LATE FROM NEW ORLEANS.

[Correspondence of the N. Y. Herald.] NEW ORLEANS, Feb., 10, 1864 .- About one o'clock this morning the steamboat Sally Robinson was hailed from the west shore of the Mississippi, when about ten miles from Donaldsonville, on her way to this city. The night was dark and foggy, and the captain, suspecting that all was not right, stood off towards the other side. This was no sooner perceived by the enemy than they opened upon her with artillery. The boat was fortunately a considerable distance off at the time, so that only one or two shots were fired, and these passed over

It is also reported that about the same hour on Monday morning a party attempted to board the Meteor. She was hailed near the same place, and supposing some passengers wished to embark, she went in towards shore; but a number of men appearing upon the bank, and, rushing forward, attempted to get on board before the gang plank was lowered, they were suspected to be guerillas, and the Meteor was then started for the centre of the river. She was not fired upon. When the Sally Robinson arrived at Donaldsonville our troops stated that they expected an attack from the enemy, who were reported to be in the neighborhood. Yesterday a small boat was picked up in Lake Pontchartrain by the steamer Battle, while on her way to this city 1 rom Madisonville. In the boat. there were five men, two of whom were surgeons in the rebel army. They were making for Mandeville when overhauled, and when they saw that escape was impossible they commenced throwing overboard everything they thought might be of value to us-letters, surgical instruments and even bottles of brandy. This only gave the crew of the Battle a little extra trouble, however; for everything was picked up again. Yesterday, Shrove Tuesday, or Mardi Gras, as it is called in this city, was well observed. Persons in carriages, on horseback and afoot, dressed and masked most curiously, were everywhere. In the evening masquerade balls and were in every

this city, having come out here from Maine, to spend the winter, and who arrived here a few days after the regiment had left New Orleans for Texas. FROM MATAMORAS. From the Picayne, Feb. 11.] A gentleman from Mantamoras, of foreign birth, but a citizen of Mexico by adoption, who is now here, having arrived only four days ago, informs us that Cortina has as yet not declared in favor of intervention, but only his independence of the authority of Juarez, who had directed him to withdraw in favor of Ruiz. It is likely that Cortina will either await the approach of the French, who are constantly expected, and then capitulate on terms, or retire up the river and make his way into Coahuila, and thence into Chihuahua. In the meantime he is feathering his nest. If he can receive a guarantee against arrest for his old offences on the Texas side, he will probably prefer the ferry at Brownsville. ARREST OF PRINCE SALM SALM .- Prince

Salm Salm, formerly commander of one of the German volunteer regiments from New York, was taken into custody yesterday by one of the Government detectives attached to the office of Provost Marshal General Hays. The order for the apprehension of the Prince emanated from the headquarters of General Dix. Among the charges preferred against the Prince are that he has been representing himself as the Colonel of the 68th regiment New York Volunteers, and raising funds from verdant young officers desirous of obtaining commissions in the same regiment. GOOD APPOINTMENT .- Wallace DeWitt, Esq., son of Rev. Wm. R. DeWitt, has been ap-pointed Prothonotary of the Supreme Court for the Middle District of Pennsylvania, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Robert E. Ferguson, Esq. The appointment is a good one, Mr. DeWitt being well qualified in every respect for the position. He will enter upon the discharge of his official duties in the course of a few days.

CITY BULLETIN.

THE RIVERS.—The Delaware is almost en-tirely blockaded with ice. Some of the cakes which have come down the river are upwards of a foot in thickness. It was with the greatest diffi-culty that the Camden ferry boats were able to ply between the two cities this morning. The chan-nel below the city is kept preity well open by the ice boat; but navigation by small craft has totally ceased. A few more such days as yesterday and to-day, would bring the ice to such a condition that it would be passable to Camden for pedes-trians. Some daing individuals have already ventured out some distance from the wharves, and this morning the ice was dotted here and there by skaters.

It is rather an unusual circumstance for the river to be frozen over below the dam, but to-day people are crossing as far down as the Almshouse property. Above the dam the ice dealers are busy gathering in the frigid commodity, and in front of Fairmount Park there is quite a crowd of people engaged in skating, sliding, and enjoying themselves generally.

The Baton Rouge Gazette learns from a resident of Point Coupee parish that nearly a mile of Grand levee has recently fallen into the Mississippiriver. This levee has heretofore pro-tected all of Southwestern Louisiana from overflow. "The levees for some distance above and below Baton Rouge are also represented as sadly out of repair, and there is a general apprehension that when the spring rise comes, an overflow of all the lowlands of the State will ensue.

 <td &c., as follows: the 9th ult. a steamer was discovered on shore. directly under the guns of Fort Morgan. All reasonable efforts were made to destroy or injure her, which resulted, we afterwards learned, in damage to her engine, though she was towed off by a rebel steamer. On a portion of the 31st ult., and until the morning of the 2d inst., the entire fleet was enveloped in a dense fog. On the 2d the fog lifted, and at daylight a long, low and very sharp steamer was discovered on shore, a mile eastward of the fort. The Octorora, Sebago, Kennebec and Albatros stood in and fired upon her, some shots taking effect. The steamer was apparently discharged, the beach being covered with cotton.

After the flect, in firing at the steamer, had approached within very easy range, and were coming suspiciously near a rebel gunboat which had the hardihood to look outside of Fort Morgan, that useful ally of Jeff. Davis skedaddled behind the fort, and old Morgan commenced pitching shot all around us, hitting no one, however, under which fire the vessels eventually withdrew; not, however, till many shots had been returned by all-the Sebago and Octorora gallantly and defiantly, with their splendid tParrots, sending shell into and all around the fort and the steamer. The Kennebec and Albatros remained within range of the guns of the fort, firing on the steamer, but did not receive so much attention as the Octarora and Sebago, the former being the favorite target of the rebs. The steamer Denbigh is apparently a hopeless wreck, and high upon the beach. Our shell probably give her the finishing stroke. The Mobile Register, of Feb. 4th, states that the steamship Denbigh, which recently at-tempted to run the blockade, but got aground and was fired upon by the blockaders, is again afloat and but little injured.

FROM TEXAS. [From the New Orleans Era. Feb. 10.] On the 21st of January the 13th Maine Regiment was sent up to the head of Matagorda Peninsula, to make a reconnoissance, and was returning, when Capt. Charles R. Marsh.Company H, was accidentally shot by some sailors, from one of our gunboats, shooting cattle on the island. The ball first struck a private in Co. C, by the name of S. Hela, wounding him very seriously, then struck Capt. Marsh in the head, back of the ears, and came out on the opposite side near the temple. He lived but a short time, insensible, and died without speaking. It is a sad blow to his wife, who is in "London Hair Color Restorer and Dressing." "London Hair Color Restorer and Dressing." This discovery for the preservation of the human hair is taking the lead of all hair preparations; be-sides restoring the color and making hair grow on bald heads, it is a beautiful dressing, keeps the hair soft, smooth and flexible, removes any erup-tive discase, Itching, Scurf, Dandruff, &c. Many who were bald and gray have had their hair per-manently restored. Only one preparation. "FREAD THIS CERTIFICATE. "FGRAY HAIR RESTORED WITHOUT DYEIN(}. "FBALDNESS PREVENTED. I am happy to add my testimony to the grea-value of the "London Hair Color Restorer," three bottles of which restored my Hair, which hue appears to be permanent. I am satisfied that the preparation is nothing like a dye, but operates upon the secretions. It is also a beautiful Hair-dressing. I purchased the first bottle from Mr. Garrigues, Drygrist, Tenth and Coates streets, who can also testify my hair was very gray, when I commenced its use. No. 720 North Ninth street, Phila.
