XXXVINTH CONGRESS-FIRST SESSION. CONCLUSION OF SATURDAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

SENATE.

On motion of Mr. Wilson (Mass.) the Senate proceeded to the consideration of the bill equalizing the pay of United States soldiers.

Mr. Conness (Cal.) withdrew his amendment confining the benefits of the bill to those in the service from the passage of the act.

Mr. Sumner offered an amendment providing that, in cases where the Secretary of War shall be satisfied that persons of color have been mustered into the service at the rate of threen dollars per month, they shall be paid at the rate for previous services. services.
Mr.Grimes (Iowa) hoped that the Senator would withdraw his proposition, and that, from this time forward, every soldier, whatever might be his color, may receive the same pay; and it any abuses or acts of injustice arise they could be remedied by subseduent legislation. He hoped that the bill might be allowed to stand on its merits without making it retrospective.

Mr. Howe concurred with the views of the Senator from Yowa.

of the Senator from Massachusetts, some $500,000, would be taken from the treasury, or, as he understands it, about $1,500,000. All should be paid alike. Why did not Massachusetts pay those troops berself?

Mr. Fessenden said he understood that the colored troops refused to receive it.

Mr. Wilson explained the circumstances under which the colored troops from Massachusetts had refused to receive their pay. They held the government to the pledges made to them. and wanted the full pay of $13 per month, or asked to be discharged from the service.

the full pay of $15 per month, or asked to be discharged from the service.

Mr. Johnsen said they were colored gentlemon of extraordinary sensibilities.

Mr. Grimes said that from the very outset his colleague (Mr. Harlan) and himself were in favor of putting the negro troops on an equality with the whites. He was on the record in this respect previous to the action of the Senator from Massa-chusetts (Sumner).

Mr. Sumner said that in a public speech he had stated that while he was in favor of carrying the

Mr. Summer said that in a public speech he had stated that while he was in favor of carrying the war into Africa, he was more in favor of carrying the African into the war. [Laughter.]

Mr. Grimes said he was not only in favor of carrying the African into the war, but for paying him $\frac{1}{2}$!3 per month, and for placing him on a footing with other soldiers. If we were going back to pay these colored troops from Massachusetts, &c., why not pay those from Tennessee! He was informed that there were some thirty regiments of these troops there. He thought there was trouble in the future to be apprehended from making the retrospective character of this bill indiscriminate. He sympathized with the gallant and patriotic young the South Carolina regiments retused to receive their pay.

Mr. Gowan (Pa.), said that if we were going back for these colored men, he was also in favor of going back in favor of the white men who were our enriest volunteers, and had borne the heat and burden of the day. He was not in favor of over-riding the statutes to dojustice to these negro troops, until equal and exact justice had been done to the veteran white soldiers. When the country should be restored to its wonted prosperity, we could do justice to all, but now it is exceedingly dangerous.
The amendment of Mr. Wilson was then adopted.

The amendment of Mr. Doolittle, providing that from the monthly pay of colored troops mustered into the service in the insurrectionary States the sum of three dollars per month shall be reserved to reimburse the expenses incurred by the United States in feeding and clothing the widows, children and parents of the deceased, was rejected after Some debate.

Mr. Carlile (W. Va.) said that in the o'd days of peace, the negroes had a holiday on every Saturday afternoon, and as all persons were equal under the law, and as half the afternoon has been spent in the service of the negro, he moved that the Senate do adjourn. [Great laughter.]

At the instance of several Senators he withdrew his motion.

the same arm of service shall receive like compensation.
Mr. Cowan supported his amendment at length, claiming that the negro must be regarded as a cit-izen under the constitution, as he received the proizen under the constitution, as he received the protection of the laws.

Mr. Saulsbury (Del.) said if that was the basis of the Senator's substitute, it was abhorrent to his views, and he would not support it. The old-fashioned term was "negro;" now they are "colored citizens."

Mr. Howe would inquire whether the negroes were not colored in Delaware.

Mr. Saulsbury doubted if they were as "colored" as they were in Wisconsin, according to population. He would never consent to equality, either political or social, with the negro.

Mr. Cowan asserted that the negro had a legal status under the constitution which protected him.

Pending the action on the substitute of Mr. Cowan, the Senate adjourned.

LEAGUE ISLAND—VISIT OF THE HOUSE NAVAL COMMITTEE. LEAGUE ISLAND—VISIT OF THE HOUSE RAVAL COMMITTEE.

On Saturday the Committee on Naval Affairs of the House of Representatives visited League Island and Chester in charge of the Committee of Councils. Mesers. Rice, of Massachusetts; Griswold, of New Yorg; Rollins, of Missouri; Edgerton, of Indiana; Morehead and Kelly, of Pennsylvania, of the Committee, were of the party, together with Mesers. Randall, Myers and O'Neil, Representatives from this city. Mr. Broomall, of Chester, and a number of gentleman from that town were present. By some mismanagement the hour of departure in the boat from Philadelphia was delayed so long that it was at low water when at League Island, and high water when at Chester, thus exhibiting the Island to some disadvantage. Notwithstanding thes, however, the members of Congress who were not personally acquainted with the locality, expressed great surprise at finding the Island different from what had been represented by parties opposed to the site. Instead of a swamp, they found good solid earth, and a glance at the situation was sufficient to establish its security against attack by water or lead. Gentlemen of the Board of Trade and Corn Exchange who have given the whole subject a carrial and thorough examination, and who were present, explained to the Committee their grounds for urging League Island as the only proper site for the new Navy Yard.

The visit did great good, as it gave the members thorough examination, and who were present, explained to the Committee their grounds for urging League Island as the only proper site for the new Navy Yard.

The visit did great good, as it gave the members an opportunity of personally inspecting the locality and understanding the claims urged in its behalf. The party then proceeded to Chester, where the citizens entertained the gentlemen in the most liberal and handsome manner. Upon the return to Philadelphia a banquet was given in the evening at the Continental Hotel Among the invited guests were the Judges of the Supreme and other Courts, the heads of Departments, &c. Mr. James Lynd, President of Select Council, presided. The first tenst, 'The President of the United States, one of nature's noblest men,' was responded to by Hon. Alexander H. Rice, of Mass., Chairman of the Committee on Naval Affair. The second toast, 'The Union—it must be preserved.'' was responded to by Hon. James S. Rollins, of Missouri In the course of his remarks he said 'I am a citizen of Missouri; I am by birth, and rearing, and education, and marriage, and kindred, and interest, a Southern man, but I thank God I am at the same time a Union man.' [Oheers] The third teast, 'Our honored guests, the Committee on Naval Affairs—We are proud to welcome them to the hospitalities of our city,' was responded to by Hon. John A. Griswoid, of New York. He said: "I am satisfied that no man has that power of omniscience by which he can tell from day to day, or from hour to hour, what may meet him at the next, When I left the hotel this morning, as one of the committee, that I was to be led through a series of entertainments, magnificent and hospitable to the highest degree. I did not expect, when I left the hotel this morning, as one of the committee, that I was to be led through a series of entertainments, magnificent and hospitable to the highest degree. I did not expect, when I left the hotel this morning, as one of the committee, that I was to be called upon to respond to any sentiment, and leas spoken of; and at times I have heard it not spoken of it so highly. I was told in Washington that the committee who attempted to visit it found themselves unable to land! [Laughter.] This was extraordinary to me—that the island should be so isolated as to be beyond the reach of landing from a boat. [Laughter.] And not until to day has the explanation come to my understanding. I harned that the committee, instead of coming to Philadelphia, and instead of stopping at the Continental, like respectable people, and instead of going from here directly to League Island, like the diffulfied committee from the House, they undertook to approach League Island, by way of Chester! [Laughter.] After my experience of to-day I am not at all surprised that they could not land at League Island. [Laughter.] Whatever League Island may be in the future, it is fast becoming historic ground. There are attacks and defences. There are attacks that are violent in their character, and there are defences as spirited as the attacks are violent, and were I a Philadelphian I could onte say I should wish no better representatives of my interests than the gentlemen who now compose the delegation. [Cheers.]

The fourth toast, "Andrew G. Curtin, the patriot statesman," &c., was responded to by Hon. Thomas J. Bingham, Chairman of the Committee of Ways and Mears of the State Legislature.

The fifth toast, "The Hon. Secretary of the

Mr. Wilson moved to strike out the clause in the Committee's bill, giving colored troops the same pay, &c., except bounty, during the whole time they have been in the service, and insert "from and after the 1st day of January, 1864."

Mr. Summer said he would not withdraw his amendment without explaining that its provisions would only apply to a few regiments, and therefore there would be no great draft upon the treasury. He did not think that the United States could afford at this time to do injustice to the colored troops.

Mr. Johnson (Md.), in reply to Mr. Summer, said that if the black men of Maryland were as good as the black men elsewhere, why make exceptions? They were all enlisted under the same law. If justice were done according to the views of the Senator from Massachusetts, some $500,000.

The sixth and last toast, "The Army and Navy," was responded to by Hon. Samuel J. Randall, who, passing from his subject, said that the Philadelphia delegation, whatever their politics might be, stand as a unit in favor of League Island, [Cheers.] They believe, and I believe, hat the navy yard and the iron-clads is a necessity, and that we present the right location for it. Owing to the lateness of the hour, the remainder of the toasts were not announced, and the pasternation.

Mr. Sumner proposed a proviso that in all cases of past services of colored troops where it shall appear to the satisfaction of the Secretary of War, from the actual papers of enlistment, that the troops were enlisted under the act of July. 1861, they shall be all owed the pay promised by that act. Rejected; yeas 16, nays 21.

Mr. Cowan offered a substitute for the bill as amended, providing that from and after the passage of this act all soldiers of the United States of the same arm of service shall receive like comwe age of ten and niwen. Between the age of venty and thirty, the deaths numbered 1,713, or ... 05 per cent. The total number of children uner ten years was 7,677, or 48.61 per cent., while less over the age of seventy only amounted to 058, or 2.53 per cent.
