THE WAR LE NORTH GAROLEEA.

THE WAR IN NORTH CAROLINA. [Correspondence of the New York Times.]
Newbern, N. C., Sunday. Feb 7, 1864.—The dications justify the assertion that the rebels Newbern, N. C., Sunday, Feb 7, 1883. —The ndications justify the assertion that the rebels have retreated. That they came in force, expected to capture Newbern, were foiled and obliged to retire, is certain. With regard to the number of their army, let it be noted in the first place that the prisoners taken, say 150 in all, represent 18 differen' regiments, as follows: 1st North Carolina Battallon, 5th, 21st, 25th, 49th, 51st North Carolina in fantry; During's Battery, Virginia artillery, 9th, 11th, 14th, 15th, 17th, 24th, 29th, 38th, 53d, 57th Virginia infan'ry, 21st Georgia Infantry. There is good reason to believe that Maj. Gen. Pickett, Brig. Gens. Ransom, Hope, Rhett, Shaw and Hood were with their brigades. Hood's cook has escaped, and is within our lines. I saw him to-day. Their plan seems to have been to attack us by land and water, at Batchelor's Oreek, near the Neuse River, Brier's Creek, S. C., near the Trent, Newport, twenty miles below us on the railroad to Morehead city, and our boats in the harbor. The most reliable information warrants us in putting down their force at from 15,000 rants us in putting down their force at from 15,000 to 20,000.

AMUSEMENTS.
THE GERMAN OPERA.—For Ash Wednesday the attendance at the Academy last evening was remarkably good. La Dame Blanche was performed in admirable style, and its charming melodies gave great delight. Mme. Johannsen did her part satisfactorily. Mme. Frederici looked and sang isfactorily. Mme. Frederici looked and sang beautifully. Her lovely ballad, sung at the spinning wheel, was heartily applauded. Mile. Caniesa, as 'Jenny,' did her best, but that is not very geod. Mr. Hermanns was excellent as 'Gavesion.' The great part of the opera is that of 'George Brown,' and in this Mr. Habelmann appeared to great advantage. His first cavatina, best known by its French words, 'Ah quel plaisir detile 'cidat,' was sung brilliant'y, and in the last scene, where the quaint air of 'Robin Adair' is introduced, he was remarkably effective. The concerted pieces of the opera were well done, and one delicious trio was encored. The orchestra was excellent as usual. La Dams Blanche will always draw well when Habelmann is the tenor. Tomorrow evening our first taste of 'the music of morrow evening our first taste of the music of the future' is to be given us. Wagner's opera of Tannhaisr is to be performed, with the full strength of the company. Of course the house will be crowded will be crowded. NEWS FROM MEXICO.

[Correspondence of the N. Y. Tribune.] [Correspondence of the N. Y. Tribune.]

HAVANA, Feb. 6.—The British Royal Mail stemmer Conway arrived yesterday afternoon, bringing us dates from the City of Mexico to the 25th, and from Vera Cruz to the 31st. By her we have important news, if true, by which the cause of Juarez has received such a blow as will rander the occupation of Mexico an easier affair for the French than even they expected two months since. since.

The Sociedad says: "On the 4th ult, at 10 A.M., the authorities of the City of San Luis Potosi gave in their act of adhesion to the Intervention and the Empire. The Political Prefect off-red the articles of that document for discussion, which, without any dissent, was unanimously accepted and passed." Now, as San Luis has been for some time occupied by the Franco-Mexican forces under Mejia, there can have been no other "authorities" than those of his own choosing, and he would only have placed, or allowed to remain in der Mejia, there can have been no other 'authorities'' than those of his own choosing, and he would only have placed, or allowed to remain in authority, such as might be 'unanimously' in favor of his wishes. This, I suspect, has been the case in most instances where towns; &c., have been reported ashaving declared for the Intervention and Empire.

We are fold that on the 5th ult. Guanajusto as well as the neighboring villages of Mellado, Cata, Sirena, Valenciana, and San Luis de la Paz 'ude-clared in favor of,'' &c. What else could they do! A letter from Celaya, under date of the 5th ult. says that 'dest night arrived in this city (!) tha Juarist General Echeegarny, who was captured by a small force—part of this garrison—at Salvatier-ra.'' From Puebla, on the 10th olt., we learn that the commandant, Augustin Roldal, atta ked and finally captured the town of San Juan de los Lilanos; but his account says, after describing his force and their positions, 'But it became indispensable to make use of every soldier, succeeding through the valor and heroism of my soldiers in snatching a triumph from the hands of our enemy. It is now noon, and the fire grows less in the centre of the city, and I improve the opportunity. Our soldiers have taken reigners Gen Carawala. Colliders have taken reigners. the city, and I improve the opportunity. Our soldiers have taken prisoners Gen. Garzayala, Col. Ignacio Romero, and a multitude of soldiers many killed and wounded, and having only to lament the loss on our side of one sergeant, two soldiers badly wounded and one slightly—all of the infantry.

Marquez, from Morelia, 8th inst., writes, "I Marquez, from Morelia, 8th inst., writes, "I am getting along, so much so that last night I went to the balcon'y to receive the ladies who came to congratulate me on my recovery, and to deliver to me the 'act of adhesion to the empire' issued by the principal people of the place and nearly all the decint families." From Morelia, 4th ult., we are told that the town of Zamora 'declared for the intervention, ac.' on the approach of the French, yes, and just for that reason. "To-day (4th ult.,) the rumor is current that 500 Chasseurs de Afrique captured Gen Uraga and two men who accompanied him at Tingnindin."

the rumor is current that 500 Chasseurs de Afrique eaptured Gen. Uraga and two men who accompanied bim at Tinguindin."

Mr. Lyons, the Director and Chief Engineer of the Vera Cruz Raiiroad, died at that port on the 22d ult., from effects of wounds received October 22d last, from generillas who attacked the train. Mr. Lyons leaves many friends in the United States to mourn his loss, and was generally respected in Vera Cruz A long train of carriages accompanied his mortal remains to their last resting place. Mr. Deckhart, of Pennsylvania, succeeds him.

Vera Cruz, Jan. 26.—The day before yesterday the convoy from Jalspa, so long expected, arrived here, escorted by the Liceaga brigade. They were not attacked on the way and have arrived safely. Guerillas seldom attack a brigade.

A letter from Vera Cruz Jan. 22, published in the Diarie of this city says:

"The latest letters from Jalapa give accounts of a horrible assault made by the Liberal refugees at Hacolulam on three carriages containing several families, and accompanied by some soldiers of Perote. All the latter were killed, as were all the ladies and children, none escaping save a lady who carried in her arms an infant, and Don Antonio Bonilla. There were killed in this savage massacre Dolores Arista, daughter of the former President of Mexico; Don Mariano Arista; a girl of six years of age, daughter of Gen. Morenc; the entire fomily of Capt. Matumoras, consisting of himself, wife, a daughter of fifteen, and two boys. In one of the carriages came the young Lieut. Oclonel Bonilla, a lunatic, who received a ball in als forehead, and at last dates was expiring at Jalapa."

Campeachy is reported to have captulated on the 21th in Vera Cruz with salutes of Artillery. The Estofettic says that on the narrival of Gen. Castagny at 2m Luis, Mejia was to march on Matchusla, and L'Herflier on Zacatecas; so the reported capture of the latter city turns out false, as may be the case with reports we have of several other places having surrendered. The Courrier du Mazique sa Bazline has started from Guacalajara for Zacatecas, leaving agarrison of 2,000 men. On the lith there arrived at San Luis 800 men under Gen. Castagny, and left again on the 13th for Zacatecas; 1,440 more, under Col. Aymard, were expected on the 14th. The Eathelite says that Montholon is busy night and day assorting the archives of the Legation and preparing the commissions which are to re-establish the validity of the French clams (including, of conrise, the grand swindle of Jecker, Napoleon & Co.) The same paper, of the 14th, says that Vidaurri, Gonzalos Ortega, and Doblado have intimated to Jaurez that he must abdicate, and that if he refuses they will declare his dismissal. That as soon as either of these events takes place the stree will give in their adherence to the intervention, &c. Tho same adherence to the intervention, &c. The same paper of the next day says: "By the mail from San Luis Potosi, arrived last night, we know paper of the next day says: "By the mail from San Luis Potost, arrived last night, we know that Jaurez has resigned the Presidency, and that Gonzales Ortega succeeds him."

This paper gives no credit to the report that Doblado and Ortega will surrender, and goes on to say that in the eyes of the General-in-Chief, Ortega can only be looked upon as an escaped prisoner of war, and the Orizava runaway cannot negotiate with him in anything in the capacity of a belligerent. Gen. Bazaine left Guadalajara on the 12th ult., and was expected to arrive at Mexico the latter part of January. Father Miranda continues very ill at Puebla, to which place alone has he been able to arrive as yet. The vanguard of Mejia left San Luis on the 12th, and he was to leave with the rest on the 20th ult.

From Santo Domingo nothing comes to us save sick and wounded, but men, provisions, arms, &c. &c., continue to go to that Island. The Government has chartered the English steamer Kester to leave to-day with mules, provisions and

cc. &c., continue to go to that Island. The Vorternment has chartered the English steamer Kester to leave to-day with mules, provisions and men for St. Fomingo, and others are preparing.

The Captain-General of St. Domingo issued a decree on the 27th ult., by which—because of the large numbers of spies, prisoners, &c., in his hands, and there being no buildings in which to confine them, and fearing some epidemic on account of them, he ordains and declares that hereafter all spies, propagandists, &c. &c., are to be shot as soon as caught—procuring, if possible (1) an inquiry as to the identity of the person. (It will never be possible, and this is, therefore, a command to give no quarter; as every prisoner will be called a spy, propagandist, &c.) Terrible will be the retalisation of the "Rubels." Already so infuriated against the Spaniards as at times to be unconvollable by their leaders, they will now burn, slay, and destroy, without mercy.

GENERAL KELLEY'S DEPARTMENT. HEADQUARTEES, DEPARTMENT OF WESTERN VIRGINIA, Feb. 10, 1864.—Twenty-five refugees came in in one squad to General Sullivan, to-day.

came in ione squad to General Sulivan, to-day. They are from Page and Shenandoah counties. These refugees tell sad tales of the workings of the rebel Conscription law. They say a Georgia regiment is enforcing the conscription in that section of country where they resided, and that these Georgians shoot down every man who is caught in an attempt to escape Peserters in large numbers continue to arrive at all our military posts along the line. From twenty-five to thirty deserters arrive at New Creek every day. One party of refugees who passed through Beverley reports band of refugees three hundred strong making their way to our lines. The cattle and sheep that General Robert Lee claims General Rosser to have captured, were taken from citizens' residences situated very many taken from citizens' residences situated very many miles from our lines. This speaks for itself.

THE VACANCY IN THE SENATE .- We learn that Dr. Thomas St. Clair, an old physician of the borough of Indiana, has been selected as the Administration candidate for the State Senate, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Major White. The election takes place on the 19th inst.

Mr. Stephen Benton occupied the chair, and Mr. Henry R. Edmunds acted as secretary. The election for a new president, in the place of Mr. Benton, who declined a renomination, was the ccassion of a spirited demonstration on the part of the members. Two graduates were placed in nomination, viz. Messrs John Davis Watson and Charles Buckwalter. There were 161 votes cast, of which Mr. Watson received 62, and Mr. Buckwalter, 39. Mr. Buckwalter was declared elected. Objection was made on the ground of the validity of the election, there having been more votes cast than there were sufficient dues paid to justify.

Mr. Watson expressed his satisfaction at the result, and took occasion to hope that the High-School Alumni should never attain a reputation of political partisanship. This, he feared, had been reduced to an issue, though both himself and Mr. Buckwalter deprecated any such position.

Mr. Benjamin H. Haines said that the election had been trandulent, and that he himself had not paid his dues. Mr. Haines had voted for Mr. Watson.

Thetreasurer stated that it was impossible fof him to keep an account of dues paid. After considerable iceling manifested on both sides, the business of the association was proceeded with. For the Alumni speaker the genilemen placed in nomination were Chas. Henry Brock, Henry R. Edmunds, and Robert D. Coxe. Mr. Edmunds was decisred elected. A resolution was adopted appointing a committee to inquire whether any of the alumni are in the robel service, and if so, to report that their names be stricken from the rolls. It was stated that George W. Alexander, of the ALUMNI.—Last evening the Alumni Association, of the Central High School, held their semi-annual

CHARGED WITH ARSON.—Before Alderman

Miller, yesterday afternoen, Richard Atmore was charged with arson, in setting fire to four hay ricks on the farm of Wm. Jones, on the Island Road, adjoining the Suffolk Park, in the Twenty-fourth Ward. The evidence showed that Atmore worked for Mr. Jones, and on Tuesday had a dispute with him at the Blue Pell Tayern, about wages. He was much under the influence of liquor at the time, and a difficulty ensued, during which the detendant threatened to burn the hay and barn of Mr. Jones, and started off in that direction. It was not thought that he would execute his threat, but he went directly to the place and fired the hay. But for the neighbors and the Kingsessing Fire Company, the barn and the whole premises would have been destroyed. As it was, four ricks and some shedding were burned. Atmore was arrested upon the premises by some citizens, and was upon the premises by some citizens, and was handed over to the police. After the hearing he was fully committed to answer. He then voluntarily confessed his crime, said that liquor was the cause of it, and expressed regret for what he had

Assault and Battery.—Alderman Beitler had before him yesterday Samuel Jeffries and Samuel Smith, charged with having committed an assault and battery upon Casper M. Berry. According to the evidence it seems that last Monday evening Lieutenant Heily invited Lieutenant Morris and Mir. Berry to take a ride to Germantown. On their return home they came in contact with a Lieutenant Townsend, whom they invited in the carriage. He expressed a wish that they should drive to Reeder's Hotel, where he was stopping, that he might get his coat. After alighting from the carriage, Lieutenant Townsend was struck upon the bead by a person on the sidewalk. Mr Berry went to his assistance, when he was dragged into the dining-room of the hotel by a party and the doors closed. The party then commenced an assault upon him. He received a cut over the head with a billy, and was knocked down insensible. At the hearing, Mr. Berry recognized Jeffries as one of the party, of the other he was not positive. They were held to bail to answer. Assault and Battery .- Alderman Beitler PARADE ON WASHINGTOR'S BIRTH-DAY .-

PRESENTERIAN BANNER-This old and widely circulated religious journal is again under the editorial control of Rev. James Allison, assisted by Professor Robert Patterson, Revs. David and Isaac McKinney having retired from the editorialship of the paper. The editor in again resuming his responsible and arduous position says: "It will be our united aim and effort to make the Banner such a religious newspaper as the advance of the world, the progress of the Presbyterian Church, and the growth of all Evangelical Churches, demand and merit. Our endeavor will be to build up the Church; to instruct, comfort and encourage the people of God; to sliow the evil of sin and the beauty of holiness; to diffuse the light of Christian joy and hope in every household to which we may be welcomed." The Banner has always b high-toned journal, a zealous advocate of the religious tenets of the denomination of which it is the organ, and liberal to its cotemporaries who may honestly differ with it.
