Thanksgiving Proclamation.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.

By the President of the United States of America, a Proclamation.

Whereas, The revolution of another year has again brought the time when it is usual to look back upon the past, and publicly thank the Almighty for his mercies and his blessings, and

Whereas, If any one people has more occasion than another for just thankfulness, it is the citizens of the United States, whose Government is their creature, subject to their behests; who have reserved to themselves ample civil and religious freedom and equality before the law; who, during the last twelve months have enjoyed exemptions from any grievances or general calamity and to whom prosperity in Agriculture, manufactures and commerce has been vouchsafed.

Therefore, by these considerations, I recommend that on Thursday, the 28th day of November next, the people meet in their usual places of worship and there make their acknowledgments to God for his kindness and bounty.

In witness whereof I have unto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington, this 11th day of October, in the year of our Lord 1872, and of the Independence of the United States the ninety-seventh.

[signed] U. S. GRANT.

By President.
