MOBOCRACY.

The only thing that we regret is that a Mobocratic spirit has shown itself in the oil regions for a few days past. If persisted in it will dim the glory of the most successful movement ever made by men in business (whose interests seemed on the verge of ruin) to save themselves by sacrifice.

The rights of property, which all are bound to respect, form the corner stone of our social fabric and the civic compact, and the maintenance of law and order, all of more value to us than anything else in our only pecuniary results.

Riot, arson, and mayhap murder or even treason, such as is involved in simply turning a throttle valve down without authority, cannot for a moment be justified.

Men who do these things expecting sympathy and seeking notoriety, will find that courts of justice are stern realities, and that judges and juries do their duty without fear or favor. Be warned in time.

Besides the fact that a few wells are pumping, while ninety-nine out of a hundred are not, give tone and character to the movement, showing it is purely voluntary.

An aged German named Benderfur, was struck by the pilot of the engine of train 3, going north, yesterday afternoon, a short distance from the depot, and thrown from the track, cutting a deep gash in the back of his head and otherwise seriously bruising him. Fortunately the train was going very slow at the time, otherwise he would have been killed. His wounds were dressed by Dr. Stuart, who thinks he will recover.

We received a call, yesterday, from Mr. Geo. H. McCartney, of Franklin. Mr. M. is a candidate for the office of County Commissioner on the Democratic ticket, and says he has strong hopes of election.

A convention of Irish-American citizens of Iowa, Nebraska and Dakota is in session at Sioux City, called to devise means to aid penniless and encourage the Irish people of over a dozen Western cities, and the Irish soldiers of the late war, to immigrate to the Northwest. The meeting is said to be the most thoroughly representative Irish gathering ever assembled in the West.

The Directors of Postal Telegraphs in Great Britain report a case of love and matrimony negotiated over the wires by a male and female operator who had never seen each other. A male operator in London made the wire acquaintance of a female operator at Berlin, and after courtship, proposal and acceptance over the wire the two were married, their first sight of each other being on the occasion of their nuptials. The marriage was one resulting in an average amount of marital bliss. In one regard the wires are a very good test as to character. It is said, operators come to know all about the temper, patience and amiability of their fellows even though total strangers. There is no position in which a passionate, sulky, bad tempered person shows out so readily as when at work at the wires, and by the same token one of a cheerful, patient, good nature, also exhibits his characteristics. It is even pretended that one operator can tell whether another is good looking or not.

CHANGE OF FIRM.—Mr. Thomas Healy has purchased the interest of Wait & Pugh in the Verandah Saloon and Restaurant, on Washington Street, and will hereafter conduct the business. Mr. H. is one of the oldest residents of Petroleum Centre, and is widely known as an honorable man and a good fellow in general. Under the new proprietorship we predict a new lease of prosperity for the Verandah.

A special free train runs from Oil City to Titusville, this evening, to accommodate those who desire to attend the Greeley & Brown rally in that city. Train arrives at this point at about 7 p. m.

The Greeley & Brown club of this place attend the Titusville meeting in a body, tonight.

WAGES CUT DOWN.—The new managers of the Oil Creek road, have cut down the wages of the employes, to conform to the salaries paid on the Valley road. Rough on the boys, as a better class of railroad men the sun never shone upon, than those who are employed by the Oil Creek road. The community would dislike to part with them, and we hope we will not be compelled to.

Trumbull county, Ohio, has a new jail.

Hogs are quoted "quiet but firm" in Chicago. We never knew them to be quiet, but there is little doubt about their firmness.

Hot for Titusville.

There will be a special meeting of the Greeley, Brown & Buckalew club this evening, Oct. 3, at 6:15 p. m., sharp.—Let all members turn out. By order of the PRESIDENT.

Goldsmith Maid, the famous trotting mare, is said to be stolen property, and a law suit for her recovery is pending. It is stated that the stables of a great Kentucky stock raiser were burnt down and a very promising young mare stolen; and the groom who had charge of her has just seen the celebrated Maid, and is ready to take oath that she is the stolen animal.

Chicago papers say that the hotels of that city have not for five years been called upon to provide accommodations for as many guests as at the present time. Travelers are crowded into rooms like corn in a crib. Restaurants, lunch counters, and other places where meals are furnished, are crowded from morning till night.

The rivers of Maine have kept fuller this year than ever before, and consequently no mills have suspended for want of water or materials with which to work. The Kennebec has been almost literally full of logs since the opening of spring.

ALLEMAGOOZELUM, Oct. 2.

EN. RECORD.—Would you like a short account of the doings at Allemagoozelum for the past two days. To show you how excited men become, I will write you a few lines. An individual, well known hereabouts as having more gas in his composition than anything else, was appointed by the meeting held at the Ryad Farm, to watch the producers and see that they did not pump their wells, after a few poor devils who were working on borrowed capital and a few others who have from one to three thousand barrels of oil on hand had signed an agreement to shut down for thirty days. Well, about 9 o'clock Tuesday morning, down came a party from the Brown Farm and Kane City to shut down all rigs that were pumping. The first man found pumping was the above mentioned individual appointed by the meeting to watch others. On being caught this noble and gifted man invited the party to his house and furnished them spiritual refreshments until they were mellow enough to march under his orders. They first visited the Anderson wells out Ira had just shut them down.—Next they visited the wells owned by Knapp and Ryder and shut them down. While there they established an entirely new theory in the shutting down business by agreeing to let the flowing well of D. W. Kenney continue to flow provided said Kenney would exchange his oil for whiskey for the benefit of the noble band of thirty-six oil producers—only seven in the whole party ever had an interest in an oil well. And that's the kind of producers that shut the well down on Cherrytree Run. Irresponsible parties who have no interest in the matter whatever, not even deriving their support by pumping or drilling. We were surprised to see such men as Osborne, Elliott, Dempsey, Harper, Burns, &c., in such company. We don't want any oil wells where the people are led around by one man, who has no intention of fulfilling his part of the shutting down contract. The shutting down movement is all right when done voluntarily, but when done by a mob led on by a so-called producer (Heaven pity the mark) is all wrong and should not be countenanced in a free country. That's the way the shutting down was done at Allemagoozelum. Yours,

A pardon has also been directed to be issued to Alexander Hamer, of Pittsburgh, who was sentenced to two month imprisonment, and to pay a fine of two hundred dollars, on the eleventh of August, 1872, for contempt of Court in having disregarded an injunction restraining him from selling certain articles which was an infringement on a patent.—Pittsburgh Mail.

A very singular accident happened to a man in West Branch, Ill., who was feeding a threshing machine, the other day, a piece of some kind of a spider flying into his eye, poisoning it so that the eye has burst, and making him now quite blind, as he had lost the other eye before.

Boston girls are up to everything. One of them, at twenty years of age, is in the Indian Territory publishing a paper in the Choctaw language. Her younger sister is thinking of going to China, there to publish a journal in the Chinese tongue.

A Carlisle (Ill.) wife becoming angry because she could not have the last word in a dispute, recently put her sick husband out of doors at midnight, and in a thunder storm. In the morning she found him on the stoop, dead from exposure. She is in an insane asylum.

Love induced a beautiful and accomplished girl of Chicago to marry a blind man with a club foot. He was a poor man, while his wife has an income of $1,500 a year.

Six hundred single men and women of Wabash, English and German nationalities arrived at New York, a few days ago, on their way to join the Mormons. The men are described as a seedy set, but the women are nearly all under twenty-five, and good looking.

Miss Jennie Heignton, fashionable milliner, has just returned from New York with a complete stock of the latest styles of London and Paris millinery and ladies dress goods. We would advise our lady friends to call and examine her stock of new fall and winter goods.

A fanatic, who is always preaching perdition, maintains that the Yellowstone region is the place of eternal punishment. He argues that Yellowstone and brimstone are one and the same thing.

CANADA OIL NEWS.—The centre of attraction in oil development is in the vicinity of the Varvelli & Vanastine well on the Webster territory. The W. H. and J. McGarvey well is down with good show, and will be tested at once. The McGarvey and Rosenberg well is drilling, also Empire Co. well, and a number of rigs are getting ready.

Mr. Gibson has his rig ready on the Gibson territory. A little to the west Noble & Co. are drilling a new well upon their 50 acres north of 12th line, near by to the west and located near the east boundary of the Case 200 acres. The Western Co. have a well drilling and a rig going up. The same Company have finished a new well and are testing.

To the south of the 12th line Mr. McMillan has a well drilling and a rig getting ready.

The Smith, Wright and Co. well, south of 12th line is nearly down, with fair show. Goryell well, near the "D. M." is being tested. Mr. Lamb is getting ready for a new venture, near the north end of his territory.

Col. Shoemaker's new well south of "Old Hickory," has been put deeper, and is now a 20 barrel well. The well to the east, put down by A. & S. Keith for the same gentleman, is ready to be tested, with a good show; this well was put down in less than ten days.

We hear of a few new ventures further to the north-west, but will await particulars.—[Petroleum Advertiser.]

The owner of a store not far from Danbury, is annoyed by the officious interference of a young man. The young man in question is keeping company with the storekeeper's wife, and expecting to marry her. He feels it to be a duty he owes himself to look after the business and keep it up. Being a sickly man the merchant is easily annoyed, and finds the young man's surveillance quite irksome.

Many a man has broken down under the weight of great anxiety who might have saved his life if he had only been able to laugh. Laughter lightens many a heavy burden and smooths many a rough road.—Other things being equal, the merry man is the strongest man, and the swiftest man, and the most enduring man, and the bravest man. The man who can "tell a little story" can stand more toil than the man who bears his dignity stiffly.

Thousands of bushels of apples will be left to rot on the ground in the orchards of New England this autumn. In some towns the farmers are offering cider at $1.50 per barrel and it is difficult to find purchasers sufficient to exhaust half the apples at any price. The best varieties of winter fruit can be obtained back in the rural districts at a merely nominal price.

From Athol, Massachusetts, we hear of a good Methodist parson, somewhat eccentric, and an excellent singer. Sunday after Sunday his rich voice came from the pulpit "with the spirit and the understanding." Not so at the other end of the church, where, with abundance of spirit, there was lamentable lack of the other virtue. In fact, the singing was simply execrable.—The good brother could finally endure it no longer, and exclaimed: "Brothers and sisters, I wish those of you who can't sing would wait until you get to the celestial regions before you try." The hint was a success.

The Central Church of Chelsea, Mass., has at last permitted women to vote at its church meetings, much to the disgust of some of its members and the pleasure of others.

The validity of the Illinois liquor law, which makes the vendor of intoxicating drinks responsible for the damage done by the buyers while in an intoxicated condition is to be tested before the Supreme Court of that State. A case is now pending involving all the mooted points. It is well to have these settled by a formal adjudication.

The Czar made himself quite at home while attending the recent conference of emperors at Berlin, and drove about alone in an open carriage, making visits to places of interest. Alexander possesses, as did his father before him, the right of citizenship at Berlin, a privilege which Nicholas was in the habit of alluding to in a familiar way as a reason for feeling at home.

The Massachusetts Superior Court has decided, in effect, that if railroad companies run their cars on Sunday, people may ride in them for nothing. A man on the Old Colony road, who had neglected to buy a ticket, refused to pay the extra ten cents charged on the payment of fare, on the cars and was prosecuted. It was decided by the tribunal aforesaid that the company had no right to collect fares at all on Sunday, because it was a violation of law to run their trains.
