GRAND LARCENY.—About two weeks ago Mr. J. K. Johnson, a well known oil well contractor residing on the upper Boyd Farm, missed a valuable set of tools from the vicinity of the house of the late John Walters. After looking round awhile he traced up the tools and found them at the junk store of H. H. Warner, and also discovered who had disposed of them. Yesterday, he appeared before Justice Reynolds, and made information charging two men named Oscar Pardoe, with feloniously taking, stealing and carrying away from said Johnson, tools to the amount of $135.
The same day the defendants were arrested by deputy constable Burns and Justice Reynolds. The case was tried and Pardoe pleaded guilty and Foster not guilty. After a hearing both defendants were bound over in the sum of $400 each for an appearance at Franklin at the April term of quarter sessions. In default of bail they were taken down last night.

It appeared from the evidence that the tools were taken from the place designated by either one or both of the parties, and conveyed to the old freight depot on the Boyd Farm, and from thence conveyed by team to where found.

For some time past there appears to have been an organized system of petty plunder, and these arrests will undoubtedly result in putting a quietus to the "little stealing arrangements."

A mule fell through a defective bridge in St. Louis, last week, and after being suspended by the neck and legs for about half an hour, was extracted and found to be only slightly injured.

There are 236 papers published in Switzerland.

THE EXECUTION AT BUFFALO ON FRIDAY.— Governor Dix, having been petitioned to interfere in the case of John Gaffney, sentenced to be hung at Buffalo on Friday of this week, and commute his sentence to imprisonment for life, replied to the petitions in the following well timed words of denial:

"I can find no justification for defeating the execution of the law by interposition of my authority, and if the impression of my purpose in similar cases will have the effect of deterring evil minded persons from committing this highest of crimes, I am willing to have it understood that circumstances of very extraordinary nature will be needed to induce me to interpose for the purpose of annulling the deliberate and well considered determinations of the jury and courts.
The unfortunate man formerly lived in this place and was quite well known to those residing at the upper end of town.

For a good drink of old Monongahela Rye; a fragrant Cigar, or a fresh glass of Ale, call on Owen Gaffney, at his Parlor Liquor Store, on the corner of Washington and First streets. Look around you while there, and you will see the neatest, cleanest and nobbiest bar and sample room this side of New York city. Metropolitan in style, but democratic in the treatment of their guests. You will find Owen there doing the agreeable and always ready to give you the right hand of good fellowship, while Billy Pugh, the neatest of the neat, and champion mixer of drinks, will do the agreeable and never lose his temper. For "Sunday Comfort," or "Gaffney's Best," or Billy's "Anti-head Ache Mixture," call at the "Humming Bird Saloon"—for "we know how it is ourself."

John Moroney, of Cherrytree, came to town one day last week, tied his horse short to a telegraph pole for stinks oats, and went up town to see the sights. He danced all night till broad daylight, and got caught by a girl in the morning. He fell in with one Mag. Smith, alias "ilthy Meg," alias "nasty Mag," alias "the founder of gobier," where he says he lost his money. Young man, you should beware of the glare of the "red light" and of wine and women.
There was a boy come to town, Upon a little pony;
He lost his money at Mag Smith's,
And his name was John Moroney.

Mr. Cal McCoolle, of St. Petersburg, informs us that a daring robbery occurred at Emlenton, night before last. At some hour in the night, Ross' boot and shoe store and Rubert's tailor shop, were broken into and upwards of $2,000 worth of goods loaded up in some kind of conveyance and carried off. Subsequently it was discovered that the team had been stolen at Petersburg. It was traced to the top of the hill at Foxburg, where the top of a sewing machine a part of the stolen property, was found.— Here all traces were lost.

Another fearful nitro-glycerine accident is reported this morning. Andrew Dalrymple and wife, residing near Dennis Run, Tidoute, were blown up by a torpedo and shockingly mutilated. An infant child of theirs was also shockingly injured and will undoubtedly die. The accident is supposed to have resulted from carelessness. Next!

The party at the Oil Exchange Hotel, last evening, was a very pleasant affair.— Dancing was kept up to a late hour.

POCKET PICKING.—A young woman named Mary Holeman, had her pocket picked of $43 in greenbacks, in a saloon up town last evening. She claims to know the parties who took the money, but so far no arrests have been made.

Erie has the champion saloon, in which the sideboard is graced by two human skulls and the usual bar ornaments. The proprietor uses these as arguments to point moral lectures to the frequenters of his gin mill. Which is a good deal like the old Scotchman who opened his saloon with prayer and then watered his whiskey and set out the dice.

"Pike's Peak or bust," has been changed by some oil operator on the hill. He put on his derrick, during the shutting down movement, "$5,000 oil or bust." At the Sheriff's sale the other day, he wrote underneath, "bust."
[Tidoute Journal.]

Uncle Sam has been enough to give us all a sting! There are two million bee hives in the United States. Every hive yields on an average a little over twenty-two pounds of honey. The average price at which honey is sold is twenty-five cents a pound. So that after paying for their own board, our bees present us with a revenue of over $2, 800,000.

A Bidgeport, Connecticut, man who feared the small-pox refused to receive a telegraphic dispatch the other day because it came from Boston.

WEEKLY OIL REPORT.—The new well of P Taylor, south of 12th line, and east of the Mitchell homestead, was finished early in the last week, with fair prospect. The new well of Reynolds, Johnstone and Mc-Garvey, located upon the company's four acres, has had a good show at 400 feet.— The property of the company is situated upon the Webster territory, north of the 12th line. Moncalvo No. 3, New Dominion territory, has been tested and is expected to be a first class well. Rosenberg and Mc-Garvey are preparing for their New Dominion No. 4. The new Western well, Case property, south east corner, is drilling in lower rock. Mr. McMillan is as usual busy upon his territory. Kennedy and Jeffrey are arranging for a new well, west of their No. 1. Nothing decisive about Col. Shoemaker's two new wells. The Perkins, Cooley and Misner well drilling in lower lower rock. Mr. Murray having bought a first class rig complete, Live Oak No. 1, has removed it to his property, Durham Creek, and proposes putting down at once a well a little to the west of his old one, which continues to pump liberally. A few other wells are about to start south of the village.
The new Lacey well is reported improve-ing.

The Dunlop and Polley well, Chalmers property, near Sarnis line, is pumping with fair prospect. Mr. Widdis has a rig up upon his farm, west of Holmes farm.

Peters' Musical Monthly, No. 66, for February, comes promptly to hand, and is, as usual, overflowing with melody. This magazine is furnished at the low price of $3 per year, and contains more music in a single monthly number than can be bought in sheet for double that sum. The number before us contains: "Our Little Pet," a beautiful ballad by the famous song writer, Will S. Hays; also, "Gone to the Heavenly Garden," Mattie May, and "Give my Love to all at Home;" Twopart Songs, "Fold we our Hands in Prayer" and "Far from my Thoughts." Together with the following instrumental pieces: "Clear the Track," four bands, by Ed. Strauss; "Christmas Gift March," "Sweet Thoughts," and "Silver Cloud Mazurka."

As a Trial Trip, the Publisher offers to send, post paid, three back numbers of 1872 for 60 cents, or six back numbers for $1—Send on your orders, and our word for it, you will get ten times your money's worth of choice music. Address, J. L. Peters, 550 Broadway, New York.

A magician now performing in Buffalo is out with a new trick. It is called the "decapitation scene," in which the Professor cuts a man's head off with a sword. This remarkable operation is performed in about seven minutes, during which time the head is completely severed from the body, passed about in the audience and then replaced.
The man who consents to have his head thus cut off is laid upon the table with his face downward, his arms placed on his back and his eyes blind folded. The Professor then makes a number of gestures before committing the act, when he seizes a large sword and cuts the head clean off, after which it is placed on a plate and shown to the audience. The people are permitted to touch the head, and those who laid hands on it last night were astonished to find the flesh and hair real. The trick is certainly a curious one.

A lad whose name is Hunter, employed at the depot as telegraph messenger, while on his way to deliver a message was delayed by a passing train, and stepped on a side track while it passed. A shifting engine coming up struck and knocked him down.— He fell at right angles with the rails, but was short enough to just fit the width of the track without touching the iron. In this position he was rolled over and over like a log, and when the engine passed he was still in motion. When released he jumped up and commenced a series of bewildering gymnastics, evidently out of his mind. He was caught and examined, but his wounds were found to be very slight. One cut on the head and severe scratches on the face comprised them all.—[Dispatch.]

The "Green Well No. 2," Sage Run, two miles north of this city, which was struck last week was tubed day before yesterday.
While the tubing was being put in the well ceased flowing. On Monday the pump was started, and as soon as the head was pumped off she commenced flowing again.

From 3 o'clock p. m. Tuesday to the same time yesterday it nearly filled two hundred and fifty barrel tanks. The station agent of the pipe line reported last night that she is producing at least 400 barrel, per day.—[Derrick.]

At a public meeting to a medical college in New York, the other evening the President of the institution "kindly furnished a dissecting table for the use of the reporters." It must have had an inspiring effect on those enthusiastic young gentlemen.
Florida has had a snow storm.

The number of children put to hard work under the age of ten in New York is said to have become appalling, increasing, as it has done, rapidly during the last ten years, with the rise since the war in prices of both labor and the means of supporting life.

have started a newspaper at Cleveland on their own hook. It is called Wilson's Revector. Self-advertisement is only incidental, the bulk of its contents being a judicious variety of good reading matter.

A curious suit was last week begun in the Superior Court at Hartford, Conn., to recover $2,000 for the death of a child who died in 1870 from the effects of a cold, taken while on one of the boats of the Hartford and New York Steamboat Company. The plaintiff claims that there were no accommodations in the cabin or elsewhere, and that the consequent exposure was the cause of the death of the child.

Butter and cheese are almost indispen-sible articles of food. Properly used, they are nutritious and healthy; but an inordinate use of either causes indigestion and dyspepsia. Owen Gaffney's Sunday Comfort, Judiciously used will remove both of these troubles.

NOTICE.—Mr. J. M. S. McCray having removed to Franklin, parties having communication with him on business or otherwise, are requested hereafter to address their letters to that point.
