tion of the Democrats and Liberal Republicans who desire to attend the mass convention in that city. Train leaves about

CONSPIRACY: THOU ART A JEWEL.— There is a class of persons, leading men, as operators, officers of the new organization here and elsewhere in the oil regions, that are pumping their wells—that is, shouting blatantly "shut down," but pumping $4 oil for the market.

Our motto is—Fair Play. All shut down or all start up.

We are pleased to notice our friend, Geo.
W. Wilson, out riding this afternoon. It is now almost a year since he was stricken down with paralysis, and ever since he has been confined to his house, and nearly all the time to his bed. A host of friends will be pleased to learn that his chances of permanent recovery are good.

The drillers and pumpers at Parker's Landing are agitating the question of resuming work and pledging themselves to protect their employers.

It looks as if their was a groundswell to this tidal wave.

Fortunately no accident occurred to the excursionists, last night, although there came near being one at Pioneer, on the way back. When the train stopped, one of the Pioneer delegation started to get off, the train suddenly moved ahead throwing him on the track. Fortunately they backed up an instant after, enabling him to get clear.

Chicago is to have a million dollar opera house. The business men met last week and decided to expend that sum in the erection of an opera house which shall be the most ever built upon the western continent.

Attention Democrats & Liber- al Republicans.

There will be a special meeting of the Greeley, Brown & Buckalew club this evening, Oct. 4, at 6 o'clock p. m., sharp.
Let all members turn out. By order of the PRESIDENT.

NOTICE.

There will be a meeting of the Grant & Wilson Club at their rooms on Saturday evening, October 5th. A general attendance is requested as business of importance is to be transacted.

Meeting convenes at 7 o'clock sharp.

J. W. BEATTY, Secretary.

We are informed by Mr. A. G. Harper, of Kane City, that a portion of the statements made by our Allemagoozelum correspondent, published yesterday, are without foundation. Mr. H. states the case in this wise:
The meeting at Bynd Farm delegated Mr.
Amos Schrum and Capt. Oliver, a committee for the lower district of Cherrytree Run, and Mr. Richard Dempsey and Mr. Barrett, for the upper district, to wait upon the producers and solicit them to join the shutting down movement. That in accordance with the wishes of the meeting said committee waited upon the several operators and stated the case to them in a gentlemanly manner, and that no compulsion whatever was used on the part of said committee, and if anything of the sort occurred it was done by irresponsible persons and met with the entire disapprobation of the committee.

Mr. Harper thinks it was well that the gentlemen alluded to in the communication were present to restrain the crowd, otherwise much property might possibly have been destroyed.

We will here add that at the time the communication appeared, the names of the committee were unknown to us. Since we have learned that the individual alluded to was our friend, Mr. Amos Schrum, of Allemagoozelum, who we do not credit capable of doing injustice to any person. We have known him too long to believe he would stoop to such "ways that are dark and tricks that are vain."

We learn that a man was killed on the special train which ran from Titusville to Corry, last night, near Centerville. The only particulars we could learn was that the man was sitting on the platform of the car conversing with other parties, when a sudden jerk of the cars threw his head back breaking his neck and killing him instantly.
The unfortunate man resided at Corry.

The question whether Captain Colvoco-resses committed suicide or was murdered at Bridgeport, Connecticut, a few months ago, is to be determined by the courts, the insurance companies refusing to pay any of the policies on his life.

are made in Vermont. The sales amount to from $15,000,000 to $18,000,000 per

The special train from Oil City to Titusville, last evening, was composed of twenty-two cars, all of which were well filled with delegations from Oil City, Rousseville, Rynd Farm, Tarr Farm, Petroleum Centre, Pioneer, Miller Farm, and other points. It is estimated that as high as 2,000 people were on the train.

Reports of the condition of the tobacco crop in Virginia and North Carolina are unfavorable, there seems to be reason to conclude that the crops in both States will fall the average of last year.

ties in Northern Arcostock, Maine, and par-

The Greeley & Brown Club, about 200 leaving for Titusville. They were preced-

A Gambler's Deathbed.

Edmund Wellington, who was shot at the "New Idea" saloon, Broadway, early on Saturday morning, was dying at five o'clock last evening. He lay in one position, saying in an incoherent manner, growing weaker hourly. If it is true that the ruling passion is strong in death, then Wellington was by nature a gambler and a wine-bibber.— At five o'clock yesterday a reporter was admitted to ward No. 10, where the man lay dying. His left eye was covered with a cloth, and a milky-opal film covered the pupil of the right eye. He was entirely blind.

"Do you know this gentleman?" asked the attendant.
"Yes; he is Tom the Tinker. Give me your hand."

For a moment he remained silent, and then broke out: "I copper on the ace;"
"Twenty dollars on the jack;" "Hold on, I coppered in the pot;" "I call you on a queen full;" "Beer all round;" "A hundred dollars on the red;" "I draw one only;" "Fifty dollars on the turn-up;" "Why don't you bring on the champagne?" "Red, give me a stake, for I got broke on the tray;" "Let's all take a drink;" etc.

For ten hours he had been muttering in this way, occasionally changing the subject.

Little Willie F., of Greenville, Massachusetts, was recently presented with a toy trumpet to which he became greatly attach-put in his "little bed," and was ready to say his prayers, he handed the trumpet to his grandmother, saying, "Here, grandma, you blow while I pray."

Accounts from the Lake Superior region represent that the greatest activity prevails in mining, and, as the season advances, more and more demands are made for ore; and notwithstanding the many new mines which have been opened are adding materially to the supply, the demand increases proportionately or stronger.

The King of Burmah, it is reported, has

The meteorological records of the Pennsylv-

Believers in the "child-like and bland" innocence of the lamb, are staggered by the repulsive conduct of one belonging to a smiling welcome to meet freshly arrived and then shows the warring wolf side of his character by slipping out of the pen and bringing in the next victim.

that children be compelled to employ their

A YEAR'S WORK.

[From the Chicago Tribune.]

We know of no words which will convey to persons residing outside of Chicago an idea of what has been done in the way of rebuilding the city than to say that, beginning on April 15, 1872, and ending December 1, 1872, excluding Sundays, containing 200 working days, and each day of eight hours, there will be completed one brick, stone or iron building, 25 feet front and from four to six stories high, for each hour of that time. In other words, the buildings of that size and character completed, and that will be completed by December 1, will average one for each sixty minutes of 200 days of eight hours each.

This estimate, which will fall below the actual fact, does not include the many stone brick, iron and wooden buildings built outside of the burnt district, and which alone equal the ordinary new buildings put up in Chicago annually. There is no precedent in the world's history of such a growth; no precedent for such energy and bravery by a people who, within the year, have seen $200,- 000,000 of their property destroyed by fire.
The statement will sound extraordinary that, for seven months in 1872—beginning the first day the frost was out of the ground —there was built and completed in the burnt district of Chicago a brick, stone or iron warehouse every hour of each working day in that time.

The extraordinary achievement in rebuilding Chicago is not counted to the number of new buildings, but applies equally to their size and their superiority in construction and materials. It will strike those familiar with Chicago before the fire that, while four stories was the general height of business blocks at that time, the present buildings, as a general thing, are at least one story higher, thus adding one-fifth to the warehouse capacity. While the brick structures will bear a large proportion to the whole number of new edifices, the proportion of stone fronts has largely increased—that material superseding, in many cases, the iron fronts. Another peculiarity of the new buildings is the greatly increased number of double and treble stores, that is, stores having fifty and seventy-five feet, and, in many cases, one hundred feet front.

Outside of the burnt district there have been erected dwellings for this increased population, together with the local stores and warehouses required for the increased retail trade. The whole city has put on activity, and go where one will, he will meet the surprising evidences of that increase in trade, manufacturers and population, and rise in real estate which are indubitable evidences of the permanent prosperity of Chicago. To the north of Chicago, extending along the lake shore, are a succession of villages rapidly filling up; to the south, extending to the parks, the same rapid settlement is progressing; while beyond the old western border of the city, within the last six months, a population has settled which equals that of the whole city twenty years ago. This will give to non-residents a fair idea of Chicago one year after the great fire.

ALL SHUT DOWN.—The pumping and drilling wells in this district, known as the fifth, were all shut down yesterday. At one o'clock the producers assembled in front of the Exchange hotel, and with a Cornet Band at their head, marched to the wells in Sugar creek township. When they arrived all was found quiet, not a walking beam in motion, except one or two wells, which were shut down before the party returned.
All along the route workmen were met departing for home for thirty days, or "during the war." About five o'clock the procession returned to the city. In the evening a meeting was held to organize permanently and elect delegates to the Producers' Congress which meets at Oil City to-day.

Throughout the entire region the wells are shut down, and we are confident the producers will secure the object for which they are contending—five dollar oil.

An Omaha merchant recently went up into a mountain nook in Colorado to fish.— While thus engaged he saw a bear coming toward him by the only path in which escape was possible. To appease the intruder he tossed him a fish which the animal mistook for a direct assault and went for him. The combatants struggled long and fiercely, finally tumbling into a creek, when they separated and ran as fast as possible in opposite directions. The merchant will fish in the valley hereafter.
