THE

TORPEDO PATENT SUITS.

Roberts vs. Nicholas Geyer.

The following is the decision rendered by Judge McKennan, at May Term of the Circuit Court in the above case:

In the Circuit Court of the United States, in and for the Western District of Pennsylvania.—E. A. L. Roberts vs. Nicholas Geyer.—No. 1.—May Term 1873.—In Equity.

November 21, 1872. Bill filed and subpœna issued.

Subpœna and notice of application for preliminary injunction served.

December 16, 1872. Motion for preliminary injunction heard, and the Court being duly advised in the premises, the injunction awarded as prayed for, and decree filed.

January 14, 1873. Injunction issued, and on the 20th day of January indictment served personally and by copy.

May 22, 1873. Rule issued for defendant to show cause why attachment should not issue for contempt in violating injunction and duly served.

June 24, 1873. Rule for attachment in this case came on to be heard, and after argument of counsel pro and con, the Court being fully advised in the premises, the Rule is made absolute, and the sentence of the Court is, that the said defendant, Nicholas Geyer, be imprisoned in the common jail of Allegheny County for and during the term of ten days, and that he pay the costs of this proceeding.

June 26, 1873. Attachment issued.

The injunction in this case was for infringement of the Roberts' patent of Nov.—(called the fog patent), for increasing the productiveness of oil wells. The act of infringement for which the defendant was committed for contempt, consisted in shooting Alexander Bacon in violation of the order to cease doing the same act of infringement for which Hamar was also committed in the case No. 3, November Term, 1872, as before stated.

The Court McKennan, J., after delivering his opinion in the Hamar case, proceeded to render No. 9 as above for contempt, and delivered the following oral opinion:

In the case of Nicholas Geyer charged with the same offence, I am entirely satisfied that there was a disregard, in the Bear well as load. As I have explained to the counsel in the course of his argument, the presence of fluid in the well, whether de signed or not, is an infringement of the patent, under the decision of the Court.

Mr. Roberts, by his patent discovers the principal advantage of his invention to be tamping, and whether there is fluid sufficient in a well, at the time of the explosion of a torpedo, to operate as a tamping which it gets there naturally or is put there artificially, his patent is infringed. This was clearly the case in regard to the Bear well.

But Mr. Geyer seems to have been misled by Hamar, who told him that he merely wanted to make an experiment; and I do not think, that being the first time, that he ought to be very severely punished.

He also is adjudged guilty of contempt and order to pay the costs of the proceeding and undergo an imprisonment in the county jail of ten days—I am told it will be the best to undergo imprisonment, as the accommodations are not very good for confinement for a longer time.
