THE DAILY EVENING BULLETIN: PHILADELPHIA, MONDAY. FEBRUARY 8. 1864

For the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.] FAST TENNESSEE.

AIR-"Maryland, my Maryland!"

Still faithful 'mid the faithless found, East Tennessee, East Tennesseet From mountain's side to river's bound, East Tennessee, East Tennessee!

Thy noblest slaughtered in their youth, Thine old men dying for the truth, Thy daughters brave, suite woe and ruth. East Tennessee, East Tennessee!

Shall Burnside's valor prove in vain, East Tennessee, East Tennessee? To break for aye thy tyrant's chain, East Tennessee, East Tennessee? Though Richmond's prisons hold our sons, Columbia's jails our tortured ones, With grief for thee, our breast o'errans, East Tennessee, East Tennessee!

Shall we in plenicous ease repose,

East Tennessee, East Tennessee! While thou art fainting 'neath thy woes, East Tennessee, East Tenne-see! Thy happy homes, now desolute, Thy sons pursued with savage hate, E'en in thine arms, thrice glorious State?

East Tennessee, East Tennessee! Our hands, our hearts, our swords are thine,

East Tennessee, East Tennessee! We give not water for thy wine, Hast Tennessee, East Tennessee! Forbid it, God, that we whem Heaven Has blessings with our sorrows given, Should let thee from cur side be riven, East Tennessee, East Tennessee!

Bear on, brave hearts, thy dawn is near. /East Tennessee, East Tennessee!

When clouds and darkness disappear, East Tennessec, East Tennessee!

E'en row from mountain top and tree Floats forth the banner of the Free, Eright signal of thy loyalty,

East Tennessee, East Tennessee! · OLARA VON M -----

LATE SOUTHERN GLEANINGS. From late files of Southern papers received at the BULLETIN office, we extract the following items :

The appropriations passed by the rebel Congress for the support of the government for the year ending June 30th, 1864, include 'some curious items, among them the following: Sala-ry of the President of the Confederate States, $12,500; salary of the Vice-President, $3,000; expenses incurred in the keeping and transportation of coin belonging to New Orleans banks, $559; transportation of troops and stores, and purchase of animals and stores, by the Quartermaster's Department, $70,630,446; sustenance of prisoners and hire of prisons for the same, $1,000.000; nitre and mining service, $9,500,-000; construction of iron-clads in the Confederate States, $3,000,000; construction of sub-marine batteries, $100,000; support of Marine Corps, $400,357; construction of four steam cruisers in the Confederate States of the class of the Alabama and Florida, $2,500,000; compensation of Governor and other officers of Arizona Territory, $4,600 50; amount required to comply with treaty stipulations entered into between the Confederate States and certain Indian tribes, $182,660 57. The total appropriation amounts to $478,858,985 90.

The Stockholders of the Washington and New Orleans Telegraph Company are notified to call at the office of the Southern Telegraph Company, in Columbia, S. C., and receive their dividends.

A glass factory has been established in Columbus. Ga. This is said to be the second in the rebel States, the other being at Richmond. The Charleston Courier contains a number of advertisements of houses for rent and for sale

Beauregard's Chief of Staff notifies citizens not to purchase from soldiers copper, brass or zinc, as the metals are wanted "for purposes essential to the defence of Charleston."

A. Pickens Butler, a clerk in the Second Aus office at Richmond, and a grand-nenher of the late Judge Butler, of South Carolina, was accidentally killed recently, by falling down the steps of the Custom House at Wilmington, North Carolina. The Sumter (Ga.) Republican says that the price of a load of wood in that part of Georgia increases from four to five dollars a day. The editor of the Atlanta (Ga.) Confederacy, thus laments the scarcity of food and raiment : To go to market in our city at present is to express a determination to spend all the loose change you have about you. Beef at one dollar and a half, and pork at two dollars and a half, are high living sure. And yet these prices are demanded at the market stalls. Meal is now held at twenty dollars per bushel, and flour at seventy dollars per hundred weight. and other things in proportion. As for the minor articles of dry goods, the finances of few men will sustain the articles as a luxury, and not many can indulge it even as a necessity. We have not had a suit of new clothes in so long a time that we have serious apprehensions that were we to come out in one now. our dearest friend would not recog-We have a partial recollection of nize us. having indulged such things when we were younger; but, alas! in these latter days only a vision and a memory of new clothes crosses our mind. But we sometimes suffer ourselves to dream of such things, and imagine ourselves rigged out in a bran new suit, and we feel as proud as any other man. But it all ends in dreams, and we awake to the sad reality that the old coat clings to us yet. As for the article of boots, and other articles of minor importance in our wardrobe, we find they stand in same category with our coat-all worn and seedy, and yet too well loved to be cast aside. Synopsis of the consolidated reports of the hospitals in the Department of Virginia, (rebel), from September, 1862, to December 1863, inclusive, as presented by Surgeon W. A. Carrington, Medical Director, shows the following: Total number admitted, 293,165; transferred, 127,530; returned to duty, 98,340; furloughed, 39,665; discharged, 4,441; deserted, 4,446; died, 10,248; in hospital, January 1, 1864, 8,495. In giving the statistics, of course no reference is made to the patients "transferred." as they were only temporarily under Dr. Carn's care. The Charleston Courier of Jan. 20th. says One of Gillmore's shells, on Monday, entered one of our smaller churches—not one of our older and more prominent churches, which have notoriously been used by their spires for targets-and nearly destroyed and obliterated a copy of a book once held in some esteem by the "settlers" in New England and New York. He has diminished our stock of Bibles by virtu-He has diministed our stock of Divies by virtu-ally destroying one copy. Let the scattered and torn fragments and pieces of this shattered Bible be kept, and let some of them be sent to the British and Foreign Bible Society, the American Bible Society, and other institutions of the sort, as memorials of Yankee warfare. We have a small portion of this shattered Bible, beginning with part of the 13th Matthew, and concluding a part of 15th Mark. The shell has passed through the lower half of the paging, and the first page we have has been n just below the 28th verse of 13th Mat thew; leaving this verse :
