TORPEDO PATENT SUITS
Roberts vs. Nicholas Geyer.

The following is the decision rendered by Judge McKenna, at May Term of the Circuit Court in the above case:
In the Circuit Court of the United States, in and for the Western District of Pennsylvania.—R. A. L. Roberts vs. Nicholas Geyer.—No. 1.—May Term 1873.—In Equity.
November 21, 1872. Bill filed and returned as stated.
Subpoena and notice of application for preliminary injunction served.
December 18, 1872. Motion for preliminary injunction heard, and the Court being duly advised in the premises, the injunction awarded as prayed for, and decree filed.
January 14, 1873. Injunction issued, and on the 20th day of January incriminated, served personally and by copy.
May 22, 1873. Rule issued for defendant to show cause why attachment should not issue for contempt in violating injunction and duly served.
June 24, 1873. Rule for attachment in this case on to be heard, and after argument of counsel pro and con, the Court being fully advised in the premises, the Rule is made absolute, and the sentence of the Court is, that the said defendant, Nicholas Geyer, be imprisoned in the common jail of Allegheny County for and during the term of thirty days, and that he pay the costs of this proceeding.
June 26, 1873. Commitment issued.
The injunction in this case was for the purpose of the Roberts' patent of No. — (called the Ke) for, for increasing the productivity of oil wells. The act of infringement for which the defendant was committed for contempt, consisted in using Alexander Harzer in exploding torpedoes in oil wells being the same act of infringement for which Harzer was also committed in the case No. 1, in the Western Term, 1866, as before stated.
The Court McKenna, J., after delivering his opinion in the Harzer case, proceeded to award Nicholas Geyer for contempt, and delivered the following opinion:
In the case of Nicholas Geyer charged with contempt, I am entirely satisfied that there is no act present in the Boas well at least. As the defendant is not in the course of the proceedings, the presence of fluid in the well, whether it is an infringement of the patent, is not a part of the infringement of the Court.
Mr. Roberts, by his patent uses as one of the essential elements of his invention fluid torpedoes, whenever there is fluid sufficient in a well, or time of the explosion of a torpedo, to operate on the well, when it acts there naturally or is there artificially, his patent is infringed. This is clearly the case in regard to the Boas well.
But Mr. Geyer seems to have been misled by Harzer, who told him that he merely wanted to make an explosion of fluid in the well, and that the best time for this to be done is very early in the morning.
He also is charged with contempt and is ordered to pay the costs of this proceeding, and an improvement in the county jail for the term of thirty days, which is the last of the sentence, if the Court is of opinion that the defendant is guilty of contempt, and is directed to impose such punishment as will make the decree of the Court effectual.
