THE

TORPEDO PATENT

Roberts vs. Nicholas

The following is the decision [illegible] McKennan, at May Term of the Circuit above case:

In the Circuit Court of the United States for the Western District of Pennsylvania.

Roberts vs. Nicholas Geyer.—No. [illegible]. 1873.—In Equity.

November 21, 1872. Bill filed and [illegible] sued.

Subpœna and notice of application for preliminary injunction served.

December 13, 1872. Motion for preliminary injunction heard, and the Court being duly [illegible] the premises; the injunction awarded as prayed and decree filed.

January 14, 1873. Injunction issued.

29th day of January indictment served and by copy.

May 22, 1873. Rule issued for defendant to show cause why attachment should not issue for his contempt in violating injunction and duly served.

June 2d, 1873. Rule for attachment [illegible] came on to be heard, and after argument pro and con, the Court being fully advised of the premises, the Rule is made absolute and it is the sentence of the Court is, that the said defendant Nicholas Geyer, be imprisoned in the common jail of Allegheny County for and during the space of thirty days, and that he pay the costs of the proceeding.

June 2d, 1873. Commitment issued.

The injunction in this case was for the infringement of the Roberts' patent of No.—[details illegible] ment), for increasing the productiveness of oil wells. The act of infringement for which the defendant was committed for contempt, consisted in Alexandra Hamar in exploding torpedoes in oil wells being the same act of infringement for which Hamar was also committed in the [illegible] vember Term, 1866, as before stated.

The Court McKennan, J., after delivering his opinion in the Hamar case, proceeded to say in the Nicholas Geyer for contempt, and delivered the following oral opinion:

"In the case of Nicholas Geyer charged with the same offense, I am entirely satisfied that a fraud is present, in the Petis well as was intimated to the counsel in the course of the argument, the presence of fluid in the well is not considered or not, is an infringement of the patent and a breach of the injunction of the Court.

Mr. Roberts, by his patent uses as one of the principal elements of his invention fluid to [illegible] wherever there is fluid sufficient in a well at the time of the explosion of a torpedo, to effect the tamping, whether it gets there naturally or artificially, his patent is infringed. I have clearly the case in regard to the Petis well.

But Mr. Geyer seems to have been misled by Hamar, who told him that he merely went to make an experiment; and I do not think that considering the first time, that he ought to be very severely punished.

He also is adjudged guilty of contempt and is ordered to pay the costs of this proceeding, and to undergo an imprisonment in the county jail for the term of thirty days. I hope this will be the last of the cases, and that if the matter comes to our [illegible] our sister courts will be induced to [illegible] to make the decree of the Court effectual.
