THE TORPEDO PATENT ISSU

Roberts vs. Nicholas Geyer.

The following is the decision rendered by Judge McKenna, at May Term of the Circuit Court in the above case:

In the Circuit Court of the United States, in and for the Western District of Pennsylvania—E. A. L. Roberts vs. Nicholas Geyer—No. 1—May Term 1873—In Equity.

November 21, 1872. Bill filed and subpoena issued.

Subpoena and notice of application for preliminary injunction served.

December 12, 1872. Motion for preliminary injunction denied, and the Court being duly advised in the premises the injunction awarded as prayed for, and dissolved.

January 14, 1873. Injunction issued, and on the 25th day of January indictment served personally and by copy.

May 22, 1873. Rule issued for defendant to show cause why attachment should not issue for contempt in violating injunction and duly served.

June 24, 1873. Rule for attachment in this case came on to be heard, and after argument of counsel pro and con, the Court being fully advised in the premises, the Rule is made absolute, and the sentence of the Court is, that the said defendant, Nicholas Geyer, be imprisoned in the common jail of Allegheny County for and during the term of ten days, and that he pay the costs of this proceeding.

June 25, 1873. Commitment issued.

The injunction in this case was for infringement of the Roberts' patent of No. —, called the Big Patent, for increasing the productivity of oil wells.

The act of infringement for which the defendant was committed for contempt, consisted in aiding Alexander Hamer in expediting torpedoes in all wells being the same act of infringement for which Hamer was also committed in the case No. 3, No. — of Penn. 1868, as herein stated.

The Court McKenna, J. after delivering his opinion in the Hamer case, proceeded to sentence Nicholas Geyer for contempt, and delivered the following opinion:

In the case of Nicholas Geyer charged with the same offense, I am entirely satisfied that there was no infringement in the Deans well at least. As I have mentioned in the course of the proceedings, the present act of infringement for which Hamer was also committed in the case No. 3, No. — of Penn. 1868, as herein stated.

Mr. Roberts, by his patent uses as one of the principal elements of his invention fluid tapping, and wherever there is fluid sufficient in a well, at the time of an explosion of a torpedo, to operate as a torpedo, whether it gets there naturally or is put there artificially, his patent is infringed. This is clearly the case in regard to the Deans well.

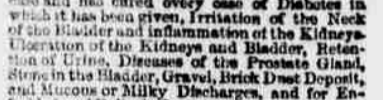

But Mr. Geyer seems to have been misled by Hamer, who led him to believe that he merely wanted to increase the productivity of a well, and not to infringe the first time, that he ought to be very severely punished.

He is admitted guilty of contempt and ordered to pay the costs of this proceeding and undergo all the expenses of the county jail for ten days — to begin this week the last of the month, because, if the parties come to our notice again, as will be guaranteed to happen, such punishment as will tend to subvert the decree of the Court effectual.
