The Titusville Herald of yesterday, published an article entitled "Clasping Hands" which carries the idea that a combination between the refiners and producers would just all the bill, and also seeking to lead the public into the belief that a secret understanding exists between the Producer's Agency and the Refiner's Combination whereby negotiations will be entered into at some future time between the two. Such a movement we are entirely opposed to, and the sentiment of the producers of this district is the same. The producers, we are satisfied, want no such arrangement with the Combination, and will not have it that way. They have no terms to make with their old enemies after that fashion. Having thoroughly organized on a sound basis, and established themselves firmly under the name of the Petroleum Producer's Agency, the producers have no favors to ask at the hands of the refiners. On the contrary, the "boot is now on the other foot"—the Combination is compelled to ask favors of the Agency.

The producers are willing to act and deal fairly and honestly with all, but when it comes to forming a coalition with their old enemies, they count them out.

We would advise the Herald to—"Go Slow."

Dr. L. H. Christie has been engaged for several days past in removing his drug store from the old location to the large building opposite Seaton's grocery store, on Washington street. When fitted up it will make a fine store room.

Gilmore has been robbed of his laurels by a recent discovery that Giuseppe Sarti, an Italian, used cannon as a musical adjunct as early as 1788.

The Shah of Persia has provided $10,000,000 to pay the expenses of his European tour.

The Burning of Boston.

It is but a little more than a year ago that the piteous fate of fire-swept Chicago thrilled all Christendom with terror and commiseration, and from every quarter of the country—indeed, of the world—caused hands laden with comfort and assistance to be stretched forth; and now a similar woe has befallen the great city of Boston. The losses are already estimated at hundreds of millions of dollars. There is no need to dwell, here, upon the awful character of the visitation, our telegraphic columns give the details of the terrible calamity. What there is need to dwell upon is this: the necessity that pity shall instantly crystallize into help, and sympathy resolve itself into organized succor. Never, perhaps, in all history was there a nobler uprising of humanity for humanity's sake, than in the swift and simultaneous response of the people, without distinction of sect or party, to the appeal of Chicago in her dreadful desolation and need. The heart of the nation throbbed with but one instinct—the people knew but one impulse—the sublime impulse and instinct of help. This is what is needed now. There are the houseless and foodless, standing naked upon the edge of a pitiless New England winter. It will be time enough by-and-by to estimate the values that have been destroyed, the magnitude of the interests that are swept away, the extent and character of the ruin and desolation which have been wrought, and the effect of these on the business concerns of the country and the world. But our first duty is toward those who have been deprived of everything except life. Bread for the hungry; clothing for the naked—these are the cries which sound above the roaring flood of fire. No one who has any conception of the grand capacity of the American people for unselfish sacrifice, whenever supreme occasion calls, will for a moment doubt the manner in which they will be answered. But he helps twice who helps quickly. Let the people of Petroleum Centre as of every other locality, remember it.

Our friend Smawley, the well known livery man, met with quite a serious accident at Franklin, early yesterday morning. He was at the Jamestown & Franklin railroad depot waiting for the arrival of the early freight train intending to come up to Oil City, when he was taken with a sudden fainting fit and fell to the floor. How long he laid there he does not know, but when he came to he discovered that in falling he had received a very severe contusion in the right eye, blacking and cutting it badly. Smawley thinks he got off cheap enough as it is, with only a black eye.

The following is the amount stock subscribed to the Producer's Agency by the various districts:

| | |
|-----------------|-------------|
| First District, | $100,000 |
| Second, | 100,000 |
| Third, | 100,000 |
| Fourth, | 40,000 |
| Fifth, | 50,000 |
| Sixth, | 101,000 |
| Seventh, | 100,000 |
| Eighth, | 54,000 |
| Ninth, | 18,100 |
| Tenth, | 8,500 |
| Eleventh, | 105,100 |
| Twelfth, | 41,000 |
| Thirteenth, | 101,000 |
| Fourteenth, | 40,000 |
| Fifteenth, | 44,000 |
| Sixteenth, | 60,500 |
| Total, | $1,081,000 |

The amounts reported at the previous mass meeting as subscriptions were merely promised in many instances. The amount subscribed was only about $725,000. The $1,081,000 reported yesterday are bona fide subscriptions, an increase of over $300,000 since the last meeting.

The following resolution was brought before the meeting of the Producer's Council, at Oil City, yesterday, and carried:

Resolved, That the thanks of the producers are due to the banks of the whole Oil Region, who have subscribed to the stock of the Agency, and especially to the Savings and Exchange banks of Titusville, who subscribed in the face of threats made by the morning papers of that city, that if any did subscribe their customers would withdraw their deposits; and we hereby commend the action of the several banks to the favorable consideration of business men of this region, whose prosperity depends entirely on the success of producers.

Some of the Chicago papers, in discussing the Sunday saloon closing question, are taking the ground that lager beer is without intoxicating properties. This is an error. An analysis of numerous specimen samples of this beverage made last year, showed the presence of alcohol in quantities ranging from 5.630 to 6.190 per cent.

A Providence, R. I., paper records the appearance in that city of a loaded wagon drawn by four men.

Girls who marry coachmen, are not of necessity unhappy. The story of Miss Boker, of New York, daughter of the millionaire who married the coachman is revived. She convulsed the fashionables by marrying John Dean, her father's coachman and so dissolving her old family and social relations. But John, it appears, turns out a successful business man and the two live comfortably and happily.—Exchange.

There is a great deal of boob about this marrying beneath them, by fashionable girls. Take a look through the rich and, of course, fashionable residences of this or any other fast growing, enterprising city, and note the to-be plied wives who married laboring men, mechanics, &c. Are they unhappy? Not if high-ceilings, tapestry carpeting, imported furniture and modern improvements without limit can make them happy. And yet the great majority of wives who now loiter in the lap of luxury, married poor men, uneducated men, men who work for a living. It would be a wholesome lesson if the succulent history of our rich men was engraved upon the fronts of their palatial residences. Good in two ways; as a constant reminder to them of their humble origin—teaching, charity and benevolence; and as an incentive to those young men now clinging to the lower round and desperately striving to grasp the round next above. And it is the daughters of such who exhaust sympathy when they link their fortunes to those who occupy the places their fathers vacated only a few years gone by. Isn't it funny that it should be a disgrace to a daughter to do just what her mother did when she was a girl? marry a laboring man, a coachman, perhaps, a mechanic. The question should be, It is a good coachman, a good mechanic? If so the girl who marries him may before her hair turns grey be courted as the wife of a Senator, or the wife of a Vice President, and that other girl who married the rich young man may be striving to procure a sewing machine on credit for the support of spendthrift husband and starving children.

[Cleveland Herald.]

We copied recently from the St. Louis Democrat a beautiful little story about a flock of sheep "following their leader." And now comes the Peoria Review with the following comments on the narrative, which leads us to infer that the Democrat's statement was not strictly reliable. "The story of the 1000 sheep, who leaped through the window of the covered bridge, near this place, is very nearly correct. There were however, only 630 sheep in the drove, instead of 1,000. The bell-wether did not see the open window, it did not jump out of it. The flock did not follow it. There is no window in the bridge. The driver did not drive his sheep across the bridge; he crossed at the ferry three miles higher up the stream. If the bridge was 500 feet above high water mark the present piers would have to be lengthened 400 feet in order to reach the bridge. There is not a covered bridge within 1,700 miles of Peoria. With these typographical inaccuracies the romance is correct."

The Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, passed an amendment to the constitution, providing that when a member is expelled from a Lodge or Encampment in one jurisdiction, he cannot be admitted to a Lodge or Encampment of any other jurisdiction without the consent of the Encampment from which he was expelled, but permitting the admission in another jurisdiction of a member suspended or dropped for non-payment of dues only.

We are informed on good authority that all the wells owned by E. E. Clapp of President, on the Henderson, Baker and Alcorn farms in the 16 district are to be shut down hereafter every Sunday, commencing to-night. This is no small affair, when it is taken into account that the wells are producing about 250 barrels per day.—Let the good work go on. No producer will lose a cent during the year by shutting down on Sunday.—[Tidontic Journal.]

On Tuesday evening last, a special train, Jack Wheeler, engineer, containing General Superintendent Sweetzer and Division Superintendent Bradley, left Salamanca at 5 o'clock and arrived at Meadville at 7:20, traveling the whole distance, 102 miles, in two hours and twenty minutes, including two stoppages. This is the fastest time ever made on the Atlantic & Great Western Railroad.—[New Castle Courier.]

The Petroleum Producers' Agency bids fair to be a grand and successful scheme.—The sixteen districts embraced in the Pennsylvania oil territory have subscribed to the stock of the agency $1,037,600. The directors of the Titusville Savings Bank have subscribed $25,000, which is the largest amount yet subscribed by any of the banks.—Pittsburgh Mail.

Shipments of lumber from Puget's Sound for foreign ports will amount to 338,000,000 feet this year.

Iowa is in danger of losing the good reputation which she has earned in past years as an orderly and law abiding Commonwealth. More murders, it is said, have occurred in that State in the last few months than in a much longer period before. There is likely to be a clamor for the restoration of the death penalty when the Legislature meets again.

The leading homeopathic physician in Dublin has his Turkish bath in his own garden, so constructed as to accommodate both the family and the horses; and whether sick or well, the horses get their regular Turkish bath. Consequently, they never have the hippomanosia.

Turkey has recognized the right of literature by the enactment of a copy right law. The exclusive property is an original work, with the right of translation, is conferred on the author, his heirs or assigns, for forty years; for translations, the privilege to be for one half that period. All rights can be sold for the whole or any part of the term, and piracy of copyright will be punished by penal measures.

Thirty-seven vessels belonging to the United States were reported lost or missing during October. Their total value of cargoes, is estimated at $1,192,000.

Mrs. Hillwig, an ancient female, got into an altercation with one Duggan, all about a bowl of whiskey. Result—Mrs. Hillwig got not only "bounced" but severely beaten.

This is one of them disagreeable days that cause hot whiskey punches to be in active demand. We prefer ours "plain and straight."

Local matters are scarce. Not a horse to be seen on the streets. Smawley, the drayman, has had to come down to the aboriginal way of carting goods, in use before drays were discovered, that is, hauling them by hand on a truck.

Bronze studs and sleeve buttons, of antique design, are now fashionable for gentlemen.

The Six-Nation Indian, in Canada, recently held their fifth annual agricultural exhibition.

The total subscriptions to the Producers Agency stock in this District foots up $105,100. Only one other district, the Seventh, is ahead of us in amount of subscriptions.—Good enough.

Two of the ship's company of a British sloop-of-war recently swam across the Hellespont from Abydos to Lesos. The distance is about seven miles.

An inmate of the poor house, at Crown Point, Indiana, recently, having laid down in a field, from exhaustion, was attacked and partially devoured by dogs.

The New England fishing season has just closed. It has been moderately successful, and attended with fair loss of life and property throughout the year. The Cape Ann Advertiser says the mackerel catch has been very light, probably twenty-five thousand barrels less than last year; but the Bankers have been very successful, and the quantity of fish landed has been greatly in excess of any former year.

New South Wales is in urgent need of improved agricultural implements and labor saving machinery.

A man in Tennessee, accused of stealing a check for $216, and having it cashed, has been acquitted on a plea of insanity.

A lady of Marseilles, France, has sued her hairdresser for $400 damages, for dyeing her hair violet instead of red, as he promised.

The Californians are becoming anxious about their wheat crop, much of which is still in the open fields, and the rainy season is fast approaching.

Eighty-two dead Chinamen were recently shipped from Sacramento for burial in their native land.
