the visitors the sights and all marched up the hill, visting some of the pumping wells and witnessing the working of a well in process of drilling. The Columbia farm is perhaps the richest and best managed of any in the oil regions. The owners are in no haste to sink new wells so as to exhaust the territory, but keep up a daily production of about 400 barrels. On that farm there seems to be no peradventure as to finding oil. The tanks now contain about seventeen thousand barrels of crude oil. After spending about an hour there, the party got aboard again, the Columbia band accompanying them, and sped along the creek. The visitors were delighted with the grandeur of the mountain scenery along the line of the road, made famous as it is by being the richest and most valuable territory in the world. All along the creek, there is a wilderness of derricks, and on the hill side and mountain tops they bristle up, sometimes almost indistinguishable among the trees, and at others looking like a forest of derricks alone.

An attempt was recently made to get up a fresh excitement at Niagara Fall, in the form of a buffalo hunt, for which purpose orders were sent to Nebraska for a supply of the animals.

They didn't know that a man in Milwaukee was insane till he begun the "construction of a six-bladed horse and a leather frying pan," and then they took him to a lunatic asylum.

ciety, and sent back to convert his people
