Last evening a man named Brady, so our informant states, indulged in the very pleasant (to him maybe) pastime of beating fearfully a woman named Ida Castle. Now it may be fun for this individual to engage in such pastimes, but the public are not in favor of such exhibitions. It may be fun for a man—a big strong man—to brutally maltreat and abuse a weak woman, no matter how degraded or fallen she may be, but the respectable portion of the community fall to see it with light. He warned in time, Mr. Brady, and in future reserve your pugilistic powers for men. Even savages scorn to strike a woman.

A citizen of Plumer informs us that we were mistaken in regard to the item of John Sutton being run over by a strange party. Our informant states that Sutton was grossly intoxicated at the time, and further that the story of his joining the church, &c., was a fallacy. That if he did join the church, he must have fallen from grace wonderfully. This is what our informant states.

About the thinnest article we have seen yet is that article of the Titusville Herald on temperance. The Herald has been published for nearly seven years; in the meantime liquor has been sold in that city right straight along; liquor shops and groggeries have run in full blast, next door to the Herald office in fact, and crime has run rampant thereabouts, according to the Herald's own police report, and yet it was only yesterday that the self-righteous Herald discovered that temperance was a public benefit. A friend at our elbow informs us he has "smiled many a smile" within a short time with the very immaculate editors of the Herald. Oh, consistency thou art, &c.

The Provisional Spanish Republic is now several days old, but before it develops into a permanent Republic there will be many difficulties to overcome, fresh ones cropping up daily. The project most favored by the Republican leaders is that of a Federative Republic—whether on the model of the United States or of the Swiss Republic is not clear. But there are signs of dissatisfaction with this arrangement, and its friends are not sanguine of its success. Agitation in favor of a Democratic Republic has been commenced, and the Internationalists are busily intriguing for a rising in favor of the Commune. As we predicted, there is a movement for extending the revolution to Portugal and establishing an Iberian Republic, which might be either Federative, Democratic, or Communal. The army is now said to be opposed to a Republic of any kind, and to be divided in sentiment only on the question as to which of the rival claimants to the crown is entitled to its support. Meantime Don Carlos has entered Spain, Isabella is reported preparing for a movement in favor of herself or her son, and the Orleanists are said to be raising a fund in behalf of the Duke de Montpensier.

On Friday evening, Joe Caenet, of Columbia Farm, is to give a grand dance at Sobel's Opera House. Joe has had a hand in several dances gotten up during the present winter, all of which have passed off in nice shape, and this one he intends to make this the best of all. Hollister's string band of Pioneer, will furnish the music for the occasion, and those who take delight in tripping the light fantastic toe will be sure to be on hand.

Rev. Graham, of Plumer, delivers a lecture on temperance in that village this evening.

A handsome waiter girl in a St. Louis hotel, whose reputation is unassailed, was insulted, the other day, while performing her duties in the dining room, by a man, a railroad engineer, who called her bad names. Proceeding to the kitchen, she procured a pan of hot dish water, and returning to where the ruffian was seated at the table taking his supper, dashed the greasy fluid over his head and shoulders. The thoroughly drenched defamer arose, seized a chair and knocked the girl down with it, inflicting a severe wound on her head. He would have done further injury had not the other girls in the room interfered. The affray created a decided sensation among the boarders, who expressed regret that the water was not hot enough to scald.

William L. Maxwell, of Waterville, Maine, and William O'Hara, of Lowell, Massachusetts, dropped dead Thursday.

An Omaha bride was married barefoot, because her lover's kinsfolk dressed that way, and she did not wish to seem proud.

According to a late California law, a man can enter into a business partnership with his wife, the property of each being independent of the other.

Mrs. Nancy Kyle, of Connecticut, has been married twenty-three years, and she has sued her husband for wages as a housekeeper, claiming $15 a month for the twenty-three years.

Among the articles from America to be exhibited at the Vienna Exhibition is a log of black walnut, the largest ever grown, six feet in diameter and eighteen feet long, which was cut in Missouri and weighs seven tons.

A Neenah, Wisconsin, schoolmaster recently broke a hard wood ruler on the person of a young lady scholar, about seventeen years of age, because she did not sing to suit him. After pounding her to his heart's content, he wound up, by expelling the girl from school.

The Trenton, Tennessee, jail cost $12,000 and its public schools $6,000, last year.—Comment is unnecessary.

A ten thousand dollar court house is to be built at St. Albans, Vermont.

THE PRICE OF TYPE.—Messrs. Geo. P. Rowell & Co., announce that they have at their warehouse in New York an assortment of type from one of the most celebrated foundries in the world, that of Figgins, London, England, which they will sell at 20 per cent. discount from the American scale, when ordered in lots of 100 pounds and upwards. They also offer to import large lots on special orders at a greater discount from the American scale, and profess to be able to fill the largest order in eight weeks from date of its receipt in New York. The supply sorts in large or small quantities from their stock on hand in New York at the American scale rate. They assert that if the present duty on type shall be removed, the price of the article, both of home and foreign manufacture, will immediately fall 40 per cent. below the present scale. Messrs. Geo. P. Rowell & Co., are known as conducting the largest advertising business ever secured by one house, and are also extensive dealers in printing material. They are compelled to import foreign goods because American foundries, governed by a close corporation or ring, keep the price vastly too high, and at the same time make it an exception to every other species of merchandise by recognizing no wholesale price; the same amount per pound being charged to the purchaser of five thousand pounds as would be paid by him who wants but fifty.

An icicle, says the Danbury News, nearly two feet long, fell from a Main street building Friday afternoon, and went point first down the back of an elderly man who was standing on the walk below talking about foreign missions. The subject was immediately changed.

It is said that since the civil service examinations were introduced into England, giving every one a chance to obtain a position under government, fully 66 per cent. of the entire appointments have been taken by Irishmen.

Two of the most famous of the former daimios of Japan have left home for an American tour. They are gentlemen of the old school, descendants of historical houses, and very much opposed to the innovations of the present regime. Still, they seem bound to find out what the new civilization that is smacking such a rumpus at home is like.

The London (England) Telegraph has made a discovery! It tells its readers that "The time has unquestionably come when a thorough acquaintance with the current history, politics, fashions, and geography of the United States will be deemed indispensable to the younger generation of our British statesmen."

A New York magazine broaches the theory that the names of mankind are gradually lessening in number and variety, and the people becoming consolidated under a few appellations. One half of the population—namely, women—are perpetually losing their names by marriage, while new names are never created.

An brig of negroes is taking place from Virginia to Western Tennessee, where better wages are commanded, and the "Mother of Presidents" bids fair to lose all the portion of her population that ever amounted to much.

Most of the valuable peach orchard of Grand Haven, Michigan, are a thing of the past.

Houlton, Maine, is working hard to get a government building erected in that village.

There are nearly four and a quarter million dollars deposited in the Vermont savings banks.

All the general laws of Rhode Island can be bought for a dollar, and they are a slow sale at that.

Only 2,916 white children went to school in Memphis during the month of January, and Memphis is the largest city in Tennessee.

A great cotton mill is to be built near Clinton, Iowa.

Highway robbers are operating successfully in New York.

Memphis is sufficiently metropolitan to have professional jurors.

Hemp seed sells for six dollars a bushel in Lexington, Kentucky.

Norwich, Connecticut, is to have a new public library established.

A fifty-thousand dollar insane asylum is to be built at Augusta, Maine.

Extensive sponge beds have been discovered on the California coast.

Buzzsaw item—Henry Stonaker, of Palestine, Texas. In his life he was lovely, and in his death he was divided.

The bark extract business is getting to be of great importance to Michigan.
