Mr. B. M. Geary, a resident of the Skinner Farm, furnishes us with the facts of a very roundalous affair which occurred at Pioneer a few mornings since, and which if true, and he vouches for their truth, ought to result in the kicking out of decent socie- 600 feet, were found to be only slightly bent

Some even of our oil producing readers may not be sware of the entire prospect of competition in their pecultar product opened up in the iste French and present German province of Elsass. A German paper, the Arbeitgeber, states that the discovery of petroleum in that region bas been %sown for a considerable time, and that a small beginning in the development of the sources has been made in Schattweil, near the forest of Hagenau. Peastrating a thick aliuvial stratum, clay, sandstone and sand veins are met with. These latter oppear to contain the petroleum, which is found at the 'depth of from a bundred fand fifty to a bundred and sixty feet. Further explorations in the Hagenau forest led to the discovery of other sources; boring in various places have ing every where disclosed sand mosked with petroleum. Though the working of these sources is vet little more than begun, enough has been discovered to render it probable that the business may grow into an Important industry. According: to the authority referred to above, the method of operation is as follows: A shaft is run down to the sand-stratum which contains the eil, and galleries are then opened as in a coal mine. The oil flows out of the sand into reservoire, from which it is conveyed to the surface. In this manner, bowever, all the oil contained in the sand is not secured; the sund is therefore taken into the upper sir where it is distilled in retorts. The crude oil as it flows from the sides of the galleries and that which is distilled from the sand, are both subjected to another process of distilation by which the article is rectified. It is affirmed that the oil thus procured in Elease is fully equal in excellence to the American product. The oily sand exists in great quantities, and an English chemist who has visited the site and made the pecessary investigations, goour-ages the liveliest hopes of the sources of the petroleum bueinese there.

The following resolutions were adopted by the lumber dealers at Parkers Landing: Resolved, That we recognize in the oil districts, one of the chief productive cause, of Suancial depression in all business circles-Resolved, That it is the especial aim of the association to reduce the retail lumbe, trade to a cash basis as soon as possible

Resolved, That all customers failing to make payment on the first of January, 1873, and on the fast of each month following, bstruck from our list of creditors in any cesiage thereafter.

Resolved. That each member of this association be required to pay into the treasury the sum of five dollars, to defray any present expenses. Resolved, That a copy of the proceedings of this meeting be sent for publication to al the leading papers in the oil districts.

The San Francisco Call relates the follow ing:

The champion drinker of this city is colored man named Eph. who lives on the "Barbary Coast." About noon on the 10th instant he went into sestoan on the "Coast." called for and was served with the following called for and was served with the following amount of liquor, which he made into punch: Braady, 3 pints; whikey, 3 pints; rum, 2 pints; gin, 4 pints; bitters, 1 pint; water, 1 pint; sugar, (liquid measure) 1 pt. Total, 15 pints, or one gailon and seven eightes This hemixed and drank in a period of an hour, and went home. At midnight be was still alive.

Messrs. Jam Caruthers, the well known contractor, Jas. Samuels, and Bracken, are the fortunate owners of a 96/barrel well on the Frontzinger Farm, located about half way between Parker's Landing and Petrolia, struck about two weeks ago. We cogratulate Messrs. Caruthers and Samuels on their good fortune.

On the Death of a Jackass

An aged jackass, for many years an bon ered resident of Bucyras, O., baving such cumbed to the prevalent disease and gone to that country from whose borne no jackass returns, the Basyrus Journal offers this truly affecting tribute:

In memory of Alcora's Jack, who died of Epizeots, Friday, November 22, 1873, In the 4th year of his uge. Wherever he was known, the most experienced horeeman wondered what he was fit for. When he was seized with Epizoots, his master. entertaining the popular error then a Jackass never dies, let him alone severely. When too late, he received every attention soat sell-interest could offer, and intelligence prescribe, but he died. a vistim of misplaced confidence in his supposed immorality. As a musicias, he often attracted much attention. Of great promise but small performance, faishful to bis nature and firm to fault, A representative of his class, he was every inch a lackass. Bis death solved the couundrum of his life what was he fit for by teaching his sarvivors the great moral lesson, even jackasses die.

Buffalo, Corry and Pictsburgh Ral road.

The sale of the above road to the O Creek and Alleghony River Railroad Co., fves for the first time a proper faiguificane. to its title. The road, more familiarly known as the Cross-Cut extends from Corry to Broctes, forming's connection there with the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railroad. It is stated that Colonel Phillips of the Oll Creek and Allegheny road, has been endeavoring for some time to effect the purchase, with view of forming a direct connection with Baffato, by building a new line from the Lake Ridge, a short distance this side of Prospect station, via Fredonia Forestville; and it is thought this project will be consumated by the ensuing midsammer. It is represented that the new Buffalo and Jamestown Railroad, which is on the same line with the proposed Cross-Cut extension, will be merged in the same enterprise. This line, when completed, will form the most direct route between Buffalo and Pilisburgh, shortening the present distance by rail about 26 miles Whilst the oil producers and refiners have outting their beads together to devise schemes for more completely monopolizing the oil trade and enhancing prices, a new and unlooked for factor threatens to disturb the calculation. Letters from ""Creekers" who went to Peru report a big oil field in that country, with a two bundred barrel flowing well, oil five dollars per barrel at the wells, boring shallow, living cheap, and district bealiky. Are the Peruvians to be taken into the Producers' Association ?

The death of the King of the Sandah Islands, Kamehameha, and the fact thate left no beir to the throne, has renewed slation of the subject of annexation of the islands to the United States. The late kit. influenced by the English and French re desis, was strongly opposed to annexation the United States when it was proport years ago, and indeed the influence of British and French ministers had all too wth the slare of he preject. Of Je years the Americans have been grawings strength and importance on the Isiars, and the subject of annexation has great with their growth. It is said that if ar government would indicate its please relative to annegation, the authorities ad people of the Islands would no doubt eclare in favor of it.

WHAT WE WANT .- So loog as there is one fourth more oll produced than he market demands, the price of oil cannobe frmiy established, because the basis is to . stable. The members of the Producers' ar sociation, with others, but them more particularly, are operating to an extent fir beyend their means, and rushing forward to increase the production, in the expectation of oil being firmly established at four dol/ lars. There has never, perhaps, been so many wells commensed within so short a time as sloce the thirty day movement --Especially in the Fairview district is this the case. The operators there have proved themselves, if not foois, at least musumaby iacs on the subject of operating, and will belonging to the Producers' Association, are yet its greatest enomies. Their gread bas taken away their sense, and their judge ment "bas departed from them." The only way by which the difficulty can be ore,come is to stop operating," but to cess, as that word is meaningles. Let "operations be totally suspended. Oit must thenimprove, and that improvoment be heality. [Petersburg Progress.

The Emperium Press of the 19th says Last Thursday evening cur town was thrown into considerable excitement, by the ramer that a well on the Portage bad commenced flowing. All the livery teams were brought into requisition and nearly everybody started for home Oilderado, but they didu't find expretations fully reatized. There had been a cousiderable flow of uil, but it had ceased in consequence of the large body of water in the tubing. Soon as the water exhausted a good paying well is expected that two highly respectable young ladies, nieces of Mr. Geary's wife, started from his bouse on the morning in question for Pioneer, one of whom intended to take the early morning train for Rockester, the other going down to keep her company. They arrived at the station about fitzen minutes before the train arrived and before the station house was opened. Upon the arrival of the agent, they went inside the house and sat down by the fire, when according to their statements, the aforesaid individual came out of the office and under/ took to taie undue liberties with the person of one of them and grossly insuited both of them, and was only compelled to desist when one of them got her temper up and threatened to split his head open with as axe which lay near by. When the train arrived one of them went away and the other one went back bems and related to ber uncle, Mr. Geary, what had occurred. If the facts are as stated, and we have to reason to doubt Mr. Geary's word, an sample should be made of an individual, whoywhen pisced in a public position gand as a servant of the public, so fur forgets himself as to insult defenceises women.
