FROM WASHINGTON.

[Special Despatch to the Bulletin.] WASHINGTON, Feb. 4 .- The House caucus last night resolved that the new Enrollment act shall be adopted essentially as it comes from the Military Committee; and the Conscription act, with slight amendments, is to be put upon its passage as soon as possible.

The House Naval Committee commenced examining witnesses this morning in the investigation of the structure of naval engines. Witnesses from the Navy Department were examined to-day, and to-morrow witnesses from Baltimore and Philadelphia will appear before the committee.

General Birney has received authority from the War Department to raise another colored regiment in Maryland and has opened recruiting offices on the Eastern Shore. The Government undoubtedly intends to recruit as many colored soldiers as possible in the Border States. The Select Committee on a Military and Postal Railroad between New York and Washington had a meeting this morning. Communications from the War Department were submitted in favor of a new route.

The Fortification bill, reported to the House to-day, contains appropriations of five millions of dollars. By the People's Telescaph, Offices No. 411 Chest-nut street, Reading Room Merchants' Exchange, and Girard House.]

Patrick were committed on Tuesday to the Old Capitol, by order of Captain Todd. The Provost Marshals throughout the country seem to be unusually active of late. Arrivals deserters forwarded by them are taking place daily. Yesterday twenty-four reached this city from Philadelphia and thirteen from Harper's Ferry.

Boston, Feb. 4.—The annual meeting of the Boston and Worcester Railroad corporation took place yesterday. There was the largest attendance of stockholders ever present on a similar occasion, it being understood that there would be a trial of strength between the friends and opponents of the scheme for uniting that Road with the Western Massachusetts Over 23,000 shares were represented, and of these there was a majority of nearly 6,000 against consolidation.

Hon. E. W. Gantt spoke at Nashua, N. H., last night. He leaves to-day for New York, on his way to Arkansas, and will, therefore, deliver no more addresses in the eastern coun-

CITY BULLETIN.

A HANDSOME IMPROVEMENT. - Upon the site of the old Pelletier House, on Walnut street, between Fourth and Fifth, a handsome building is just receiving its finishing touches. The structure was built for restaurant purposes, and will doubtless meet the demands of the business community in which it is established. The building is four stories in height, with the first story of fine Picton stone, and the remainder of the front of pressed brick. The main room on the first floor is 41 by 90 feet. with ceilings and side walls frescoed in elegant style. The dining halls, billiard rooms, &c., are upon the most extensive pattern, and provided with every necessary convenience. Messrs. Green & Kelly, for whom the structure was erected will occupy it. The building is an ornament to the neighborhood.

ASSAULT UPON AN OFFICER.—Charles Osborn was arrested last evening in the Fifteenth Ward upon the charge of having been concerned in a stone fight at Sixteenth and Mt. Vernon The particulars of the affair were published in the BULLETIN of Monday. It will be remembered that officer Bennett was struck upon the head with a stone and was so seriously injured that he has not been on duty Osborn acknowledges having thrown a stone. He was taken before Ald. Hutchinson and was held in $1500 bail to answer.

GREENBACKS BY THE TON .- Eight tons of greenbacks were carried over the New Jersey Railroad to Washington one day last week. This may seem extraordinary, but it is more than matched by the fact that each day there are circulated tons of first-class notices of the elegant and serviceable garments for military men, civilians, and youths, made at the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chestnut street, above Sixth. These splendid sunts are worthy of all that can be said of them.

HILTON HEAD, S. O., Jan. 31, 1864.—The situation has not materially changed since my last communication. The enemy remain quiescent, so far as offensive operations are concerned. They have fired very few shots within the past two or three weeks, atthough we have steadily maintained a fire on the city. Even when our shells are thrown into Beauregard, Moultrie, Simpkins or any of their batteries, they do not deign to notice our movements, but preserve a silence that suggests new plans. They have for the most part been exceedingly lavish in their expenditure of ammunition, but with meagre results. On Thursday last, however, there was a change in the programme. At daylight our lookout at Cummings's Point observed the rebels on the southwest angle of Fort Sumter busily at work, pling up the debris on the shattered parapet, in the form of a battery. Our guns were immediately opened upon them, and Fort Sumter again bombarded.

Fort Sumter again bombarded.

The rebels for some time centinued to labor, in spite of bursting shells. But finally several shells having exploded in rapid succession in that part of the fort, knocking down the debris they had piled up, they disappeared, and relinquished their design. Our guns continued to fire at intervals during the day and following night, and leveled off the new parapet even with the crest of debris. Our fire doubtless occasioned some casualties, as the following day two or three corpses floated ashore at Battery Gregg, probably from Fort Sumter.

anties, as the following day two or three corpses floated ashore at Battery Gregg, probably from Fort Sumter.

From information derived from a variety of sources we learn that our fire upon Charleston is doing considerable damage both to persons and buildings Shell drop in and explode at intervals of five minutes, day and night, in that portion of the city to which the residents about the Battery removed when we first opened on the town. The place of refuge has ceased to be regarded as perfectly safe. People who moved their worldly effects from down town to the upper wards, and fondly imagined that they were secure from all visitations from Yankee shells, have long since had that illusion rudely dispelled. Houses in a certain area are terribly shattered and perforated by our shelts and rendered untenable. So another hegira occurred, and people now live intents, slab by our shells and rendered untenable. So another hegira occurred, and people now live in tents, slab shanties, barns, stables, cotton houses, clear in the outskirts of the city, and are by no means as comfortable as they could desire.

Within the past ten days a large number of deserters and refugees have entered our lines from Georgia and Florida. One boutload of solders from the Savannah Grays came in three or four days ago. They were eight in number, and very comfortably clothed. Their story differs in no particular from that told us by every one who has come within our lines during the past six months [Correspondence of the N. Y. Times.]

HILTON HEAD, S. C., Sunday, Jan. 31, 1861.—
The medical department of any army is admitted by every one to be one of the most important requisites of the service. Medical Director Swift entered upon the duties of his office about six weeks ago, and, although he has had some obstacles to contend against which would not have existed, perhaps, in the absence of a change of Directors, no one can dispute that he has proved himself equal to the emergency, and is in a fair way of placing his particular department on a footing that it had not begun to reach trom the time the first expedition landed at Port Royal.

The General Hospital at Hilton Head is altoget er too small for the demands made upon it. It is the intention of Dr. Swift, I understand, to have constructed a general hospital in some favorable place structed a general hospital in some favorable place as soon as Government can be prevailed on to fur-structed a general nospital in some favorable place as soon as Government can be prevailed on to furnish the requisite material. It may further be stated, to the delight of the soldiers' friends and relatives at home, that in the course of a few weeks 13s acres of soil will be covered with growing vegetables for the use of the hospitals. Beside that, each hospital, where the design can be practically executed, is to have its garden-plot, which no one will hestate to pronounce a very attractive and teneficial feature. Dr. Swift has also in view the project of building a bake-house and erecting an ale brewery.

Headquarters Department of the South, Hilton Head, S. C. Jan. 20.—General Orders, No. 10t.—14 is with regret that the Major-General formanding has observed in the evidence adduced before Courts-Martial charged with the trial of colored soldiers, indications, more or less conspicuous, of improper demeanor of officers toward the men under their command. The offence seems to include unofficer-like familiarity on the one hand, and extreme harshness on the other. Either course must result not only in insubordination, but in consequences in the most. course must result not only in insubordination, but in consequences of the most serious nature, whether the soldier be white or black. From their former dependent condition, and the consequent humility that generally characterizes their deportment, there is no doubt that the latter are easily controlled, and, except in comparatively rare instances, are not likely to violate that discipline to which they have through life been so rigidly subjected, if treated with even-handed justice, and a strict and conscientious attention to their wants and comfort. course must result not only in insubordination, but and comfort.

An officer who is unduly familiar either in speech or association, or who abuses by word or action the power and authority conferred upon him, not only strikes at the root of discipline himself, but encourages it in others.

The General commanding desires it to be distinctly understood that in every case hereafter that may be brought to his notice of such conduct, a promot and efficient remedy will be applied prompt and efficient remedy will be applied

Among the officers upon whom it was the intention of President Lincoln to confer the grade of Brigadier was Col. Joshua B. Howell, of the 85th Pennsylvania Volunteers. Although twice officially informed that his commission had been made out, and his name submitted to the Senate for confirmation, no such document has reached him. Col. Howell's fitness for the position of Brigadier-General is proved by the fact that for the last 12 months he has been Acting Brigade Commander, and has had, beside his own regiment, three others under his command. With the officers of his brigade he is universally popular. The 85th Pennsylvania Volunteers was raised chiefly by the Colonel's efforts, and at his own personal cost, in Fayette county, Pa. He has been wounded in battle, on Morris Island, and, with the exception of the necessary absence caused by the casualty, has never been away from duty. His regiment was one of the first three-years' corps that entered the army.

eams was attacked by the revels, and the whole train was captured. The 23d Illinois Regiment had come down to the junction of the roads for the purpose of guarding the train into P-tersburg, and scon after their arrival ware attacked by the rebels with artillery and beaten back in confusion. The regiment is said to be pretty badly cut up. The train was accompanied by 500 or 600 men, most of whom were completely panic-stricken. The train was regarded as a most valuable one. Most of the men succeeded in making their escape, but the mules and horses, about 400 in number, the wagons and contents, were captured.

mules and horses, about 400 in number, the wagons and contents, were captured.

Major Doddridge and his assistant, Mr. Cline. occupied an ambulance in the rear of the train. They were going to Petersburg' to pay off the troops, and had a considerable sum of money with them. As the rebeis commenced shelling the rear of the train, Mr. Cline, with the assistance of others, cut a horse loose from the ambulance and started a man bask to New Creek with the money. Major Doddridge and Mr. Cline reached the city last evening. Demoralized soldiers were constantly reporting themselves at New Creek.

The rebels who attacked the train came down the Moorefield roard, and are supposed to have been corefield roard, and are supposed to have been high search and a mare supposed to have seen lying in wait for the train for several days. At last accounts, Ool Thoburn had succeeded in escaping with the Petersburg garrison, and had passed safely through Greenland Gap, which rendered him quite safe.—Wheeling Intelligencer, Feb. 2.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE IN PITTSBURGH .- A fire broke out on First street, last night, by which the extensive machine shops of Mr. J. Jenks were burned down and a large amount of valuable machinery and property destroyed. The fire was at first discovered in the second story, and spread with such extraordinary rapidity that in ten minutes from the time the alarm was given the entire building was enveloped in flames. By the most extraordinary exertions on the part of our firemen the fire was confined to the building in which it originated, but this, together with the greater part of its contents, including a large and valuable collection of patterns, was almost wholly destroyed The foundry, a large frame structure adjoining the shops, escaped, and three or four dwellings in close vicinity to the burning building, though at one time in imminent danger, were also saved from destruction. The burned building was owned by Mr. John B. Warden, and is partially insured. Mr. Jenks's loss is very heavy, and, so far as we can learn, he was not insured. The fire was the result of accident .- Pittsburgh

A STREET OF CHURCHES .- The Trustees of the Third Presbyterian Church, whose house of worship, corner of Third and Ferry streets, was destroyed some three months ago by fire, have purchased the large lot of ground, belonging to Anderson's heirs, situated on the southeast corner of Sixth street and Cherry Alley.
Sixth street, it appears, is the favorite location for churches. Already there are five churches situated within its three squares-Trinity, Cumberland Presbyterian, United German, Second United Presbyterian and Second German Lutheran. The Third Presbyterian church will give us six churches within the limits of a short street of less than five hundred yards in length-and all within the Third Ward .- Pittsburgh Commercial.

THE DISTINCTION OF COLOR .- The Tribune's Washington correspondent writes: A colored Major in the United States service summoned as a witness before the Court-Martial, of which Col. Willets is President, arriving half an hour after his time, offered as an excuse a written statement, to wit, that dressed in full uniform he entered a car of the Washington and Georgetown Horse Railroad at the other end of the city to proceed to the Court, and was expelled therefrom, and compelled to walk, which delayed his arrival. The President, Col. Willetts, promptly endorsed the statement as an outrage upon the officer and an insult to the Court, and referred the same to Gen. Martindale, who will investigate the matter.
