THE TORPEDO PATENT SUIT

Roberts vs. Nicholas Geyer

The following is the decision rendered by the Court at May Term of the Circuit Court above cited: In the Circuit Court of the United States, in the Western District of Pennsylvania. - E. A. Roberts vs. Nicholas Geyer. - No. 1 - May Term, 1873. - In Equity.

November 21, 1872. Bill filed and subpoena served.

Subpoena and notice of application for preliminary injunction served.

December 13, 1872. Motion for preliminary injunction heard, and the Court being by advice of the premises, the injunction awarded as prayed and decrees filed.

January 14, 1873. Injunction issued, and on 29th day of January indictment served and returned by copy.

May 21, 1873. Rule issued for defendant to show why attachment should not issue for contempt in violating injunction and duly served.

June 24, 1873. Rule for attachment in this case on to be heard, and after argument of the parties, the Court being fully advised in the premises, the Rule is made absolute, and the return of the Court is, that the said defendant, Nicholas Geyer, be imprisoned in the common jail of Allegheny County for and during the term of ten days, and that he pay the costs of this proceeding.

June 24, 1873. Contempt issued.

The injunction in this case was for infringement of the Roberts' patent of No. 1 - (entitled the Be...), for increasing the productiveness of oil wells. The act of infringement for which the defendant was committed for contempt, consisted in causing Alexandra Hamar to explode torpedoes in oil wells being the same act of infringement for which Hamar was also committed in the case No. 2, November Term, 1866, as before stated.

The Court McKeanon, J., after delivering his opinion in the Hamar case, proceeded to state his opinion in the present case, and delivered the following opinion:

In the case of Nicholas Geyer charged with the same offense, I am entirely satisfied that there was no infringement in the Be... well at all. As the defendant in the present case is charged with the presence of fluid in the well, whether it be natural or not, is an infringement of the patent, and each of the injunction of the Court.

Mr. Roberts, by his patent uses as one of the principal elements of his invention fluid tapping wherever there is fluid sufficient in a well, at the time of the explosion of a torpedo, to operate the tapping, whether it gets there naturally or is there artificially, his patent is infringed. This is clearly the case in regard to the Be... well.

But Mr. Geyer seems to have been misled by Hamar, who told him that he merely wanted to make a connection; and I do not think, this to be the first time, that he ought to be very severely punished.

He also is adjudged guilty of contempt and ordered to pay the costs of this proceeding, and make an imprisonment in the county jail for ten days. I hope this will be the last of the case, unless the matter comes to our notice again, which is considered to impose such punishment as will be to make the decree of the Court effectual.
