Flowing.—Intelligence received this forenoon from the well on the John Ware farm, Jackson township, owned by Capt. Smith of this place, a report of which appeared in the Record of Saturday, state it to be flowing. Tubing was finished yesterday and the well immediately commenced flowing oil in large quantities. As a matter of course much excitement has been occasioned by this strike, and a new oil excitement will undoubtedly be the result.

The property in the vicinity is largely owned by Petroleum Centre men, and much benefit will undoubtedly accrue to the town therefrom.

Give us the up-Creek region after all.— It lays a good way over the deep territory of the down river region. It don't cost half as much to sink a well, and then you don't run the chance of getting "hard up since your well run dry," and of having "no more clumps to buy your gin." Shallow territory is the best by far.

POOL AGENCY 9TH DIST.
At a regular meeting of the producers of the 9th District, at Rynd Farm, last Saturday, it was unanimously resolved to pool oil at $4.60, and Mr. R. Richardson, of Tarr Farm, was elected and duly notified to act as our agent. Persons having oil to sell will find it to their advantage to sell thro' the pool. Each lot of oil is sold in regular lots.

By order of the President, J. B. PAINTER, Sec. pro tem.
Rynd Farm, Nov. 18, 1872.

There is over half a million dollars' worth of pig iron along the Shenango valley, ready for shipment, but held by the manufacturers for better prices we suppose. It is now $36 per ton.

Community was suddenly shocked yesterday by the announcement of the death of Geo. Magrane, Esq., one of our oldest and most respected citizens, which took place at his home on the Upper Boyd Farm, yesterday forenoon. Mr. M. moved to Petroleum Centre from the city of Rochester in the year 1865, and engaged in the boot and shoe trade which he followed up to the time of his death. An honorable dealer and a man of the most generous impulses of head and heart, far too much so for his own good, we do not believe he had an enemy in the world, or ever knowingly done an injury to any man. He may have had faults, but who is there exempt. Bury them with him and only remember the many good qualities of which he was possessed.

"Close his eyes—his work is done; What to him is friend or foe man, Rise of moon or set of sun, Head of man, or kiss of woman?
Lay him low, lay him low,
In the clover or the snow;
What cares he? He cannot know:
Lay him low.

"Leave him to God's watching eye, Trust him to the Hand that made him; Mortal love weeps idly by—God alone has power to save;
Lay him low, lay him low,
In the clover or the snow;
What cares he? He cannot know;
Lay him low.

He leaves a wife and five children, the youngest of whom is only three days old.— The sympathies of the entire community are with the family in their sad affliction.

Deceased was 44 years of age last April.

The Producers' Council meet at Oil City, to-day, for the purpose of receiving reports from the directors of local associations and the transaction of other important business.
The subscription books to the capital stock of the agency were closed on Saturday last, and the directors of the local associations notified to collect the ten per cent. to be paid at the time of subscribing. This ten per cent must be paid in before an Election of Directors can be ordered. In the mean time each district has nominated thirteen directors, and the collection of this per centage is the only necessary preliminary to the election and the Agency commencing business at once.

In this District the ten per cent. has been paid in, and all that is needed is for the other Districts to "come up to the scratch" and we shall soon have the Agency in working order.

With our representative, Col. Vera, as a member of the Board of Directors, and like good men from the other Districts, we feel perfectly safe in saying "the dawn of redemption draws nigh." Redemption from the ravenous clutches of beasts of prey like the So. Imp. Co. or Reiner's Com. Let the good work go on.

The following patents have been issued:
Compound and Apparatus for the removal

A booted individual found his way into the McClintock House parlor, this afternoon and laid down for a snooze. He got bounced and upon landing in the street, like the Indian imagined he "weighed a ton" and squared off to whip the universe in general and the McClintock House in particular.— His "dream of glory in the roped arena" was brought to an abrupt termination by officer MaHugh, who marched him to the lock up.

The one-legged soldier, hand organ accompaniment, arrived in town this forenoon.
Either the weather was too cold outwardly or the benzine too warm inwardly, as to preclude the playing of the old familiar tunes. Probably the latter cause.

The Oil City Telegraph publishes several sensation items purporting to have occurred in this place. May be they did. If so, no one about here has any knowledge of them.
Even the parties themselves know nothing about having been interested therein.

District Attorney Smith and County Treasurer Riddle, of Franklin, were in town to-day.

The epizootic is gradually disappearing from this vicinity.

A large number of sympathizing friends followed the remains of the departed, Geo.
Magrane, to their last resting place. The funeral took place at 11 o'clock this forenoon.
The remains were buried in the cemetery on the hill back of the churches. Peace to his ashes.

In a short time Petrolia City will be incorporated, and then out of chaos will come order and arrangement.

are putting up a wire between Parke's Landing and Butler. The line is completed to Millerstown.

MEETING OF THE 9TH DIST.

Persuant to a call of the President the members of the P. P. A. of the 9th district met at their rooms on the Rynd farm last Saturday, A. G. Oliver in the chair.

On motion of Mr. Walmer, J. B. Painter was elected Sec. pro tem.

The chair then stated the object of the meeting to be the nomination of thirteen Directors in accordance with the plan of the P. P. Agency, and ordered the reading of the ticket as adopted at a preliminary meeting of the 7th Dist.

Mr. McLaughlin moved to proceed to the nomination of Directors. Carried.

Considerable discussion arose at this juncture as to the mode of voting. Mr. Perdue insisting on each member voting according to his stock, and made a motion to that effect, but after considerable debate the motion was lost.

On motion of Mr. Walmer, Capt. Henry Byrom was nominated for the 9th District and unanimously elected.

Mr. Fisher moved to take up the 1st Dist. and proceed in regular order. Carried.

A general discussion arose here as to the fairness of our nominating men for the other districts, and it was finally agreed, inasmuch as these men were recommended by the several districts to nominate the balance of the ticket as presented by the 7th district, which were as follows:

- |               |               |
|---------------|---------------|
| A L Campbell, | B B Campbell, |
| Wm Thompson,  | M E Hess,     |
| F W Mitchell, | C V Culver,   |
| Wm Hasson,    | W S McMullen, |
| S Q Brown,    | N F Hilton,   | | J L Grandin,  | E E Ciapp.    |

Mr. Powers moved that we meet this week and consider the action of other Districts and then conform our ticket to the wishes of other districts as near as possible. Carried.

Mr. Perdue moved to instruct the Council that Henry Byrom had been unanimously nominated for Director of the 9th district, and that we recommend the other twelve.— Lost.

Moved to allow Mr. Byrom to take his instructions from the minutes.

Adjourned to meet at the call of the President.

Rynd Farm, Nov. 18, 1872.

ABDUCTION OF A BOY.—A most heartrending case of abduction occurred here on Sunday morning. About two weeks ago a rough looking individual named McBride who is apparently about 35 or 40 years of age, returned to his father who lives in this city, from Tennessee, where he pretended to be doing a fine peddling business. During his sojourn in Oil City he spent his time in carousing and night brawls, and as his money was becoming scarce he determined to return to Tennessee, where he said he could easily supply himself with plenty of money without having to work hard either. But before he went he was determined to take a young lad named Hennessy along with him, so he told young Hennessy some tall stories of the riches which awaited them when he got to old Tennessee, which so dazzled the boy that he consented to go along; contrary to the advice of his playmate, so that on Sunday morning McBride and young Hennessy set off on their long voyage in a canoe on the Allegheny river. Young Hennessy's mother, who is a widow, is almost crazy at the loss of her son who is now about 15 years old and was always considered a bright and intelligent lad. This poor woman had a sore affliction a few years ago in the loss of her husband who was killed on the railroad, since which time she has been supporting her family by keeping the offices and waiting rooms of the railroad companies at the depot. In her new trouble she has applied to deputy Mayor Boyce to endeavor by some means to bring back her boy. The man Mc-Bride is about five feet nine inches and is very spare and dark looking in countenance he wears a white hat and coat after the Greeley fashion and perhaps may go further west.—[Oil City Telegraph.

ville, South Carolina, was destroyed by fire Sunday. Loss $50,000; partly insured.

banks of the Susquehanna, in Pennsylvania, by thousands, from an epidemic disease.

The Boyer No. 2, McClymond's farm, struck a heavy vein of gas in the second sand last week, which took fire soon after.
The derrick was saved only by the utmost exertion. The amount of gas sufficient to make steam for drilling, with to spare, something strange for second sand.

A watch is on exhibition in New Orleans

Louisville junk shop.

The horse disease has been so thoroughly disposed of in prose, that one of the staff of the Boston Bulletin has attacked it poeti-cally, with the following result, which he terms "Hors du Combat":

Upon my soul I've walked so much, Since horses have been hoarse, I feel like some pedestrian sport In tramping on the course.

I've worn my boots to sandals,
The sand's all in my feet;
My calves won't work if oxen do,
For horses on the street.

Such "pilgrim's progress as this is,
Makes each man "huculosa" hate;
And though a strict teetotaler, He's corbed in spite of fate.

Forgotten now is horsemanship And driving's a lost art, Hotels can't furnish carriages; They've nothing but the carts.

The price of leather's going up At a most fearful rate,
And every cow hides, quivering, Least shafts should be her fate.

No car 'os now will carry us, Urged on by drivers' whacks: Oh! for the wings Icarus had,
Although they went by wax!

Then let us hope that horses may Be freed from present woes,
And running on their feet again, Instead of at the nose.

A precocious youth of Altoona, Pa., having surreptitiously obtained a package of powder and a cigar stump, the other evening, soon realized the fact that the way of the transgressor is hard. While smoking the cigar stump he saw his mother coming towards him, and at once slid the cigar into the pocket containing the powder. His band, the cigar and the powder got out of that pocket "quicker'n a blaze," and the youthful hero is now sorely "bottled up" for a few days' rest at home. This Altoona boy was thoughtful beyond his years. Realizing that he had no right to be smoking, he provided the means to blow himself up, and thus saved his mother that trouble. How few children are thus careful to keep unnecessary care from their parents. And when we remember how much anxiety in the tender years of infancy, &c., &c.

The patient ox has put in an appearance at Pittsburgh, and the Smoky City people folligate themselves upon its arrival. Iron should be cheap enough in Pittsburgh to furnish each ox with a set of shoes, and unless this is done the "horned horse" will soon go limping out of town.

IN OFFICE.—A. M. Turner, Esq., county Commissioner elect, assumed the duties of that position on Tuesday, J. Y. Siggins, Esq., retiring. Mr. Siggins has made a faithful official, carefully guarding the interests of the people, and is worthy of the high regard in which he is held by his fellow citizens. Mr. Turner is a careful business man and will make a good Commissioner.—
