POLICE.—On oath of Mrs. Stanford No 1 a warrant was issued by Justice Reynolds for the arrest of Mary Nicholson alias Mrs Stanford No 2, on a charge of adultery and fornication. Armed with the warrant Constable Burgess proceeded to Pitohole and made the arrest, returning about six o'clock in the evening. In the meantime the witnesses had all returned home to Plumer and Pitohole, but on the return home Constable Burgess subpoenaed them a 2 over again. The examination elucidated about the same facts as brought out on the Stanford trial. The woman did not attempt to deny any of the charges, and at the conclusion of the examination was held to bail in the sum of $500 to appear at Franklin to answer the charge of adultery. Failing to obtain the requisite bail she was taken to Franklin on this morning's train.

This examination appeared to be a little one sided, as the woman had no friends.—While there was no doubt of her guilt, it seems to us she should have been allowed a less amount of bail. Stanford is a great rascal and should be shut up for a term of years to teach him better, but we opine to the belief the woman is the lesser criminal of the two.

GONE!—Our townsman, Mr. A. Leggett, left town this forenoon with his family, intending to take up his residence in future in the city of Rochester, N. Y. Mr. Leggett came on Oil Creek in the year 1866, and established a harness shop, also engaging in the manufacture of seed bags and valve cups. During all that time and up to the present he has been constantly engaged in business here, and has won an enviable reputation as the manufacturer of the best oil well valve cup in use, and in harness and seed bags he has no equals.—During all the years past he has also won an established reputation as an honorable and upright business man and a square dealer in every respect. We shall miss his genial smile and friendly clasp of the hand, as will our citizens in general. The best wishes of all will attend him to his new home.

"Never hasting—never resting," Be the motto calm and trusting, Striving ever for the best, Then whatever of ill betide, As life's waters swiftly glide, Safe at last thy bark shall ride In the haven of the blest.

A new well was completed on the old Gehring farm, yesterday. It is owned by Messrs Stewart and Lewis of Cherrytree.—The well had 35 feet of excellent sand of a fine white pebbly character. It is being tubed today preparatory to testing. This well was drilled by Mr. Lew Boonehoff, who informs us he considers the show good for striking oil.

That the green-grocers of Louisville are skinflints, is made certain by their filling the skins from old potatoes and selling them for new ones.

A C-le-g-o, cheap advertiser for "steady girl" to help on pantaloons. A fellow who can't help on his own pantaloons, ought to be ashamed to want the girls to do it.

A boy captured four young foxes near Freeburg the other day.

A very crisp bit of scandal is going the rounds of the papers to the effect that the deserted wife and child of United States Senator Mitchell of Oregon, is now living in interior Pennsylvania; that the wife supports herself and child by doing "house work," &c. The gossip has it, also, that Senator Mitchell is not Mitchell at all, but that his name is Hipple.

A letter in the San Francisco Chronicle says the scandal is not true; that Senator Mitchell's first wife is dead, and that his second, and present wife was a Miss Price, of Oregon City. We notice that Senator Mitchell has published a card at Portland, Oregon, with reference to the story. That gentleman does not in his card deny, positively the truth of the tale, but says "full explanations in relation thereto will appear in a few days." He says:

I propose to explain to the people of Oregon everything in relation to this matter, and shall substantiate my whole history prior to leaving my native State by testimony of prominent men—unimpeachable witnesses—and upon such testimony rather than my own statements, I shall submit to the impartial judgement of the people of this State any question as to my standing and integrity put in issue by the articles referred to.

The above evidently explodes the sensation story published in the Venango Spectator and Butler papers a short time since. The story was well gotten up but probably lacked the sound basis of truth.

At the conclusion of the examination of the woman Nicholson, last night, Constable Burgess started to put the woman in the lock up, when a murmur of dissatisfaction arose on the part of the crowd assembled outside against placing her in in so filthy a place for the night. A good many hard words were said in regard to the lockup and the state in which it is at present. The "cuss words" used were in the main right, as it is not fit to put a hog in much less a human being. It is a disgrace to the town and the authorities should see that it is cleaned out, fumigated, smoked and a liberal sprinkling of chloride of lime scattered about the premises.

Lodgings were provided for the woman elsewhere.

Mr. H. B. Hixon, County Collector of Taxes, is in town for the purpose of collecting the County and County Poor Taxes for the year 1873. All persons attending to the paying of their taxes at once will be entitled to an abatement of five per cent.—He can be found at the Central House, today and to-morrow. Saturdays he can be found at his office, two doors south of Rynd farm railroad station, Rynd Farm.

BURNED TO DEATH.—Saturday afternoon last Mrs Julia Denny, (colored), aged about 40 years, and residing in a small house on East alley, just back of Metzgar's tin store, on North street, while making a search for some article in the attic, aided by a lamp without a globe, was so seriously burned by her clothes taking fire from the lamp, that death ensued after 36 hours of terrible suffering. When she discovered her clothing to be on fire she ran down stairs and into Metzgar & Smith's store in her fright, before she found any assistance. She was soon after taken home and surgical aid hastily summoned, but her case was deemed hopeless almost from the first and she died as stated at two o'clock on Monday morning, in great agony. Mrs. D leaves a husband and four children. Her funeral took place at two o'clock this afternoon.

A dog fight last evening created considerable excitement.

A friend hands us a copy of the "Greece City Review," published at Greece City, by Reverends Thorne, Breden and Brugb. In ancient times the heading of the Review would have been spelled rightly, but modern times in the oil region has changed it to "Greece," which a Greece City operator informs us is right. We would advise the Reverends to dive into ancient history less and attend to the oil reporting more.

MARRIERS.

BUCKHALTER—GIBSON.—At the M. E. Parsonage June 10th, by Rev Geo. Moore, Mr. Phillip Buckhalter and Miss Susan E. Gibson both of Petroleum Centre.

Reading papers cry aloud for the cleansing of the streets of that city.

It has been definitely ascertained that nine hundred and ninety-five barrels of coal oil was the full number burned at the fire on Sunday in Cincinnati. This was forty thousand gallons. It is now believed that the place was fired by an unknown confederate of a man convicted about a month ago and sent to the Work house for stealing coal oil in small quantities from that place. An investigation will be prosecuted.

A physician advised a patient to take a walk on an empty stomach. "Whose stomach?" feebly asked the invalid.

Two love stricken Chester county people eloped the other day on a canal boat.

TRANSFIXED.

The following rare bit is from the Saturday Evening Post: We shall never forget that evening we spent at Magruder's a year ago. We admired Miss Magruder and went round to see her. It was summer time, and moonlight, and she sat on the piazza. The carpenter had been there that day, gluing up the -rustle chairs on the porch, so we took a seat on the step in front of Miss Magruder, where we could gaze into her eyes and drink her smiles. It seems probable that the carpenter must have upset his glue pot on the spot where we sat, for after enjoying Miss Magruder's remarks for a couple of hours and drinking several of her smiles, we tried to rise for the purpose of going home, but found that we were immovably fixed to the step. Then Miss Magruder said: "Don't be in a hurry," and we told her we believed we wouldn't. The conversation had a sadder tone after that, and we sat there thinking whether it would be better to ask Miss Magruder to withdraw while we disrobed and went home in Highland costume, or whether we should urge her to warm up the poker, or whether we should give one terrible wrench and then ramble down the yard backward. About midnight Miss Magruder yawned, and said she believed she would go to bed. Then we suddenly asked her if she thought her father would have any objection to leading his front steps a few days, because we wanted to take them home for a pattern. We think Miss Magruder must have entertained doubts of our insanity, for she rushed in, called her father and screamed. Magruder came down with a double-barrelled gun. Then we explained the situation in a whisper, and he procured a saw and cut out the piece of step to which we were attached.—Then we went home wearing the patch, and before two o'clock crushed out our young love for Miss Magruder. We never called again, and she threw herself away on a dry goods man. There is a melancholy satisfaction in recalling these memories of youth, and reflecting upon the influence of glue upon the emotion of the human heart.

Brainard's Musical World for June is on our table, and contains a full and very interesting report of the great Cincinnati Musical Festival, also the usual amount of musical stories, news, gossip, reviews, &c. Three pieces of instrumental music, and a beautiful new song are given in this number, which are alone worth the price of the Musical World a year. No person interested in music can afford to be without the Musical World and the low price at which it is furnished, (one dollar per annum) brings it within the reach of all. Specimen copies are sent to any address on application to the publishers, S. Brainard's Sons, Cleveland, Ohio.

NOTES OF THE DAY.

Patiently waiting.—To record the last words of the great Captain Jack.

It is mentioned as an odd circumstance that the initials of the Sons of Temperance spell "spot."

Miss Anna Dickinson has been more unmercifully married (in the papers) than any other maiden on the platform.

Cincinnati has averaged her newly-appointed policeman and finds the interesting figure to be 5 feet 2 inches in height and 45 lb. age.

Twenty-seven disgusted Cincinnatians buried razored roped and revolved themselves into the spirit world during the fiscal year ending June 1.

A Liverpool woman Georgewashingtoned her father and a pony. She was sentenced to three months for the pony and two months for the father. Ergo

A venerable couple in New York, by the name of Gosling, have just celebrated the fifty-fifth anniversary of their marriage.—The house was thronged with consequent Goslings.

The Cincinnati Chronicle after contemplating the devastation of lawless decoration day poetry, has decided to array itself among the advocates of Mr Sumner's oblation policy.

A bold young lady of San Francisco carries a small whalebone case concealed about her dress which she vigorously applies to the heads and faces of innocent young men.—She occasionally causes three of an evening.

The Boston papers estimate the amount of money paid to the lobby of the Massachusetts Legislature this year at $100,000.

There are now in Chicago's new hotel, the Grand Pacific, fifty-nine flights of stairs, thirty-eight miles of wire, 999 windows, and 1,070 doors.

Coal of an excellent quality and in immense quantities has just been discovered in Highland township, Vermillion county, Illinois, and grounds have been leased for the purpose of developing the veins.

BUTLER OIL NEWS.—The Karno well at Karno City continues to do over 200 barrels per day.

Gen. A Anderson J. A. McCulloch, Esq., of Freeport and L. B. Anderson, of Petroleum, have commenced a new well on the Jas. Wilson farm, above Petrolia. They call it the Modoc.

Cooper Bros. recently made a good strike on the Riddle farm, above Karno City. We have not learned how much the well is doing.

The Troutman well is holding its own bravely. Last week the Rev Norton purchased a fourth interest in the well for $27,000. Mr Norton has also purchased a sixteenth interest in the J C Campbell farm for $20,000.

Backus & Morrison struck a new well at Greece City on Friday or Saturday of last week, which has been flowing ever since, and is reported as being a very large well. [Citizen.

The Spiritual oil well at Bison Run, so long and persistently prosecuted by Dr. James against the preconceived opinions of the many who have, long months passed, given up hope of seeing oil come, is actually producing through the sand pump, not oil, nor blood, but something as red as blood, and the spirits still declare that vast seas of oil lie below, and they are going for it, not the spirits, but the drill. They are now down 1742 feet. So note it be. [Clarion Democrat.

Smith Titus, arrested at Parker's Landing by Officer Cribbs, was brought up on Saturday night by Officer De Rolph, to answer charges brought against him in the infanticide case. A hearing was appointed for 2 o'clock Monday afternoon, but no prosecutor appearing, he was discharged from custody. The woman, Mrs. Wainwright, was not to be found, so it is said, hence the proceedings are at an end for the present, and guilty parties place their thumbs to their noses, wiggle their fingers, blink at the authorities and grin, making a farce of the law, and pantomimists of its administrators.—[Petersburg Progress.

Hartford, Conn., had an auction of coffee the other day.

The house in Murfreesboro Tennessee, in which President Polk was married is now used as a stable.

Ten arrests a day have been made in New York for the last two weeks, under the "Habitual Criminal Act." At this rate New York will soon get rid of her rogues and other cities be the worse off for emigration.

Louisville, Ky., is to have a new weekly paper, printed in the French language.

The rush of pleasure seekers towards Europe seems to be slackening off. Six steamers left New York on Saturday for European ports, but the lists of cabin passengers were not as large as in previous weeks.

Frank Blair has been at Richfield, New York, for some time trying for his health, a remedy that never before occurred to him—spring water.

The State Grand Lodge of Good Templars is to meet at Harrisburg on the 10th inst.

"I'm not getting married so much as I was," is the latest way of saying "no" to an impassioned suitor.
