ARRIVAL OF THE U.S. SUPPLY STEAMER

the week. fe2-3ti Go and see the greatest wonder of the world.

BY CHARLES GODFREY LELAND. Hon. G. S. Orth, of Indiana, has intimated, by motion in the House of Representatives, his intention to present a bill for the purpose of establishing Bureaux of Industry, the object of which will be greatly to facilitate our Government in developing the resources of the country, and to stimulate Free Labor in every form by removing many obstacles from its course and presenting many inducements to its advance.

Having for many years earnestly cherished the hope that the development of national in. dustry and the power of free labor would soon reach that point when the creation of such an organization as this must become inevitable, and having frequently published my conviction to that effect, I would now earnestly entreat every true friend of free labor to give his attention to the measure proposed. Let it once be made known by the press and fairly comprehended by the public, and it cannot fail to be hailed with acclamation by every honest practical, thinking man in the country.

More than a year ago, when the opponents of the Administration-and with them not a few short-sighted friends-were clamoring for a manifestation of a decided "policy" from Abraham Eincoln, I prepared, and subsequently published, a pamphlet, the object of which was to show that, apart from a vigorous prosecution of the war, the only policy possible to our government was that of the development of national and individual industry on a grander and more vigorous scale, and more thoroughly than had ever yet been attempted. And as I believe that certain views in this pamphlet directly illustrate the very broad principles on which Mr. Orth's bill will be based, I take the liberty of citing them. The present struggle between disintegrative States Rights and federal Unity (or Republicanism) is also a war between the joint interests of capital and free labor on one part, and capital in its harshest and most limited form on the other.

PENNSYLVANIA RELIEF ASSOCIATION FOR EAST TENNESSEE

President—Ex-Gov. JAMES POLLOCK.

Treasurer—CALEB COPE.

Secretary—JOSEPH T. THOMAS.

This Association has for its object to relieve the sufferings of the people of East Tennessee, the only portion of the South which has preserved unshaken its fidelity to the Flag of the United States.

When the question of secession was presented to the people, in February, 1851, East Tennessee gave an overwhelming majority against it. In Sevier county, out of a voting population of 1,457, only one vote was pelled for secession. At this moment there are, in the Federal uniform, from the county of Roane, more men in arms than there were voters in 1860.

The young men of East Tennessee are now fighting for their country and are constructed. These joint interests of capital and of labor call for a vigorous central representation and ment there are, in the Federal uniform, from the county of Roane, more men in arms than there were voters in 1860.

The young men of East Tennessee are now fighting for their country and our country. The old men, women, and children, whether within the Federal or the rebel lines, are naked, destitute, and almost starving, the contending armies having four times passed over their unhappy country, leaving devastation in their track.

Members of the Committee, and others, who may be willing to collect funds, are respectfully requested to call upon the Secretary, No. 245 South Fifth street, and procure subscription books numbered and signed by the Secretary No other subscription books numbered and signed by the Association.

Contributions in blankets, clothing, &c., may be seen to the undersigned.

fe3-3trp. No. 715 Market street, administration, devoted to the constant development of national wealth and industry in every form. There is a certain step in Republican progress when all idle discussion of abstract theories by professional politicians (such as are agitated by the "copperhead" leaders of the day) must give place to substantial work, and to principles based on facts and figures. We have reached that point. This industrial pelicy, which urges the firmest union States and unity of power and action, also demands the development and supply of certain demands of free labor which shall have the effect MARQUETTE MINING COMPANY

OF MICHIGAN.

A Special Meeting of the Stockholders of the Marquette Mining Company of Michigan will be held at the Office of the Company, No. 332 WALNUT Street, Philadelphia, on MONDAY, the 5th inst., at 12 M., on business of importance.

By order of the Board of Directors. of strengthening the power of the people in due proportion as their government shall be strengthened. In a few words, let the people make their government great and strong, and let government reciprocate by unwearied efforts to employ and educate the people.

To practically carry out the requisite measures to advance national industry was thought in the days of "slaveocracy" to be entirely below the dignity of "politics." More than thirty years ago, when Louis Napoleon declared that there were only two countries in the world which were advancing to perfection-America and Russia-he pointed out the fact that the latter did so directed by a policy, and the former simply under the spontaneous impuls s of liberty. Liberty is far more glorious than despotism; but it loses none of FROM NEW ORLEANS AND KEY its freedom or energy from being wisely and healthily organized. A very few men at Mashington, appointed to direct the tremendous aid of Government to certain useful aims, can in a few weeks effect more than thousands, in the course of years, laboring at random through the country. Therefore I have said—and this brings me to Mr. Orth's proposed bill—that while it is a recognized fact that in no country has unaided individual industry ever wrought such wonderful results as in America, it is, on the other hand, not less true that there never ras witnessed elsewhere, such enormous waste of capital, be it of means, of brains, or of labor, for want of that cd-ordination of interests which it is in the power of States directed by central bureaux to supply. The effect of such Bureaux of Industry would be a judicious study of the industrial interests of the country at a joint centre, which is at present partially, but most imperfectly, carried out.

Starting with the great principle that industry is the corner-stone of free institutions, Mr. Orth proposes to group into one, and a new, department of the Government:

I.—A BUREAU OF AGRICULTURE.

Now with all respect to those who are amazed at Patent Office Reports, hardly provided for at all by Government, compared to what might and is to be done. There is not an intelligent practical farmer in America who will not appreciate and relations throughout the country, and by the facilitation of legislation on such subjects.

ARRIVAL OF THE U.S. SUPPLY STEAMER UNION.

The U.S. supply steamer Union, Acting Volunteer Lieut. Edward Conroy commanding, from the East and West Gulf Squadron, arrived at New York last night. She reports, on Jan. 31, while off Charleston, heard heavy firing; weather very foggy. Feb. 2, off Cape Henry, passed U.S. ship Ino. Landed at Key West. 150 refugees and a number of deserters from Bragg's army.

Among the refugees was a Mrs. Babcock and child, whose friends are residing in the North. On January 14, the Union cnt out and captured the Gonfederate steamer Mayhower, in Sarasote Pass, coast of Florida, loaded with cotton. The steamer Manhattan, from Baltimore, put into Tamha Bay, January 21, in good order.

A meeting of loyal citizens took place at Key West on the evening of January 28 for the purpose of inaugurating steps to restore the State to its proper relations under the Union Government. About five hundred persons were present, and several resolutions were passed.

The Union brought North the bodies of Commander Newcomb, United States Navy; Lieut. Command-r Cummings, United States Navy, and Captain's Clerk T. Bailey, United States Navy, the vast impetus which could be given to agri-

The province of this bureau is that by which the four millions of human beings "now in the Providence of God restored from Slavery to Life, can be taught the means of self-sustenance, and be protected by Government as the guardian protects his ward." In fact this subject is daily assuming such overwhelming proportions, that even without Mr. Obsth's grand system of co-ordinating the Industrial Policy of Government, it must have compelled the establishment of a special bureau, or its equivalent. In connection with the Freedmen's Bureau, the wisdom of instituting an Agricultural Bureau becomes self-evident.

been very imperfectly understood, even by the best informed. Neither have we much studied the use of mines as a means of developing other capital than that which is drawn directly from them. Several years ago, when the Government of Russia was said to be desirous of rapidly developing its Pacific coast, encouraged by an eminent Russian publicist, I addressed to the directors of the Amur Company, who were understood to be desirous of attracting suggestions on the subject, a memorial, pointing out the probability that the free throwing open of the enormously productive and badly-worked Siberian gold mines (vide HAXTHAUSEN'S Russian Empire, vol. 2) to Americans would most promptly improve the country, and certainly build up a seaport worth far more than the gold taken away. Of this memorial many thousand copies in Russian were circulated. But whether applied in Siberia or not, the principle is still open to administrative action in America. It is very far from extravagant to anticipate that through such a Bureau vast streams of wealth would flow into the National Treasury, possibly in a few years, even to the extinguishment of our Nationa

IV .- THE BUREAU OF IMMIGRATION. It is apparent enough that by means of a Bureau regulating the domestic demand for labor and the foreign supply taken in connection with our Homestead DNI, our population may be increased, and that almost entirely in our uncultivated regions, to an incalculable amount. It would be in one respect a vast intelligence office, and should be authorized and enabled to transfer, free of expense, from their ports of departure from Europe, all emigrants who will contract to settle in the conquered rebel territory, or west of the Mississippi.

These are the Bureaux proposed by Mr. ORTH. I would suggest that he adds to them a Bureau of Instruction, or of Education, which shall be devoted to collecting and disseminating information on its specialty and to extensively reducing it to a practice. Such a Bureau would do much good in encouraging the collection of statistics, in aiding the press, and in imparting culture in many forms to old as well as young. I would urge, indeed, that this bureau is essential to the completion of the scheme, and am sustained in so doing by the belief that the wisest of Americans also thought so. No one can, I think, read carefully Washington's Farewell Address without perceiving that what lay near his heart was the principle that to maintain "a government for the whole" and " a unity in government" we must adopt an industrial policy, and that the great support of this would be educa-

Mr. Orth has, even by proposing this reform. merited such honor as few men win. Admitting an Industrial Policy to be the true one for our government, it follows that the system of central Bureau of Industry is inevitably its next step. The passage of his bill is like that of Emancipation; something which must be sooner or later, in the natural course of events -but the sooner the better. He has planned, next to the great work of the President, the proudest monument of the great free-labor movement of the day. Such "motions" move nations, if not melo-dramatically, a la secession, at least deeply, and to great ends. His constitaents may well be proud of their representative for they have in him one who works with hear and soul to bring about the aim of the purest Republicanism-"The greatest good for the greatest number." /

The owner of the cargo was one of her officers, and he did not pretend to deny that they were bound for a Confederate port. He said her cargo would purchase 400 bales of cotton in Mobile. She was freighted chiefly with liquors and munitions—a very valuable cargo to the Confederates. The steamer Rosita is a side-wheel vessel, nearly new, and is very fast; was commanded by Capt. Alney, formerly of the Gulf trade. She is 150 feet long, 25 feet beam, 7 feet hold, and is of about 400 tons burden. She has a beam engine, with a 26-inch cylinder and 9 feet stroke. Her machinery is in good order. She is estimated to be worth, with cargo, $50,000.

THE ALLEGED LOTTERY DEALERS.—A hear ing in the case of the alleged lottery dealers, whose arrest has already been mentioned in the BULLETIN, was had yesterday afternoon before Alderman Heitler, at the Central Station. Casper Whiteman was examined, and pointed out Joseph Solomon, Joseph Weitzel, John Wilson, Charles Cline, Mathias Miller, Charles Cauteral and Lewis Albertson, as persons he knew. Mathias Miller, he testified to, was concerned in the office, at Seventh and Sansom streets. Witness had made a return of his books, in which the sale of policies was noted to Millerg sists to Lewis Albertson. They were in partnership at the cplace named. Miller, he said, paid the "hits;" was not always present when the book was returned, but on one oxcasion he received the book himself. The office of the witness was in Harmony court; and he testified that he had followed the policy business for ten or eleven years. Joseph Shoemaker had been at his place, came about three months ago, and wanted him to stop printing the drawn numbers. Shoemaker said that the association would employ its own printer; that fifty dollars a week would be saved by that course. Witness at that time made a return to Wimley, in Dock street. Sevendor eight months ago the witness returned to Walters, one of the defendants. The receipts were handed to him and he paid the "hits." Babb, one of the defendants, has an office in Firth street, near Hace. He, witness said, writes for Shoemaker. Davis Hoffman was served with the drawn numbers at his office, in Six'h street, near Lombard. Henry Stein keeps an office in Grown street, below Callowhill. AN INVALUABLE HOUSEHOLD INSTITUTION. The Grover & Baker Sewing Machine, from its acknowledged superiority over all others in use, acknowledged superiority over all others in use, has become an indispensable article of use in every family. Not to have a Sewing Machine is to be behind the age, and it is scarcely less so to have any other than the celebrated Grover & Baker instrument, for the reason that it performs a variety of elegant sewing which no other instrument does, and because it is the only Sewing Machine ever-invented which thoroughly and satisfactorily meets every requirement of a family in the sewing line. and because it is the only Sewing M achine ever-invented which thoroughly and satisfactorily meets every requirement of a family in the sewing line. For these reasons the sales of the Grover & Baker Machines in this city, and throughout the Union, are greater, probably, than those of any other three Sewing Machine establishments. Sogreatly is the demand for them increasing, at their elegant ware-rooms, No. 730 Chestnut street, that for the better accommedation of their patrons. Mr. Eddy, the efficient-agent of this Company, has recently added a store to his present one, fronting on Eighth street, giving his whole establishment the form of a triangle. The Eighth street store will be employed mainly for repairing, setting up, receiving, delivering, and storing machines. We had occasion some time ago to speak of the enormous sales of these machines during the month of December. We have since learned that they have been very nearly equaled in January. Every one should call at 730 and see these unparalleled Machines in operation.

KIN-NE-NO-NE-AW!-Rather difficult to pro-KIN-NE-NO-NE-AW!—Rather difficult to pronounce till you get used to it, it is true, but it is the title of the richest, most soothing, fragrant and delicious moking tobacco that ever graced the bowl of the most fastidious connoisseur's pipe! As indicated by its name, it owes its paternity to the "red man of the forest," and is all the better for that. An enterprising Philadelphian, Mr. E. H. Hunt, No. 511 Chestnu street, has lately brought the compound to the notice of us "pale faces," and we thank him for the courtesy. It is now offered for sale by all tobacconists.
