SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—Quite a serious accident occurred at the McCray iron tank, on the hill near the churches, this forenoon. The tank, it will be remembered, was the one that sprung a leak during the winter by which a large amount of oil was lost. Subsequently the tank was purchased by Mr. C. N. Payne, and a contract let to Wm. Jamieson, of Cleveland, to take it down and remove it to Butler. From Mr. J. we learn the particulars of the accident. It appears a scaffolding had been erected to take down the sheets of iron. A man named G. O. Sandieson was on the scaffolding engaged in the work of taking down the tank. One of the sheets was nearly down when the end suddenly swung round striking Sandieson on the breast and knocking him off the scaffold to the ground, a distance of about 17 feet, breaking his right leg between the knee and ankle. The break is what is technically termed a compound fracture, and is a very bad one, the bone being splintered and protruding through the flesh. Physicians were called in and the fracture reduced. The poor man stood the fearful pain without a murmur, merely saying "There's nothing the matter with me, boys." Sandieson resided in Oil City, and was taken thence on the 1:30 p. m. train. He is unmarried and has friends residing in that place.

There was a fair audience in attendance at the Opera House, Saturday evening, to witness the performance of the Shadow Pantomime Troupe. The pieces, considering all the performers are amateurs, were well executed, and elicited merited applause from all present. We had not the pleasure of attending, but hear the performance very highly spoken of by those present. We understand they intend giving another performance soon, and also intend giving entertainments at Rousseville, Tarr Farm, Kane City and other surrounding villages. They are entitled to success and we hope will meet it.

One of Smawley's teams ran away yesterday afternoon. The team was hired by Captain Gruntz in the morning to go to Columbia farm. Having business to transact he hitched them to a tree and went away. It is thought they became frightened and breaking loose ran away, tarding the creek and came up the Egbert flats and over the bridge at a furious pace. At the corner of the McClintock House, one wheel came off with a crash. They were finally stopped on the Boyd farm. One of the horses was quite severely injured and the wagon badly smashed up.

On Tuesday, June 10th, 1873, Petroleum Centre Lodge No. 716, I. O. of O. F., will hold their third annual picnic at Oil Creek Lake, head waters of Oil Creek. Due notice of the programme will appear hereafter.

Bushyhead is the name of one of the editors of a California paper. Fancy the feelings with which Captain Jack would toy with his scalping knife if Bushyhead went to interview him.

A great many drives of sheep and cattle are being driven from Vigo and Sullivan counties, Indiana, to graze on the Illinois prairies.

THE BIRTH OF A NEW SONG.

God smiled upon us from his beaming skies As smiled the flowers by our glad feet pressed—

The robin listened to our low replies Then sang them to his mate upon her nest. She wondering heard his marvelous new song —The spirit of our words was strangely— sweet, Then sang them to her nestling. Was it wrong If in our souls they wrought a joy complete.

There is no wrong that finds an echo there In God and nature. So we smile to see Upon this earth as in the heavenly blue. Our thoughts attained to sweetest symphony. K. B. R.

Three new cotton factories are under way, and will be built before 1875, in Columbus, Ga. Columbus now manufactures 7,000 bales of cotton per annum. The new mills will more than double that amount.

Of 2,254 boilers inspected in March by agents of the Hartford Boiler Insurance Company, 1,509 were defective, and 314 dangerously so.

About three years ago David McGlinchey of Palo Alto, Schuylkill county, was hurt while a brakeman. On Friday last, the limb paining him, he consulted a doctor. On his way home he was seized with a hemmorrhage and died within thirty yards of his residence. Early on Saturday morning his wife, who supposed that her husband had concluded to defer his return, was horrified at seeing him dead from a window.

An eighty-nine old fellow insisted on marrying a girl of fifteen, in Rushford, N. Y. The young men of the village protested, and only prevented the match by taking the old gentlemen to the creek and ducking him, until he changed his notion.

The Conneautville Courier says, Very little rye is being put in this spring, except upon physicians' prescriptions.

The steamer L Renaud, while "shooting" the Lachine Rapids in the St. Lawrence river, on the 12th, struck on a shoal and was instantly a wreck. There was a terrible consternation among her one hundred and fifty passengers, but all were saved by boats and canoes, and safely landed on Isle St. Heron. By the bursting of a steam pipe, caused by the shock, three passengers were severely scalded.

EDITOR RECORD:—Just arrived, not from the lava beds, but from where the water is quite low, so we made but a small haul of trout, but reserve a taste for you.

WM. PUGH, CHAS. BETTS.

Said trout were caught on Stewart and Pine Runs, and they were nice. We enjoyed them and return thanks to those gentlemen for the same.

The Oil City Derrick exposes the bogus oil certificate business of the Fairview Pipe Line, in this morning's issue. Good.

Numerous invalid New Yorkers are going this summer to the Hot Springs of Arkansas fifty-five miles south-west of Little Rock, to test the efficiency of the baths upon neuralgia, rheumatism, general debility, liver complaint, etc.

Wednesday of last week Messrs J. D. Luper, F. J. Cleminger and Jos. Thompson, sold their Sutton farm, adjoining the Troutman farm, to the Columbia Oil Company for $500 per acre. This farm contains fifty acres, and is considered one of the most valuable farms in the region. The parties who sold cleared about $10,000 in the transaction. The Columbia Oil company will develop it immediately.—East Brady Independent.

Among the many curious things sent to the Vienna Exhibition is a model of the city Paris and its fortifications. It is about eighteen metres in circumference, and represents uninjured the Vendome column and the buildings destroyed by the Commune.

An attempt is now being made in England to form a "Trade's Guild of Learning" to co-operate with the University of Cambridge in the education of the working people. It is proposed to provide for the delivery of lectures to working men in various places by University lecturers.

OIL NEWS.—We learn from Mr. James that the well at Blyson, in Millicreek town, ship, was down 1700 feet on Monday. They had just passed through a red rock, and were then in a boulder, which Mr. James regarded as good indications, and he is still sanguine of making a good strike, though he may have to go 1,800 feet.

A well was tested last Friday on the G. Exley farm, adjoining the Homel farm, is regularly doing 80 barrels, and the Plummer well is doing about the same.

There are three more wells drilling on the Homel farm, and six more rigs being put up, and the whole farm leased. It consists of 191 acres. A new town is going up on the farm.

There was a fire on the Dan'l Heeter farm on Wednesday night of last week, near Turkey Run city. The rig and engine house of an oil well burned.

A new well on the Ell Rits farm in Beaver township, tested a few days ago is reported at 40 barrels.

A Washington township correspondent sends us the following:

The renewal of operations on the Ellison well, on Gallagher and Ellison's tract, Washington township, commenced on Tuesday last, with every prospect of success.—This well had been tested some time ago at 800 feet, securing a large amount of gas, but no oil. The work which at first had been let out by contract, had to be suspended owing to the large issue of gas, until the weather became more suitable. First class drillers are now engaged in the sinking process under the immediate superintendence of the enterprising and indefatigable local proprietor Mr. J. G. Ellison, and I trust soon to be able to report that the result has been all that could be wished for.—[Clarion Democrat.

Last Saturday, on the ocean beach from Long Branch to about ten miles below vast numbers of blue mackerel and sea bass floundered ashore and were caught by thousands. The mackerel it appears, were chased ashore by the sea bass, and were cast up on the sands. Persons residing on the shore picked up all they could carry and cart away, and large fish weighing three to four pounds were sold at twenty-five per pair.

The discussions in the Social Science Association last week were remarkable for their vivacity and ability, the general interest of the subjects discussed, and the high standing of the debaters.
