The Department of Agricultural in its report for June, in regard to the present wheat crop says: A reduction of one-tenth of the area of last year is indicated in Pennsylvanin, and a condition of 30 per cent. below an average is presented. The reports present thirty/eight counties, of which Clearfield alone gives 100. Had the season been propitious] since the opening of spring, the losses by winter-killing would have been by no means irrepressible-scarcely even formidable. The York correspondent declares the prospect the worst for thirty-seven years. Drought, cool; winds and files are among the evils added to the wlater-killing.

Coroner Larue held an inquest in the case of Mary Hogue who was run over by train No. 16, on the J. & F. railroad, near Two Mile Run, on Wednesday last, and the verdict exculpated the employes from all blame. She was carrying a bucket of water, on the track, when the train rounded a curve and the engine struck her before she could escape.-[Venango Citizen.

Mrs. Agnes Bullock, a Virginia lady, recently cut a new set of teeth, though she is alnety-six years old. She was splitting kindling wood, when the teeth-which were worth sixty dollars-fell out of her mouth, and the axe dropped on them. Her husband says "it will be a great many years before she gets another set to cut."

A horrible accident occured at the Eina furnace, in New Castle, on Tuesday, by which Thomas M'Marlin, an employee at the furnace, was almost instantly killed. His death was occasioned by his breast being literally crushed between two cars. His family reside near Harlansburg, Lawrence county. He was about thirty-three years of age and leaves a wife and four children to mourn his sad and untimely end.

A Paris correspondent relates a story which may be taken as an illustration of sublime impudence. He states that a gentieman walking with his little boy on the banks of the river, the child slipped over the bank into the water, and would certain/ ly have been drowned but for the courage of a man who was fishing, who jumped in and saved the boy. The father thanked him cordially, but asked him it be would add to the obligation, as he was already wet through, by swimming for the boy's cap. On a recent visit to Pithole, we paid a call on our old friend, Capt. D. W. Bailey, the popular postmaster and news agent at that point. The Capt. informs us that business is flourishing with him at present. The average sale of newspapers of all kinds is over 1,000 copies per week, which speaks well for the intelligence of the people of that burgh. Although Pithole is not as lively as it was in the palmy days of '65, yet those who stood by the old town have not grown as poor as they undoubtedly would had they followed the oil excitement. The total yield of the Pithole territory is nearly 600 barrels per day, consequently it will be seen that the oil interests of . the town are not dead yet. We are pleased to learn that the Capt. has done well in a financial point of view. There is no man in the circle of our acquaintance that we heartily wish more good luck than Capt. D. W. Bailey, of Pithole, and further "they souled men nowadays," than Balley, the Postmaster at Pithole. DIED -On Friday, August 16th, 1872, HARRIETTA, infant daughter of Thomas and Hannah McHugh, aged 11 months and 16 Funeral will be held at their resi/ dence on Washington street, at 10 o'clock a. m. to-morrow, Saturday. A Southern Fish Story.

We learn from a Southern paper, and that of course is a proof of its anthenticity, that there was a colored skeptic living hear Panola, Miss., who treated religion with more levity than solemnity, and who weat fishing on Sunday. Being remonstrated with some weeks ago, he replied irreverently that he would go the next Sunday morning, "before God gets up, and catch a nice string of fish." Accordingly, on the follow. ing Sunday morning he repaired to the banks of the Tallabatchie river (very early, and threw his balted hook and line into the river. Scarcely had he done so when there was a violent tugging at his book, and a counter pull from the shore brought to the surface a buge catfieb, which found voice to say: "You shall remain here fishing all the days of your life, till God gets up," and then disappeared . Since that time all efforts to drag the unfortunate fisherman from the bank of the river have proved unavailing. It is evident that he labors under a strange ballucination, but he insists it is the judgment of the Almighty, and that he must continue acgling in that spot until be receives absolution from his foffended Maker.
