Authority from the War Department for the organization of another new regiment is expected within a day or two. Yesterday a full company was sent into Delaware to recruit. They will proceed to Seaford and then march to Wilmington to obtain recruits on the way. Three companies sent into the same State a short time since returned in four cays with one hundred men, mostly slaves. "Upholstery."-Hotels, Steamboats and public institutions needing carpets laid, mattresses made or overhauled, or furniture re-upholstered, and their work quickly despatched by a full force of competent workmen, will do well to apply to W. HENRY PATTEN,

'INMITABLE FINE CONFECTIONS .- Pure and rich manufactures of every kind attract the public taste almost as quickly as the perfect and varied charms of nature ceize upon the fancy and secure the attention of the mind. This is true of the inimitably fine confections of Mr. Stephen F. Whitman, No. 1210. Market street, His skill has wrought not only nurerous beautiful forms, impressed with taste and delicacy, but the varied flavors of the choicest fruits of the earth are imparted to the cunning devices that captivate the palate. In all the confections that we have noticed there is nothing comparable, in the harmonions admixture of sweetness, flavor and form, to the hundreds of delicate confections manufactured by Mr. Whitman.

WINDOW SHADES .- W. Henry Patten has the pleasure to inform his numerous customers and friends that his Spring etyles of Shades are now ready at 1408 Chestnut street.

ANTICIPATE TIME.—It is well for all classes of our citizens to be anticipating events that must occur, and for this reason we recommend the pra-dent to call at the establishment of Oakford & Sons, under the Continental Hotel, and examin out at cost. It is better to sell these goods at cost prices than wait until the next Fur season and be kept out of the money which they originally cost. This shows great prudence in the firm, and now is the time for ladies to purchase.

CONFIDENCE.-Sam. Weller inclined to the opinion that confidence was essential to the proper enjoyment of "weal" nie. Sam intimated a susenjoyment of "weal" pie. Sam intimated a suspicion that canine flesh was substituted for the meat of culves; hence his sagacions remark. Confidence is also essential to the enjoyment of confectionery, and the judicious consumer desires to be assured that his sweetmeats contain nothing that is impure or inferior. E. G. Whitman & Co., No. 31s Chestnut street, below Fourth, conduct their business upon a plan to inspire entire confidence. They of mploy none but the very best materials in their manufactures, and they strictly discard everything that is not entirely pure and wholesome. For fancy and plain confections that are no less congenial to the stomach than they are acceptable to the palate, go to the establishment of E. G. Whitman & Co.

MENT, BY DE. VON MOSCHZISKER, OCCLIST AND AVEIST.—Messrs. Martin & Randall, Publishers, 29 South Sixth street, in announcing the above work to be ready for sale next Monday, do, with the utmost confidence, assert that this is the most complete, most instructive popular medical work on that subject that has ever been published. It has no rival; its value is not only to the medical man and all persons suffering from any malady of the Ear, but its worth to every family can scarcely be estimated. It is full of the most useful information and instruction, the lack of which is too frequently of considerable suffering and increased loss of hearing when the organ becomes or is at all affected. It is a work written with an earnost view for the real enlightenment not only of the medical man, but the public at large, giving them practical knowledge on the subject. That no one is better able to have written such a work than Dr. Von Moschzisker need scarcely be stated. His reputation for years and his success in the treatment of all maladies of the Earand Eye is too well established to need any further comment by the publishers of this work.

POPULARITY OF THE GROVEE & BAKER SEWING MACHINES.—The testimonials in favor of

SEWING MACHINES.—The testimonical in favor of the Grover & Baker Sewing Machines over all others in use are so numerous, and emanate from such respectable sources, that their supremacy may well be regarded as a universally admitted fact. The following, from the editorial columns of Gedey's Lady's Book, is one among hundreds of motice. The editor says: "We have frequently and strongly recommended these useful articles to our subscribers; we have done so because we know and have tested them, both in our homes and eisewhere. There are two necessary things for house-keeping without them. Send to them, for one of their catalogues, No. 730 Chestant street, and see to what various uses in sewing they can be applied. The very finest and the coarsest sewing can be done on them with equil facility."

Lubricating Oils.—We have already had

LUBRICATING OILS.—We have already had occasion to speak approvingly of the excellent Luoccasion to speak approvingly of the excellent Lubricating Oils sold by Messrs. Hulburt & Co., No. 240 Arch street, as being in many respects superior to any others in use, while their cost is moderate. They have been tested, and are now in use by most of our city railroads, and are found to answer better than any other lubricator in the world. They ought to be universally adopted. Messrs. Hulburt & Co.'s Signal Oils, Carriage Oils, Sewing Machine Oils, and oils for illuminating purposes, are also unsurpassed by any others in existence, and their prices are unusually low.

A New Picture.—Messrs. Wenderoth &

A New Picture.—Messrs. Wenderoth & Taylor, 912, 914 and 916 Chestnut street, are now executing the new style of picture (which we think destined to unusual popularity), entitled the Photo-Miniature. For artistic merit this picture excels anything that Photography has hither-to produced. The specimens at their galleries are much admired by the best judges of art.

COAL! COAL!! COAL!!!-Mr. A. T. Markley, proprietor of the extensive Coal Yards at the southwest corner of Broad and Race, has constantly on hand a full supply of all the most desirable varieties of Schuylkill and Lehigh Coal, prepared expressly for family use. The celebrated Honeybrock and R inbow Coal; also, Coals for Smithshops and Foundries, constantly on hand, at the lowest market rates.

KIN-NE-NO-NE-AW !- Rather difficult to pronounce till you get used to it, it is true, but it is nounce till you get used to it, it is true, but it is the title of the richest, most soothing, fragrant and delicious smeking tobacc that ever graced the bowl of the most fastidious connoisseur's pipe! As indicated by its name, it owes its paternity to the "red man of the forest," and is all the better for that. An enterprising Philadelphian, Mr. E. H. Hunt, No. 511 Chestnut street, has lately brought the compound to the notice of us "pade faces," and we thank him for the courtesy. It is now offered for sale by all tobacconists.

SPECTACLES FOR THE OLD .- A sensible Jerseyman has willed $200 to the New Jersey Bible Society for buying spectacles for old people, so that Society for buying spectacles for old people, so that they may see to read. He is unwilling that they should miss the opportunity of perusing the daily newspaper notices of the elegant garments for gentlemen and youths that are made at the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 63 and 635 Chestnut street, above Sixth. The benevolent Jerseyman had as much of practical wisdom as he had of kindness in his composition when he made this bequest.

THE BLOOD-HOUND QUESTION.
A correspondent writes from Helene, Arkansas, as follows: The blood-hound question has often been discussed in the North, and Mrs. Stowe's narrative of the barbarous custom of hunting men with hounds has frequently been denied. Hightoned Southerners have colored with pious indignation at the idea, and feeling women have denied the imputation as an "Abolition false-The fact is, the barbarisms of slavery have been studiously concealed by the representatives of Southern chivalry, and the Northhas only been allowed to take a look now and then behind the curtain. Then the happy Sambos have been arranged intelling tableaux, and the Northern audience has gone away astonished at the beneficent institution.

Recently circumstances have happened, and facts have been disclosed in Coahoma county, Mississippi, opposite Helena, which I have de-termined to send you, and forever settle the blood-hound question. The staunch old veteran Buford commands at Helena. He is known as an elegant gentleman, a philosopher among the white men, and a terror to secessionistsan iron hand concealed beneath the silk glove. He is General, Judge, Jury, Mayor and Governor of the city, and through his strategy many secessionists, guerillas and rebel officers are brought to justice. Every law, order, and proclamation is carried out, in letter and spirit, in his department. Not withstanding the President's proclamation, James Stacey, a citizen of Coahoma county, continued his only legitimate business of hunting runaway slaves with blood-

Gen. Buford heard the hounds baying over the hills, and thinking blood hounds antagonistic to the spirit of the Proclamation, he determined to break it up. Captain T. C. Meatyarder was sent with a squad of soldiers, and James Stacey was caught and brought to the military prison. Mrs. James Stacey, M at ease that James should be interrupted in his honest and respectable calling, came to see the General in regard to releasing her husband. In answer to the questions of General Enford she said that her husband's occupation was to hunt negroes—that he kept five to ten hounds all the time for this purpose—that he had hunted slaves for a hundred different men in Mississippi, and that slaves were sometimes bitten by the dogs. She said James received $10 per day, or $100 per head for each negro caught, for the use of his pack of hounds. The following is a correct list of prominent citizens in Mississippi, for whom James Stacey has hunted negroes: Dr. Pease, Col. Fowler, Frank Irving, John Clarke, Dr. Vandervoort, Dr. Gates, M. H. McNeil, Gen. Alcorn, Dr. Rouselle, P. Dickenson, L. Dickenson, Lieut.-Col. Chambers, Frank Wood, Col. Saunders. James Stacey makes the following statement:

STATEMENT OF MR. JAMES STACEY, NEGRO-HUNTER.

MILITARY PRISON, HELENA, ARK., Jan. 19, 1864.—I have been for twelve years eatching negrees, and continued it until they killed my best dog. Since that I have done none of it, and never intend to do it any more. I was employed by the citizens—no one in particular, but any one who wanted me to do it for them, and would pay me. The scout who took Mr. H. Beard and son (Capt. T. C. Meatyarder) killed my best dog, and brought one of my others to town with them. My price for catching negroes was one hundred dollars ($100) per head. head. I never was in the Confederate army; have lived in Coahoma county, Miss., for sixteen years. My reasons for quitting the business was because I thought it had about played out. It was too dangerous business these JAMES STACES. times.

E. S. Rogers, Lieut. in charge of prison. Attest, WM. CHANDLER, First Lieut., and A. D. C. The hounds of James Stacey are now scat-tered and killed, with the exception of one which Gen. Buford keeps at his headquarters to illustrate the facts of this letter, Re-Enlisted.—The Forty-sixth regiment of Pennsylvania Volunteers, will return home soon, having re-enlisted under their Colonel,

James L. Selfridge.
