Foster, the ear book murderer of Mr. Putnam is to be hanged. His case has been carried up to the highest court in New York and the judgement of the convicting court affirmed. So it seems "hanging is not played out" in New York City. Still murdering goes on, and they have a Sunday keeping class of murderers in that city.—On last Sunday a gambler named Magruder "picked" a quarrel with a young man named Lockwood, in their boarding house parlor in Madison street. Magruder told Lockwood that, it being Sunday, he would not kill him, but the next day he would shoot him down like a dog. And so he did; going up to Lockwood's room about six o'clock in the afternoon, he shot him through the body, and went down into the dining room and took his cup of tea as coolly as if he had merely killed a dog. It is said Magruder is a relative of the Confederate General of that name, and it would seem this murderer brought his Southern ideas with him, for when at the station house he justified his action by saying, "Out-riders may not think as I do, but I feel justified in shooting him. He slapped me in the face, and then with a theatrical air told me to get satisfaction. I told him that I would go to go fixed, as I would shoot him on sight. I kept my word. It is not my fault that he did not have a pistol with him. I told him to have one. I went for satisfaction."

The Sharon Times says: The miners in this valley are all at work, and from present appearances the old business prosperity will be resumed before a great while. The furnace will soon blow in, and the depression in business will no doubt be removed.

OIL AT LAST.

It is already known to most of our readers that Capt. A. Dingley has been prospecting for oil, near Warren, for the last two years. His farm is located 2 1/2 miles below Warren, and one mile back from the river, up a little stream called Sullivan Run. The present well is the fourth one. In all the others there have been indications of oil, and in one oil in fact, but not sufficient to warrant a thorough test. The Captain has been subjected to all manner of hindrances from the beginning, no one scarcely but himself boistering by had oil territory. But he has persevered. The present well was torpedoed on Monday, and the pump put to work. For some hours there was but a small quantity visible, but on Tuesday the well began to yield quite a flow of excellent oil. The men report a yield at present of from five to ten barrels per day, and increasing.

A married woman on the stage exercises less magnetism over an audience than a single woman does; the fact that she belongs to another, that her brightest glances, sweetest smiles, and most musical tones are for him, unconsciously diminishes her influence. What were called "Niisson" watches formerly had a great sale in Paris, but since the Swedish cantatrice took a husband their demand has so sensibly diminished that the proprietor has been compelled to change their name.

Greenville talks of erecting a new school building on the west side.

A. Miner Griswold, the "Fat Contributor" will deliver his lecture "Injun Meal," at Mercer on the evening of January 25th.

The question of "going West" is rather significant, if the price current of an Iowa paper can be relied on. Who would sell out and go west, when a pair of winter boots cost two loads of potatoes; a night's lodging, a load of oats; the wife wears five acres of wheat; the children each ten acres of corn; the price of an overcoat is a good four year old steer; of a Sunday suit, twenty fat hogs, and when a farm wears a mortgage that is worse than hard pan to the soul, and the annual tax rots the roof faster than rain.

Thomas Paden, aged nineteen, was killed by a falling tree in Delaware township, Mercer county on the 11th inst.

Nettie Whaley, aged six years, daughter of John Whaley, of Mercer, was burned to death on the 9th inst. her clothes catching fire while she was standing in front of an open stove.

The weather remains cold and cheerless at present. We have accounts from different sections of the country which give fearful sketches of suffering on the part of the inhabitants.

Warren rejoices in a Dramatic Association, the treasurer of which was one Wm. Bailey William, in addition to having a taste for the drama, was also a shoemaker. On Monday night the Association played Rip Van Winkle, Mr. Carner, of Sherry theatrical fame, playing Rip, and Bailey, very appropriately, as the sequel showed, taking the character of Hendrick Von Beekman, a miser and a scoundrel. He played it well; but he played it better the next day after, when he gathered up hisawl, his wax-end, and sled, without returning to the Association the proceeds of the entertainment, which had been entrusted to him keeping

We received a call this afternoon from our old friend and wife, Mr. W. W. Bailey of Titusville. Mr. Bailey is engaged as traveling agent for the well known cigar house of F. D. Hamilton of that city. The cigars sold by Hamilton are as good as the market affords. Having tried them we know whereof we speak.

At LAST.—Cohen, a well known character about town, by his indiscriminate abuse received a welt over the eye, this afternoon, that quieted him for the time being. Give your friends credit, Cohen, for this one and possibly more of the same kind if you keep on in the same abusive strain.

The new invention for utilizing petroleum for burning purposes at the wells, is being put under the boiler at the Bird well, Egbert farm. It was expected to be in operation this afternoon.

New wells continue to be struck daily in the down river region.

A new refinery has been erected at the mouth of Dennis Run, near Tidoute.

The Oil City Derrick is mistaken in making the statement that we claimed the party who recently made night hideous in that city were from Petroleum Centre. No such claim was made, and no such people reside hereabouts.

Seven wells on the Wilson farm, between Petrolia and Fairview, are doing 1,100 bbls per day.

A LITTLE MAID.

A misnamed Little was in love With one whose name was Long; A swain called Mann once vainly strove To win that love so strong.

"My cake," he mourned, "I fear it is dough," And hummed the Little song; "Mann wants but Little here below, Nor wants that Little Long."

"Now be a Little maid, I say," She answered to his song. "But no'er could be a Little Mann. With my true Love a Long."

He cried in an un-Mannly way, "Why should I suffer Long? I'll stretch my neck this very day With this stout leather thong."

No more at present we'll unfold; Although 'twould not be wrong, I'd would change that Little we have told And make it out as Long.

Bloody Run, Pennsylvania, has been transferred into Everett City.

A gentleman near Vineland, Wis., entered an orchard to steal some apples, while his friend, who sat on the fence and remunerated, fell off and broke his neck. There appears to be in this incident a useful lesson for the young.

Somebody enclosed a copy of the Record in a wrapper and sent it through the post office to Mr. A. Smawley, after he had stopped the paper. Mr. S. called on us this afternoon to know if it was done by us.—No, sir!

What a kasek royalism has at making its selfridiculous! At Chiselhurst, the "Prince Imperial," although he is not a Prince and not Imperial, he is now addressed by all Bunkeys as "Sire!"

Some old army buttons, used as playthings by a baby in Iowa, proved to be hollow, with a five dollar greenback folded in each. Now, how many old army buttons will go unopened?

It is stated that a general reduction of telegraph rates will be inaugurated shortly by all the companies.

The island of San Juan and the other small adjacent islands that have been in dispute between this country and Great Britain are now jurisdictionally attached to Washington Territory.

The first conviction under the new Illinois liquor law has just been secured. A saloon keeper was indicted on two counts; one for selling liquor to a person while intoxicated, and the other for selling liquor to an habitual drunkard. After an animated contest the defendant was found guilty on both counts.

The Virginia Legislature has passed an act making it a misdemeanor, punished by fine and imprisonment, to pay, or to be paid for procuring the passing or defeat of a bill before the Legislature. This example might be copied with advantage in most other States.
