Letter from Cherrytree.

. HEAD OF BENSENOFF RUN, ¿ Cherrytree Tp., Sept. 9, 1873. Mn. Epiron:-Your correspondent "Jusz tide" must do a Just-ass. H - does not understand the situation. Il sittle knows how much we owe to that pantner like der tective and that astate and brave officer who have so courageously captured the rob. bers in their den. Why, sir, we have had a reign of terror. Nothing was secure alte night. Fear feil on all when the shades of evening came. Yes sit, stout men, heads of families, have not had their boots off for months. They slept with them on, and with a shot gan on one side of the bed and a dlub on the other ever ready for assault. No one ventured on the road after dark lest highwaymen tode them dowa. Mothers abandoned the use of trandle beds and cribs and slept with all their offspring in their arms. Watch dogs were doubled and ten houses and milk house securely locked. but in vain. These outlaws held bigh carnival. Big chicken suppers at appointed rendezvous. "Dancing all night till broad daylight and going home with the gals in the morning'' seems to have been their usual pastime.

Clinton, the borse thief, and Beles (B. S. he counterfeiter, were out her just before hese during officers broke them up. Why, ir, the search warrant found 5 masks, 1 pistol, a butcher kalle and log chain, showing plainly that it was an organized gang with pass words, &c. Also, ten dollars worth of o'd army saddles. No, sir. the thanks of our citizens are largely due to the aforesaid noble men, who at the risk of their lives dispersed and arrested severally all of these dangerous rofflans. Now all is peace and tranquility. Our orchards, corn fields, por tatotoes and molon, poultry and milk, are molested no more. Our horars and har ness stray not. Our bens roost high from babit and are safer All is screne and lovely again thanks to your magistrate and officer.

The oil business is dull. Small wells and low prices is the prevailing complaint. Harvesting has begun, and good crops are anticipated. Yours respectfully. BEECH NUL.

We find the following article on the situa tion of the oil trade in the East Brady Indpeudent:

The situation in oil is not what it should be, but the indications are favorable for a wholesome change. The change will not come this week, nor next week, but it will come before long. The production of the Botler districts is not so farge as people outside the region suppose. The strikes bave been greatly over estimated. But few were as large as reported, and the produc. tion of these has fallen off wonderfully .-From our owe observation we know of wells dropping from one thousand barrets a day to less than one-half this amount, and this, too, within four days from the time they were struck. The Troutman well is perhaps, the only well in the how district that has maintained its targe production for any considerable length of time.

When we take into consideration the fac the production is falling off rapidly at home and that the demand is increasing in foreign countries, we can only conclude that the worst is over. The low price of poil has heen an ill wind here, but it blew to some Wonders will never cease. The Oil City advantage across the seas. The Parson well, at Millerstown, is a late strike, and is flowing about three hundred bartels a'day.

B. B. Campbell has a welt near Millerstown that is producing three hundred batz reis a day. It was struck recently.

C. V. Cuiver, of Reno, purchased the Johnson farm, near Millerstown, for $10,-000. The sale was made last week.

C. D. Angell & Co., struck a good well near Angelico, this week. It is supposed to be good for two hundred barrels, at least-A well was struck on the Sutten farm near Grence City Monday, which is reported at 300 barrels. Owned by Phillips Brothers. The Dougherty well, on the McDormani farm, near Millerstown, struck the sand Monday. Its production is large, perbaps 300 barrels a day.

Three wells are going down in the vicinity of North Hope, Butler county, on the Wick, Shyrock and Hoover farms. Of these the Macking well will probably be finished; first Geo. W. EXCITING RACE BETWEEN & HORSE AND A LOCOMOTIVE .-- On Saturday evening last just as the 5:20 train, bound North, under a good head of speed, was opposite the Russell farm, one taile above this place, a fine bay horse came plunging down the bilisidand jumped upon the track a short distance in front of the locomotive. The road winds along the billside for considerable distance, and the horse was compelled to keep on the track, or go into river, so he kept on the track. At the first sight of the horse, the engineer sounded his whistle, applied the be air-brakes, and checked the train in time to prevent a catastrophe to the horse or train, and a race commanced. Forward went the noble spimal, with heaving flank and distended nostrils, bounding along the rough track, while close behind thundered the train, the locomotive sounding the alarm that served to add to the speed of the frantic and almost flying steed. The passengers and train bands crowded to the windows and thronged the platforms, eager. ly watching the race. The horse continued on the track for a distance of nearly three miles, and finally jumped from the track and when we last saw tim was standing under a tree, apparently not much the worse for his trip .- [Emienton Messenger,

A Pennsylvania lady has a most romantic and ingenious way of managing the gen/ tieman so happy as to be her husband .-Exasperated by her persistent conversation he ungaliantly boxed her cars the other day. The wretched woman cast but one lingering, reproacuful glance upon her lord and fied, simply observing as she departed that the briny deep should wash away the insuit. Leaving behind her everything most precious to her-the home of her mar/ ried life, full of beautiful and cherished memories-the heart-broken woman rushed frantically to the canal, and, with one parts ing sign, threw in a large stone which made a mighty splash. Then she went and hid hernelf in the bushes and giggled, while her husband and twenty other man hurried up, with horror depicted upon their countenances, and wildly dragged the canal for her body. When the injured wife became convinced that the wretch had suffered enough, she appeared from behind the oushes, and led him home a resigned and willing victim.

Jack Cribbs, formerly police officer at Pctersburg, now in the same duty at Parker's had rather a ludicrous and unfortunate ac/ eident happen him the other day. He was attempting to pull a borse out of a mud hole when his tail hold slipped and he turned a back somersault into an old water closet vauit. He went in up to the neck, and with difficulty extracted bimself and rushed to the river. After sosking himself under water twenty/four hours he started home .--He wears his Sunday clothes now.

Col. Susan B. Authony says she won't marry because she wants her freedom. We thought it was because she has never been able to find a man who didn't want bis.

Mrs. D. W. Smith, of Williamsport, Pa. arrived at Washington one evening last week in search of her busband. whom she discovered engagad in a game of cards with one Edizabeth Lippincott, late of Williamsport, and whom Smith has during his sojourn in Washington been visiting. Mrs. Smith on discovering the pair, at once proceeded to a general destruction of the eler gantly furnished apartments. After destroy ing over $600 worth of mirrore, statuery, and foroiture, she took Smith by the cat and walked him to the botel. The parties, the goesip say,; hold a high social position at home.
