Democrats to the Rescue.

There will be a special meeting of the Greeley, Brown & Buckalew club Tuesday evening Sept. 17th. Let all members turn out. By order of the PRESIDENT.

ATTENTION.

The Grant & Wilson Club are requested to meet at their headquarters at 6 1/2 sharp this evening. Rally one and all for the meeting at Pioneer. Per order,

S. JOHNSON, Captain.

A Naturalization Court will meet in Franklin on Tuesday, September 24. All interested are requested to take notice.

Last week we stated that the confederates at Petroleum Centre had formed a campaign club. The Record don't understand us, and says Grant and Wilson and Greeley and Brown clubs have been formed there, but no confederate club. Now as we understand it the Liberals and Democrats have confederated together and adopted as their motto "anything to beat Grant," and hence they are called Confederates. No allusions to late Southern rebels, although they nearly all train with that party. If the Record don't like the name, we hope it will suggest another. — Venango Citizen.

We accept the explanation, but yet feel inclined to believe that the Citizen's allusion had the meaning attributed to it by us, and all who read the article think so too. — The people up this way are not so narrow-minded and biased in their political belief as they appear to be "in the nursery of great men." They do not indulge in calling one another opprobrious names, but believe in giving every man the right to think as he please, all agreeing that whoever is elected should attend to the wants of the oil region, a thing that has never been done as yet. We still adhere to our first statement that good and true men of both clubs have seen hard service in the field, and because they differ on the political questions of the day it is no reason they should be pronounced "confederates," "traitors," and other hard names applied to them by party journals. Nuff said.

DEMOCRATIC MEETING.

PET. CENTRE, Sept. 14th, 1872.
Meeting called to order, President Desbler in chair.

Minutes of last meeting read and approved.

Treasurer reported $159.50 paid in treasury, bills paid, $121.50, leaving a balance in the treasury of $38.

Rec'd for torches, capes and caps $153.75.

Mr. Desbler tendered his resignation as treasurer which was accepted, and Mr. J. A. Bell elected in his place.

On motion the proposition of Mr. Thomas McHugh to furnish a room for the storage of torches, was accepted, and Mr. McHugh instructed to buy oil and prepare the torches for use.

On motion the treasurer was authorized to pay Mr. McHugh for oil to be furnished and his service in preparing our lamps.

On motion, Messrs. G. J. Cross, James Robinson, J. A. Bell, were appointed to select Marshals for this club, to serve during the campaign.

On motion Mr. J. B. McCrea, of Kane City, was added to committee as marshal, and committee instructed to report at our next meeting.

On motion committee on printing was instructed to notify all members through the Petroleum Centre Daily Record, to meet at the Opera House on Tuesday evening next, Sept. 17th, 1872.

Resolved, that Mr. Kepler be appointed a committee, to procure martial music for Tuesday evening next.

On Motion committee on speakers, were instructed to correspond with Mr. S. R. Griffith and invite him to speak here at his earliest convenience.

On motion Mr. J. B. McCrea was added to the committee on registration.

Moved and seconded that when we adjourn, we adjourn to meet on Tuesday evening next. Carried.

Meeting adjourned to meet as above.

A. KLINE, Sec.

The Foxburg and St. Petersburg turnpike is being extended to Richmond.

The Mutual Pipe Line, at Foxburg, has shipped from that station, twelve hundred and fifty cars loaded with oil during last month.

The backers of Mace and O' Baldwin Saturday decided to return the stakes of the late fizzle, and the fight was drawn off.

The new M. E. Church at Tidoute, is nearly completed. It will cost over $15,000, exclusive of the furniture and organ, and will be dedicated about the first of October.

In Warren boys amuse themselves on Sunday, by kicking empty barrels around on the sidewalks in front of the churches, during services. The local papers mildly hold that "such practices are very reprehensible."

The Economite Oil Company own a tract of about 60,000 acres, opposite Tidoute. — They develop their own territory and are one of the wealthiest companies in the oil regions.

The grading between Irvington and Garland, of the Warren and Venango railroad is being pushed forward as fast as possible. — From Garland to Titusville the work is ready for the ties.

NOTICE.

All members of Minnekaunes Tribe 183, I. O. R. M., are particularly requested to be present at regular Council, Thursday evening, Sept. 19th, as the nomination of officers and other important business will come up before the Tribe.

We notice by the Titusville Courier that Mr. W. C. Plummer, the editor of that paper, was the subject of a brutal and murderous assault, on Friday evening last, at the hands of a brute by the name of Witherup. Whatever the cause for the affair is no reason that a man should be maimed for life by a bully. Everybody acquainted with Plummer knows that a more peaceable man never lived. Had this cowardly affair happened here, Witherup would have been withered up at short notice. As it is we hope he may be punished.

We notice our friends Jas. McIlwaine and W. W. Johnston, old Petroleum Centreites, in town to-day. Both reside at St. Petersburg, but yet claim the Centre as their home, and are loth to leave it even after their visit is over.

Capt. Powers is tubing a new well on the Brown farm, Cherrytree Run, to-day. A paying well is anticipated.

The new well on the Simms Farm, owned by Kepler & Co., is yielding 10 barrels per day and increasing. Upper Besshoff territory is bound to show up big before long.

The State Fair opens at Erie next Tuesday.

Rail-Car Love-Making.

The editor of the Lexington (Ky.) Gazette is close a observer, has been car-riding with an eye to the interesting. He tells the story of a love-making couple whom he met en route, and as a sample of some sweetness on the cars it is amusing. On the Orange road was a newly married couple. They got on at Arrington depot in Nelson. They were billing and cooling every five minutes, to the infinite disgust of the females and the amusement of the other sex. I greatly admired one favorite posture. He was sitting at the window and she was anxious to see the country, and leaned across his knees to look out. Of course he wasn't going to let her fall out and be left, so he got a good hold around her body, and never broke his grip for an hour. It seemed sometimes like the pressure was about seventy-five pounds to the square inch, then again he would slack up. She was "mighty" afraid of dropping out of the window, for she never whimpered, even when he tightened his arms to the last notch; that is, when going across rivers and ugly high banks. After she had seen the country enough they began to whisper to each other, and after each whisper would bite an ear, holding it a little while and "chawing" like puppies do your fingers in fun. He would make out sometimes she had bit him too hard, and touse her for it. The tousing was the best part of the performance. She knew she had done wrong in the auricular matter, and ought to be touselled. Most of the men in the car thought so too, and if she hadn't submitted they were ready to help him in this act of justice. Several of them stood up now and then, to be ready if their services were needed. — Some were interested to such an extent in suppressing, with marked and repressive punishment, this unlawful compression of the male acoustic organ between the incisors of the female, that they first refreshed themselves by passing to the ice cooler and swallowing deep draughts and then returning to the neighborhood where the sufferer was avenging himself, keeping their arms in position for immediate use in case of emergency. The vanquished was doomed to support the head of the conqueror till he should recover from the fatigue of asserting his rights. I could tell you more.

When your girl gives you the "mitten," don't talk about suicide, and make a fool of yourself generally. Just save the mitten; you may get another soon, and then you'll have a pair for the coming winter.

The Allegheny Valley Railroad have concluded to locate the Corry, Irvington and Venango City shops at Oil City. Work has already commenced. It will add a great impetus to the growth of Oil City.

The most important steel mine in the country is at Roxbury, Connecticut. The ore was thrown aside as rubbish until within a few years, when the proprietors found a Prussian engineer who had worked mines of the same sort in Prussia. The product is of great value and of extensive use among iron manufacturers.

It may not be generally known that the Western Union Telegraph Office in this place is a money order office. Mr. A. Torrance, the accommodating manager for the company at this point, informs us that all parties desiring to send or receive money can do so by telegraph, to any of the company's offices in the United States. This is not generally known to the public, who will so doubt avail themselves of the accommodation as soon as it becomes understood.

Two men, George Dufley and Edward Tuttle, were recently suffocated in a well at Fredonia, and died. One of them entered soon after a blast and when about half way down, the noxious and foul gases stifled him. He motioned to be drawn up, but before he reached the top he fell out from weakness. Dufley went in after him and brought him out, but Tuttle was dead and Dufley died soon after.

On Saturday last, about four o'clock p. m., a benzine tank bursted at Foster Station, and the benzine communicating with a fire in a pump house, a short distance therefrom it was ignited, and for a few minutes there was great danger of an extensive conflagration. A number of workmen were in the immediate vicinity and by prompt action the flames were subdued without much damage being done. The benzine was owned by Bousall & Co.

In the dearthness of coal prevalent, in England, ingenuity is racked to find new sources of power. The latest proposition is to erect dams across narrow inlets of the sea and when the tide comes in, to shut it in and make it work a turbine wheel and pump water into a system of accumulators, whence it would be transmitted to neighboring manufacturing districts.

The Pension Office has under consideration the propriety and justice of rating one-armed pensioners the same as those who have lost a leg, and granting the former an equal pension with the latter. The basis of the proposed action is that in both cases there is an equal disqualification for the performance of arduous or varied labor.

"Kerosenility" is the latest characterization of the old woman who are continually igniting themselves with kerosene oil.

A new town has been laid out on the Wm. Shoup farm and named "Gimlet City." It was probably so named because it is necessary to make so many "twists" to get lodging or anything to eat there. We here that boarding house keepers charge seven dollars a week for board if the boarders are willing to "sleep in the barn."

There is now a new town on Turkey Run named "Nut Town," on account of the residents being such "hard nuts." — [Emlenton Friend.]

There was quite a heavy frost in some parts of Maine last week. In a number of places the corn was killed, and the farmers are cutting it for fodder.

A man was taking a friend to a Troy doctor, the other day to have a wound in his head dressed. The operation so affected the escort that he fainted and fell on the curbstone, inflicting an exactly similar contusion on his own skull, the two walking away holding one another up.

Mace and O' Baldwin, who never intended to fight, have received back their stake money. Some one should present both with passage tickets for Europe.

Louisiana is to produce fifty thousand barrels of rice this year, according to the estimate, which will be a gain of twenty per cent. on the production of 1871.

What is to be done with the weather? — From present appearances it looks as though it is going to take us all this fall to fight out last summer.

The strangest example of a "stitch in time" is the custom which prevails among the Dutch families living in the Catskills, that of preparing their own grave clothes. — They take great pride in fashioning them of the finest material and making them up in the daintiest manner.

The oil well of Capt. A. Dingley, in Pleasant township, two miles from Warren, is now down to the depth of about 900 feet, and the rock he is drilling in smelts strongly of oil. The Captain's perseverance richly deserves success. — [Warren Ledger.]

A beauty and otherwise intelligent married woman in Tennessee persists in the belief that her legs are paralyzed, and being doomed to an endless punishment. She suffers intense pain from her affliction, and has no indication of being unsound in mind except in this particular.
