The personal explanation of Cel. J. A. Vera to the Producer's Association, at the regular meeting on Saturday night was thor ough, earnest, Lonest and sincere, convincing every one present that while the Col. has never been an aspirant to the position of Director of the Producer's Agency. he was actually compelled to come forward at the request of the heaviest stockholder and al low his name to be used in order to save the District from being "left out in the cold" when it is entitled to stand at the head of the list as true to the cause, and consequent ly to a representation in the Board of Directors, and without injustice to any other individual, we will say that the "heavy work" was to great part done by the Col. bimself in organizing this District and entitling it to a Director by its large subscripe The impression was abroad, and tions. seems to have been systematically circulated through the region, that we would put no man of our own forward. But as Col. Vera has now been unanimously [endorsed here, he is "spunky" enough to carry it through, if possible, and shoulder the labors and responsibilities of a Director, a position which, to use his own language, "would leduce any honorable man to so conduct himself; so put forth all the energy of which be is possessed; so bring to bear all the capabilities of mind and brain as to entitle him to the respect, and to merit the sommendation not only of ble own District but of the entire Oil Regions whose servant he would be.

There is a fluster of interest among the belies and beaux of Washington over the engagement of Mr. Fietcher Harper, Jr , or the firm of Harper Brothers, New York, and Miss Tracy McDonald, daughter of ex-Sens-ter McDonald of Arkaness, Preducer's Agency.

Now that extreme cold weather is upon us, it would be well for our citizens to take extra precentions against fire. Keep in mind the bistory of the past ecathings by fre our town has had and he warned.

Smawly, the well known livery man, has his stable open again, after a "shut down" of nearly thirty days on account of the episoulc. His horses have nearly all recovered their wonted health.

Eo for but one horse has sucenmbed to the epizootic in this vicinity. The Central Petroleum Company have one that it was thought yesterday would die.

To-day is a genuine winter day. The wind is cold and raw and a seat by a good warm fire, with a little of the good old stuff mixed hot, is far preferable to being out of

We note the arrival at Owen Gaffney's of Tem and Jerry, two distinguished gentlemen from Arkanses. Owen would be pleased to have his triends call on them.

Oil Creek is filled with floating ice.

The derricks, engine houses and rigs of the Cassino wells, in the Parker District, owned by our townsmen, Mesers. S. A. Woods and Frank Ripley, and Morehead of Parker's Landing, were destroyed by fire on Friday night last. The wells, we believe. were three in number. Loss quite heavy.

Lest evening we attended the Methodist Episcopal Church, and listened to a very able discourse from the newly appointed paster, Rev. Moore. Rev. M. has entered into the good work with a vim, and we are pleased to learn his ministrations is rapidly building up that society.

Our old friende, Clark & Pratt, well known publishers at Corry, have purchased the Corry Republican, and will hereafter lasue that journal. We beartly wish them success in their enterprise, and hope they may earn cords of greenbacks Friend Warner's horses are laid up with the epizootic, with the exception of see gray mare. He continues to haul coal with an ox team and the old white horse hitched up in front. An odd looking turnout, but very serviceable.

Reno, Nov. 15, 1872. The Franklin District Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, whose session closed at this place yesterday took the following action: Whereas, The result of "shutting down" oll wells for thirty days shows that they may be stopped for a time without material lojury, and Whereas, A surplus of oil is detrimental to its market, thus practically demonstraty ing that pumping ell on the Sabbata is not a necessity, and

Whereas, Both meral and civil law forbld all ordinary work on the Sabbath, there

Resolved, That pumping oil on Sunday is not only a financial errar, but a violation of both moral and civil law,

Resolved. That while we are highly pleased with the fact that many have shut down their wells on the Sabbath, we most carsestly and kindly entreat all, and especisly all professional Christians, by their regard for order, their respect for the civil law, and their love for Him who hath said "Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy," that they desist from pumping oil on that day.

Resolved. That this action be sent to the newspapers of this locality for publication. R. S. BORLAND, Secretary.

The lack of horses delayed the arrival of the steamers at the Boston fire and seriously impaired the effectiveness of the department In Cincinnati arrangements have been made for organizing a force of men to draw the machines to the fire, they to be paid for their services.

Ten thousand girls are reported thrown out of employment by the Boston fire. But before lying down to sleep on the night after the fire, the ladies of Boston congregated at "Beffia's Bower," famous as a place where women devise practicle measures for belping women, and the machinery for securing employment and subsistence for the unemployed girls was set in motion at once.

The Rev. Robert Collyer, of Chicago, made a tender allusion to "gin mills," the other day, saying be wished that "all whisky shops were down in helt, chained up in the bottomless pit fer a thousand years, and a new chain ready for them at the expiration of that time."

The Detroit Free Press is responsible for the following: "Just before leaving Chicago, Monday evening, the engineer of the express train discovered a large dog neated underneath the headlight, and so the animai refused to get down he was allowed to remain, and be came through to Detroit yes terday morning sale and sound, having jumped off at Jackson, stretched his legs, and taken his place agein "

When Chicago crouched dazed and terror stricken in the sekes of what had been its business palaces and happy homes, Boston hurried to its assistance and cemters. Now that Boston is stricken, though in less degree. Chicago remembers the kindness and is among the first to tender generous aid .-Surely a good deed to never lost.

That clergyman out in Indianapolis who, while preaching his sermon one Sanday evening, perceived a young man and round woman under the gallery in the act of klear ing each other behind a byma book, did not lose his temper. He did not fly into an unseemly rage, and call upon the sexten to rnsh up the siele and disband the rieters .-No! He remained calm. He beamed mildly at the offenders over his spectacles, and when the young man kissed her the filteenth time, he merely broke his sermon short off in the middle of "thirdly," and offered a fervent prayer in behalf of the "young man in the pink secktie, and the maiden in the blue bonnet and gray shawl, whe were profauing the ranctuary by kissing one another in pew Ne. 68." And the congregation said "Amen!" Then the young woman suddenly pulled her veil down, and the young man out there and swore softly to himself .-He does not go to church as much now as be did.

Dr. Peterman, the eminent geographer of Goths, Germany, has received intelligence from Hammerlest (Nerway), bearing date August 24, of the successful progress of one of the outstanding Polar expeditions, commanded by Captain Altmann. This is the first tidings that has reached us of any of the Arctic fleet of explorers, and contains some interesting facts. Captain Altmans found that this year the coast of Spitzbergen has been remarkably free from ice and safe for navigation, which is highly encouraging for the results of the various ships now seeking to penetrate to high latitudes in the ley ocean. This officer also rediscovered and landed upon King Care's Land, which had been sighted, but never before visited by any expedition. Captain Altmann found that it consisted of three large and many small islands, lying in the throat of the Polar stream that pours around Spitzberges. The observations now taken differ materially from those heretofore published by the Swedes. It is not improbable that the drift' ice this year will be found in large quantities, but, it would seem, not in formidable proportions, and almost all the exploring vessels now in the high north are prepared to rough it among the worst seas of los .-Dr. Petermaun, in a circular dated Goths, September 2 (present), takes this Intelligence as confirmatory of the theory of the ice and carrent conditions on which the outstanding Austrian expedition and others have been projected.

The Washington Capital says one charming little practice of journalistic pen drivers in Washington is to invent romances when racis are searce, with which to startle the country. Two of these are now in active circulation through the rural press. One marries a poor drug clerk to a widow lady seed of millions; the other makes the daughter of aristocratic perents fall in love with a Comanche Indian. There was a cierk is a drug store who married with a charming widow, but the wealth is imagined; while the only foundation for the Indian romance is the admiration expressed by a oblef for the pile of hair on the head of ene of our belies.
