THE

TORPEDO PATENT SU[illegible]

Roberts vs. Nicholas Gey[illegible]

The following is the decision rendered by [illegible] McCandless, at May Term of the Circuit Court [illegible] above case:

In the Circuit Court of the United States, in and for the Western District of Pennsylvania.—P. [illegible]

Roberts vs. Nicholas Geyer.—No. 1.—May [illegible], 1873.—In Equity.

November 21, 1872. Bill filed and subpœna issued.

Subpœna and notice of application for preliminary injunction served.

December 16, 1872. Motion for preliminary injunction heard, and the Court being duly advised of the premises the injunction awarded as prayed and decree filed.

January 11, 1873. Injunction issued, and on 20th day of January indictment served personally and by copy.

May 22, 1873. Rule issued for defendant to show cause why attachment should not issue for contempt in violating injunction and duly served.

June 20, 1873. Rule for attachment in this case coming on to be heard, and after argument of counsel pro and con, the Court being fully advised in the premises, the Rule is made absolute, and the sentence of the Court is, that the said defendant, Nicholas Geyer, be imprisoned in the common jail of Allegheny County for and during the term of [illegible] days, and that he pay the costs of this proceeding.

June 20, 1873. Commitment issued.

The injunction in this case was for infringement of the Roberts' patent of No.—(called the Big Hole case), for increasing the productiveness of oil wells. The act of infringement for which the defendant was committed for contempt, consisted in shooting Alexandra Hamar in exploding torpedoes in oil wells being the same act of infringement for which Hamar was also committed in the case No. 3, November Term, 1868, as before stated.

The Court McKennan, J., after delivering his opinion in the Hamar case, proceeded to sentence Nicholas Geyer for contempt, and delivered the following oral opinion:

"In the case of Nicholas Geyer charged with a similar offense, I am entirely satisfied that there was [illegible] present, in the Beale well at least. As I have intimated to the counsel in the course of the argument, the presence of fluid in the well, whether it be oil or not, is an infringement of the patent, and a breach of the injunction of the Court.

Mr. Roberts, by his patent uses as one of the principal elements of his invention fluid tamping, and wherever there is fluid sufficient in a well, at the close of the explosion of a torpedo, to operate as tamping, whether it exists there naturally or is put there artificially, his patent is infringed. This was clearly the case in regard to the Beale well.

[illegible] Geyer seems to have been misled by counsel, who told him that he merely wanted to [illegible] and I do not think this is the first time, that he ought to be very severely punished.

He was adjudged guilty of contempt and ordered to pay the costs of this proceeding and undergo an imprisonment in the county jail for ten days—I hope it will be the last of these cases; because, if the matter comes to me [illegible] I will be constrained to impose such punishment as will test to a [illegible] the decree of the Court effectual.
