THE TORPEDO PATENT SU

Roberts vs. Nicholas Ge

The following is the decision rendered by McKennan, at May Term of the Circuit C... above case:

In the Circuit Court of the United States, in the Western District of Pennsylvania.—E...

Roberts vs. Nicholas Geyer.—No. 1.—May 1873.—In Equity.

November 21, 1872. Bill filed and subpœnaed.

Subpœna and notice of application for pr... ary injunction served.

December 14, 1872. Motion for preliminary injunction heard, and the Court being duly advised, the premises, the injunction awarded as prayed and decree filed.

January 14, 1873. Injunction issued, and 20th day of January Indictment served personally and by copy.

May 22, 1873. Rule issued for defendant to show cause why attachment should not issue for contempt in violating injunction and duly served.

June 24, 1873. Rule on attachment in the same on to be heard, and after argument of counsel pro and con, the Court being fully advised of the premises, the rule is made absolute and the sentence of the Court is, that the said defendant, Nicholas Geyer, be imprisoned in the common jail of Allegheny County for and during the term of 30 days, and that he pay the costs of the proceeding.

June 27, 1873. Commitment issued.

The injunction in this case was for infringement of the Roberts' patent of No. —, and the infringement, for increasing the production of oil wells. The act of infringement for which the defendant was committed for contempt, consisted in Alexander Hamar in exploding torpedoes in wells being the same act of infringement for which Hamar was also committed in the case No. — at January Term, 1873, as before stated.

The Court McKennan, Judge, delivered an opinion in the Hamar case, preceding the sentence of Nicholas Geyer for contempt, and delivered the following oral opinion:

In the case of Nicholas Geyer, charged with the same offense, I am entirely satisfied that the [illegible] present, in the holes well at least, [illegible] attributed to the removal by the explosive agent, the presence of fluid in the well, whether it did or not, is an infringement of the patent, because of the injunction of the Court.

Mr. Roberts, by his patent uses one of the principal elements of his invention to [illegible] wherever there is fluid sufficient in a well at the time of the explosion of a torpedo, to effect tamping whether it gets there naturally or is put there artificially, his patent is infringed. This is clearly the case in regard to the Rouse well.

But Mr. Geyer seems to have been misled by Hamar, who told him that he merely was making an experiment to find out [illegible] ting the first time, that he ought to be very severely punished.

We also [illegible] guilty of contempt and order to pay the costs of the proceeding and be imprisoned in the county jail for ninety days. Judge [illegible] will be the last of the series of the matter comes to our notice that will [illegible] to impose such punishment as will [illegible] the Orders of the Court therein.
