THE

TORPEDO PATENT SUITS.

Roberts vs. Nicholas Geyer.

The following is the decision rendered by Judge McKennan, at May Term of the Circuit Court in the above case:

In the Circuit Court of the United States, in and for the Western District of Pennsylvania.—E. A. L. Roberts vs. Nicholas Geyer.—No. 1.—May Term 1873.—In Equity:

November 21, 1872. Bill filed and subpœna issued.

Subpœna and notice of application for preliminary injunction served.

December 16, 1872. Motion for preliminary injunction heard, and the Court being duly advised in the premises, the injunction awarded as prayed for, and decree filed.

January 14, 1873. Injunction issued, and on the 20th day of January following served personally and by copy.

May 22, 1873. Rule issued for defendant to show cause why attachment should not issue for contempt in violating injunction and duly served.

June 12, 1873. Rule for attachment in this case came on to be heard, and after argument of counsel pro and con, the Court being fully advised in the premises, the rule is made absolute, and the sentence of the Court is, that the said defendant, Nicholas Geyer, be imprisoned in the common jail of Allegheny County, for and during the term of ten days, and that he pay the costs of this proceeding.

June 23, 1873. Commitment issued.

The injunction in this case was for infringement of the Roberts' patent of No.—(called the Big Torpedo), for increasing the productiveness of oil wells. The act of infringement for which the defendant was committed for contempt, consisted in aiding Alexander Hamar in exploding torpedoes by oil wells being the same act of infringement for which Hamar was also committed in the case No. 2, November Term, 1872, as before stated.

The Court McKennan, J., after delivering his opinion in the Hamar case, proceeded to sentence Nicholas Geyer for contempt, and delivered the following oral opinion:

In the case of Nicholas Geyer charged with the same offense, I am entirely satisfied that there was full proof in the Hamar case that [illegible] As I have intimated in the opinion in the case of the defendant, the presence of fluid in the well, whether desired or not, is an infringement of the patent, and a breach of the injunction of the Court.

Mr. Roberts, by his patent was one of the principal discoverers of the invention that impregnated Whenever there is fluid sufficient in a well, at the time of the explosion of a torpedo, to operate as [illegible] whether it gets there naturally or is put there artificially, his patent is infringed. This was clearly the case in relation to the Hamar well.

But Mr. Geyer seems to have been misled by Hamar, who told him that [illegible] I do not think this [illegible] that he ought to be very severely punished.

The case is of the first quality of importance and interest to the parties to this proceeding, and involves an immense amount of money [illegible] I have given the matter much consideration, and have endeavored to [illegible] If the matter were a new question I should [illegible]
