THE TORPEDO PATENT SUITS.

Roberts vs. Nicholas Geyer.

The following is the decision rendered by Judge McKenna, at May Term of the Circuit Court in the above case:

In the Circuit Court of the United States, in and for the Western District of Pennsylvania.—E. A. L. Roberts vs. Nicholas Geyer.—No. 1.—May Term 1873.—7th Equity.

November 21, 1872. Bill filed and subpoena is sued.

Subpoena and notice of motion for preliminary injunction served.

December 13, 1872. Motion for preliminary injunction heard, and the court being duly advised in the premises, the injunction awarded as prayed for, and decree thereon.

January 14, 1873. Injunction issued, and on the 29th day of January judgment served personally and by copy.

May 22, 1873. Rule issued for defendant to show cause why attachment should not issue for contempt in violating injunction and duly served.

June 24, 1873. Hearing on attachment in this case came on to be held, and after argument of counsel pro and con, the Court being fully advised in the premises, the rule is made absolute, and the sentence of the Court is, that the said defendant, Nicholas Geyer, be imprisoned in the common jail of Allegheny County for and during the term of ten days; and that he pay the costs of this proceeding.

June 24, 1873. Commitment issued.

The injunction in this case was for infringement of the Roberts' patent of No. 4,000 (called the No. 1,000), for increasing the productivity of oil wells, the act of infringement for which the defendant was committed for contempt, consisted in sinking Alexandra Harrier in exploring torpedoes in oil wells being the same act of infringement for which the plaintiff was also committed in the case No. 3, 200 (November Term, 1866, as before stated).

The Court McKenna, J., after delivering his opinion in the Harrier case, proceeded to sentence Nicholas Geyer for contempt, and delivered the following oral opinion:

In the case of Nicholas Geyer charged with the same offense, I am entirely satisfied that there was a full present in the Harrier well at least. As I have indicated to be alleged in the course of the argument, the presence of fluid in the well, whether it be oil or water, is an infringement of the patent, and a breach of the injunction of the Court.

Mr. Roberts, by his patent uses as one of the principal elements of his invention fluid tapping, and wherever there is fluid sufficient in a well, at the time of the explosion of a torpedo, to operate the tapping, whether it is natural or is put there artificially, his patent is infringed. This was clearly the case in regard to the Harrier well.

But Mr. Geyer seems to have been misled by Harrier, who led him to believe he merely wanted to make an experiment; and I do not think this being the first time that he ought to be very severely punished.

He also is adjudged guilty of contempt and ordered to pay the costs of this proceeding, and undergo an imprisonment in the county jail for ten days.—I hope this will be the last of the case, because, if the matter comes to our notice again, I will be glad to impose such punishment as will tend to make the decree of the Court effective.

It is so ordered. J. H. McKenna, J. June 24—1873.
