INTERESTING SOUTHERN GLEANINGS. From late Southern papers received at the Bul-

From late Southern papers received at the BulLetin office, we obtain the following interesting items:

Dr. W. McClure, a well-known embalmer of the dead in Richmond, and Robert Kirby, were arrested on the fifth instant, near a picket line, for forging passports. A safe transit to the Potomac was to be rewarded by the payment of three thousand dollars by the person who escaped from rebeloom by means of one of these passports.

The Milledgeville, Ga., Recorder states that Coton Cards may be purchased at the penitentiary, at that place, for six dollars a pair, "half in skins and the other half in money." For dog, sheep, goat or deer skins, the price allowed is twenty-five cents for twenty-two inches in length and five inches in wighth.

Two thousand negroes for sixty days, to be sent to Charleston to work on fortifications forthwith, are called for by the rebel Government.

The pomolo, ical venders on the streets have put the price of fruit up to one dollar per stem, and small at that; but they go off rapidly, even at that high figure.—Allanta Confederacy, Feb. 5.

At an auction sale of furniture on Market street, yesterday, we saw a bedstead knocked down for the moderate sum of Silo. Two mattresses which were on the bedstead were then offered—one said to be cotton, the other wool. The supposed cotton mattress was about to be knocked down at Silo, and was finally knocked down to the lucky discoverer at Silo. Various other articles of furniture were sold, all commanding fabulous prices.

The Petersburg Express of the 30th ult, says a train of eighteen cars, loaded with Government coffee, arrived there the day before from the South,
It had reached the country through the blockade at a Southern port, and was sent to Virginia for the army. There were in all about twelve hundred sacks.

LATER FROM THE SOUTH.

From the Richmond Examiner of the 9th instant we take the following:

OPERATIONS ON THE PENINSULA.

The accounts brought in yesterday afternoon by our couriers represent the enemy still holding his position at Talleysville, or in the vicinity of the junction of the Williamsburg and Hanover reads, twenty-four miles from Richmond; and repeat precisely the Examiner's former accounts of the enemy's strength. The enemy had made no movement yesterday at the hour these accounts were received at Bichmond.

It is now surmised, with a certain degree of plausibility, that the demonstration of the enemy at of his lines on the peninsula. It is supposed that new line, extending from Cumberland, on the Paminet, to Windor Shades, on the Chickshominy, which will take in a large portion of Charles city and New Kent counties. This extension of the twenty-five or thirty miles wide, and would put his base of opperations so man heaver Richmond. The latest reports last night were that the enemy was retiring in the direction of New Kent Court those. But the information was not explicit as to the force in which he was retiring. There had been no collision with him since Sunday morning. This latest intelligence served to disperse the rumors on the street, one of which persisted in as.

serting the capture of two of Col. Shingler's companies and to restore quiet to the city.

The local forces were relieved yesterday by order of the authorities.

THE COMMANDER AT RIOHMOND.

We were in error yesterday in stating that Gen. Hood had taken command around Richmond. We are more pleased to learn that this gallant commander and popular favorite, whose nomination has been recently confirmed as lieutenant general; has been assigned to the Army of Tennesse, and will take the field there in that conscious and critical theatre of the war in the course of the next fertnight. The forces defending Richmond were, as heretofore, under Gen. Elzey, whose arrangements were made with judgment, and on good information of the whole facts, as proven by the results on this as on previous similar occasions.

GENERAL LEE'S REPORT OF AFFAIRS ON THE RAPIDAN.

ORANGE COURT HOUSE Feb. 8, 1861.—General S. Cooper, Adjutant General:—The force of the enemy which crossed at Morion's Forti on Saturcay were driven to the river under cover of their guns. That evening or during the night they recrossed to the north bank, but remained in position yesterday. This morning they have disappeared. They fet seventeen dead and forty-six prisoners in our hends. Our loss was four killed: and twenty wounded. The guard at the ford, a lieuteant and twenty-five men, while bravely resisting the passage of the enemy, were captured. The elemy's cavalry, which appeared at Barnett's on Saturday, retired across Robinson river on Sunday evening. R. E. LEE, General Commanding.

The eneny crossed at Barnett's Ford early this morning, but soon recrossed again.

[From the Richmond Examiner, Feb. 9,]
The movement of the enemy appears to have been no more important than a feint or reconnoissauce. Recent Northern papers mention that Micade is still in Philadelphia, and it is altogether improbable that the enemy's force in Northern Virginia contemplates any serious advance in the absence of their commander.

BEPORTS FROM KNOXVILLE

AFFAIRS IN CHARLESTON HARBOR.
CHARLESTON, Feb. 8, 1864.—The enemy renewed

A fifth monitor made its appearance in the harbor fo-day. The position of the fleets in other respects is unchanged.

The enemy are engaged in mounting several guns at Wagner bearing upon the channel.

A two hundred pounder Parrott shell exploded last week in Charleston in the blocksmith's shot cornected with one of the foundries, wounding six of the boys employed in the shop—one mortally, one scriously, and four slightly. The alarm be I in the steeple of the First station partook of the general alarm on Studay, and rung itself hoarse, cracking its throat in the attempt to call out the militia. Its tongue could hardly articulate a sound yesterday, and the bell will be of little future service in ringing the hours or sounding fire valarms." "So much for overexertion."

[From the Wilmington (N. C.) Journal.]

Gradually the constant dropping of the enemy's shot and shell is beginning to tell upon the lower portion of the city of Charleston. Their chief spite, from what we can learn, appears to have been turned against Broad street; at least, its effects are most apparent in that vicinity. The street is considerably excumbered with bricks and other debris knocked out by the enemy's projectiles. It will take much time and money to repair the damage.

[From the Columbia South Carollinian]

A gentlemen who has just arrived in Columbia, from Richmond, brings the cheering intelligence that General Lee, in conversation with a bevy of friends recently, made the remark that with twenty thousand additional men in his army, and forty thousand additional troops in the army of General Johnson, we could whip all the Yankee tribes that may be brought against us. He further observed that if the context was prelonged until September next, and we should meet with no grave dissister, (which General Lee did not anticipate), the greatest crisis of the war would be successfully passed.

Attended the first street and the two of the grave dissisters, when General Lee did not anticipate), the greatest crisis of the war would be successful passed.

ANTICIPATED UPRISING OF THE UNION PRISONERS

AT BELLE ISLAND.

We understand that the military authorities felt warranted yesterday, acting upon information disclosed through an anonymous correspondence, in adopting extraordinary measures to prevent an uprising of the Yankee prisoners of war held on Belle Ieland, such a demonstration being hinted at as on the tapis. We will not state what are the preparations made to put down summarily any such foolish coup d'etat on the part of the prisoners; but we may state, for the benefit of the prisoners, that they are ample enough to relieve the public mind from any apprehension that they may be telf on that score.

FROM CHATTANOOGA. [Correspondence of the Unicinnati Commercial.] CHATTANOGA, Feb. 5.—Generals Schofield and Stoneman are now here, awaiting the first boat to Knoxville, to take their respective commands.
General Stoneman was offered the command either of the 4th or 33d Army Corps or the cavalry, and chose the latter.

Stoneman are now here, awaiting the first boat to Knoxville, to take their respective commands. General Stoneman was offered the command either of the 4th er 23d Army Corps or the cavalry, and chose the latter.

Yesterday, General Thomas, accompanied by his two visitors, made the tour of the fortidications and Lookout Mountain. The work on the former is steadily progressing; and from the general appearance of the improvements now in progress here, it would appear that the Government intends to make of this a permanent military post. As it has been Chattanooga, the "Eagle's Nest," heretofore, and is still, from the immense natural strength, so it is befitting that it should be, for all future time, the national Chattanoga, a place where the arms of the Republic, the patron Eagle, shall rest, unexared and unchallenged by all future rebels. One of these indications is the water works which are being erected near the river, from the rwins of some old rebel mills, and upon which a force of at least a hundred men is employed daily. These works will elevate the water about two hundred feet, to the top of Cameron Hill, from which it will be distributed through the village, and, doubtless, to the various forts surrounding it. There is even a rumor that there will be founded here, eventually, a military school, and certainly there are very few places in the West where the atmosphere is more military, and the surroundings more suggestive of battle.

I could not resist the temptation yesterday to pay a visit to the top of Lookout. The two miles with which I set out stretched to five before the summit was gained, and the last one was precisely amile and three-quarrers. A landscape extending into four, and, perhaps, the fifth State, plowed into vast ranges by the Alleghenes, looming off one beyond another, till the firthest and highest disputes the pussage of the clouds, the Tennessee drawing its silvery band in lazily, leagthened wanderings across the expanse, Chattanooga, with its thousand tents, its red forts of clay and
