FROM WEST VIRGINIA.

WHEELING, Va., Feb. 5 .- Gov. Boreman received the following from General Kelley this morning:

"I have just received a despatch from Col. Mulligan, stating that after six hours' fighting he has driven the rebels under Farley from Moorefield, and his cavalry was pursuing, and was sharply engaged with Gen. Rogers on the South Fork at the date of the despatch."

EXCITING NEWS FROM NORTH CAROLINA. FORTRESS MONROE, Feb. 5 .- A messenger has just arrived with despatches to Major Gen. Butler from Newbern, N. C., dated Feb. 2d, 5.15 P. M.

The post in Newport is attacked and the rebels have the railroad between Newport and Moorehead City. The post at Evans Hills is surrounded. Colonel Jordan still holds Moorehead City, but may be forced to retire to Fort Macon. As long as we can keep the river we are well enough off. The rebels captured the gunboat Underwriter by surprise, and destroyed her.

COLT'S PISTOL FACTORY ON FIRE. 1By the People's Telegraph, Offices No. 411 Chest-nut street, Reading Room Merchants' Exchange, and Girard House. 1

HARTFORD, Conn., Feb. 5.—Colt's Pistol Factory is in flames.

The fire broke out at about fifteen minutes past eight, this morning. The fire is terrible and rages furiously. The chance of extinguishing it is small. The loss will be immense.

[second despatch.] HARTFORD, Feb. 5, 9.45 A. M .- The oldest and largest building facing the Connecticut river is a mass of ruins; it appears to have but one wall on the North side standing; the fire has been arrested on the Connecticut Building, and hopes are entertained that the new building will be saved. The office, a large building separate from the others, is now in flames. The name of the Company is "Colt's Patent Fire Arms Manufacturing Co." Several lives have been lost by the falling of the office. The names are as yet unknown. The loss, it is said, will exceed one million of dollars. The fire is still raging, with indications that the new factory will also be destroyed.

ANOTHER DESPATCH. The original building of Colt's pistol factory was destroyed by fire this morning with all the machinery and other property.

The building was five hundred feet long and sixty feet wide, with a wing 100 by 60 feet, and an office building three stories in height. The new building, in which Minie rifles are made, was saved. Seventeen hundred workmen 'are employed in the works, about 900 of whom will be thrown out of employment. The loss will reach at least $500,000; indeed, the machinery alone was valued at that sum. There is an insurance of $750,000 in New York and New England

RUMORED CHANGE OF MILITARY COM-MANDERS.

[Special Despatch to the Bulletin.] NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—The Herald has a despatch which states that it is rumored, at the Headquarters of the Army of the Potomac, that General Hunter is to have the place now occupied by General Meade. It is also surmised that General Thomas is to be the new commander, and that General Hooker will take the latter's command in the West.

FROM ARKANSAS.

FORT SMITH, Feb. 3 .- A terrific storm swept over the entire Southwest-last Sunday. About 11 o'clock in the morning it rose to a tornado. which raged with tremendous violence some twenty minutes, and extended over a portion of the Indian Territory, and down the Arkansas Valley. Immense damage was done. The telegraph wires were prostrated for miles. The line to Little Rock was almost totally destroyed.

GUERILLA WARFARE ON THE MISSISSIPPI. [Correspondence of the Cincinnan Gazette.] CAIRO, Feb. 3.—Captain J M. Kelley of the steamer Freestone-furnishes interesting items concerning guerilla warfare upon the lower river. The Freestone was in the cotion trade.

On Wednesday hight, the 27th ult., while at Carson's Landing, fifteen indes above the mouth of White river, about 10 o' clock, the Gunboat No. 26 came in, convoying the sleamer Lady, and anchored near the Freestone, when the captain of the gun-boat notified the Freestone to keep up steam and be ready to leave at a moment's notice, as there was trouble ahead. Captain Kelly went shore on the Mississippi side, where were congregated a troop, of thirty men. While talking to an acquaintance who informed him that guerillas were lying in wait for him, Captain Forrest with a company of cavalry, rode up and the crowd separated, Captain Kelly retreature to the boat, to which seven men insisted upon accompanying him, and four others going in another boat. The strangers were well treated and patronized very freely The seven finally asked to be set ashore, and as they left the boat, remarked to the crew, "Things are very dear abourd this boat. We will make them cheaper before morning." When landed, they ordered the men in the yawl to bring oil a Yaukee overcont, which the boarmen taithfully promised to do. They had pulled into the stream but a few yards, when the late passengers drew revolvers and commenced firing at them. This was the signal for the guerillas to let drive a volley at the Freestone, but the men in the yawl, unbeeding the leaden hail, pulled to the boat, which they reached in safety. The gunboat immediately opened upon the assailanis, and almost a continuous fire was kept up'by both sides for three-quarters of an hour, when the guerillas field. The Freestone GUERILLA WARFARE ON THE MISSISSIPPI the assailants, and almost a continuous fire was kept up by both sides for three-quarters of an hour, when the guerillas fied. The Freestone was the prize aimed for by the guerrilas; she re-ceived a good many shots, but fortunately no one was hurt. Four citizens who remained behind were sadly frightened, and protested they knew nothing whatever of the presence of Forrest and men.

When the guerillas left Carson's Landing, they men.

When the guerillas left Carson's Landing, they went directly across the bend, a distance of 11 miles to Bealah Landing, where the steamer Lizzle Martin lay. This boat they captured without assistance, and run her up the Arkansas river. She had on beard 200 bales of cotton.

The steamer Shreveport, with a portion of the 16th Arkansas Cavalry on heard, was fired into at the foot of Burdo Island by artillery, killing one soldier. Four miles below Shreveport she met a gunboat and informed her of the outrage. The gunboat steamed up the river, but mistook the place where the firing occurred. Near Commercia a number of families had collected to escape being conscripted. An old man, with a family, stopped under the bank awaiting the arrival of a steamer. Seeing one approaching in the night, a boy waved a firebrand. The boat was the gunboat searching for guerillas. Supposing the rascals were congregated for the purpose of cutrapping passing boats, she fired a gun, the shot striking in the midst of the family, throwing sand and stones in every direction, and knocking over the boy. Fortunately nobody was hurt. The old man saiged another brand and mocking over the boy. Fortunately nobody was hurt. The old man seized another braint waving furiously showed the boatmen their mistake. A yawl was immediately sent out and took aboard the old man and his family, who took aboard the old man and his family, who arrived in this city on the Belle Memphis.

Capt. Forrest first made his appearance at Island Sixty and a Government wood-yard in sight of Helenn, where they captured sixty head of horses, mules and a lot of cattle, ran wagons into the river, and made their escape with the booty, driving off the negroes living out he island. They next went to Friar's Point, stole all the goods in the place, carried off several wagon loads of flour, coffee and other supplies; captured a Mr. Somerville, of McCracken county, Kentucky, a cotton buyer: tock his horse, sadele, watch and $355 in gold; a man sleeping with him was robbed of $1,000 in greenbacks. Supposing it belonged to Somerville the party then left, taking their prisoners with them. A few miles out the party divided, a guard of twelve men being detailed to carry the prisoners to Forrest's headquarters, a chance to escape. Somerville quiety left the camp for the canebrake, and cuding his pursuers, finally rached the free-tone at Friar a Point. He recognized a large number of Kentucky acquaintances among to:rest s guerillas. Cantain helly had a good opportunity of learning the realing of the people in Arkansas and Mississipp atong the river. He found almost a universal desire to end the war and return to the Union, if the sire to end the war and return to the Union, if the robel Gover me t would permit. He left the Freestone at Friar s Point.

Ephraim Thomas, who killed the soldier, William Thomas, in Dougrevin, yesterday, was killed by Thomas's comrades to-day, two shots entering his body.

A deserter from the 128th Illinois was killed to-day, in Williamson county, by the officers who tried to arrest him. Five deserters from the same vicinity were brought down to-day.

"Major-General Commanding." LATEST FROM WASHINGTON.

[By the People's Telegraph Line.] Washington, Feb. 5:—In the House to-day the filibustering, resolution to prevent the vote being taken on the amendment explanatory o the Confiscation act was renewed, and continued till nearly two o'clock, when the majority gave way and by unanimous consent ar a rangements were made to proceed with the debate till F. P. Blair (Mo.), Green Clay Smith 5 (Ky.), and Mr. Pruyn (N. Y.) had concluded their speeches, when the vote will be taken without further delay. * The Republican of this morning says: "We are assured that the rumors put forth of real or apprehended difficulties between our Govern_ ment and France are without any foundation." The report in the Herald to-day that Gen. Thomas is to command the Army of the Potomac, and Gen. Hooker the Army of the Cumberland, is discredited in military circles

THE LOSS BY THE FIRE AT HARTFORD. HARTFORD, Feb. 5 .- The Secretary of Colt's Company states that two millions of dollars will not cover the loss by the destructive fire this morning. There was four hundred thousand dollars worth of finished work ready for shipment, and about one million dollars worth in various stages of completion.

FURTHER CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS. HOUSE.—Several motions were made and voted by yeas and nays to occupy the time till an ac-commodation was arrived at concerning the action on the joint resolution, namely, that on the joint resolution, namely, that Mr. Blair (Mo.), Smith (Ky.), and Pryor should speak, when the vote would be taken.

Mr. Blair opposed the pending resolution, saying that it made an issue between the President
