EVENING BULLETIN FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 1864.

DEMOCRACY AND SLAVERY.

True democracy always must oppose slavery, or any other institution which deprives a race of men of any one of their natural rights as men. But the old party, which has so long held by usurpation the 'name of "Democratic," has been the main support of African slavery during the past thirty or forty years. The mass of the Democratic voters, we are quite sure, would not, at any time in that period, have avowed themselves in favor of continuing slavery, much less of extending it. But the shrewd aristocrats of the South, whose fortunes consisted chiefly of human chattels, falsely called themselves Democrais, and uniting with partisan leaders at the North, brought about so intimate a relation between the Democratic party and the institution of slavery, as to make the existence of the one dependent upon the existence of the other. In the ordinary progress of civilization, slavery had to expire, either by a gradual process or a convulsive one. The Southern politicians made the process a convulsive one by beginning a rebellion to preserve slavery. They have failed and slavery is dying a rapid and violent death. The shrewder portion of the Democratic leaders, anxious to rescue the party from the ruin in which it must be involved if the upholding of slavery as a moral or political advantage be insisted on, is coming out against the vile institution. The New York World, which is certainly the ablest of all the Democratic journals, has startled its readers lately by several thoughtful, earnest and convincing articles in favor of abolishing slavery. Whether this remarkable conversion is the result of a sincere conviction that slavery is morally wicked, or whether it arises solely from the fear that approving of it will kill the party, we do not care to inquire. We prefer to give, without inquiry, the most generous interpretation, and to welcome to the ranks of Black Reexpublicanism and Abolitionism all who may he guided in opinion by the World. Let the wicked leaders, North and South, who have made the Democratic party responsible for all the pro-slavery outrages, aggressions and msnrpations of the past thirty or forty years be forever displaced from their leadership, and let Democracy be made anti-slavery, and there will be no differences of opinion in our

MORE CRIDIRONING.

We thought, a few days since, that the corporators of the proposed "Seventh and Ninth Streets and Fairmount City Passenger Kailway" made a pretty fair offer towards laying railway tracks in every street in the city, that was not already occupied by iron rails. But these Herods of railway projectors have been out-Heroded by a party of gentlemen who submitted their modest proposition to the Legislature on Wednesday. The telegraph informs us that Mr. Barger, of Philadelphia, submitted the bill, and it gives us the following particulars concerning it:

"An act to incorporate the Philadelphia Diagonal and Central Passenger Railway Company, commencing at Episcopal Hospital, at Lehigh avenue, and Front street, down Front with double track to Jefferson, up Jefferson to Seventh, down Seventh to Vine, up Vine to west side Franklin Square, and around the square to Race, down Race to Seventh, down Seventh and around Washington Square to Christian, up Christian to the river Schuylkill at Naval Asylum and Arsenal, and opposite Blockley Almshouse, with double track upon Christian street from Ninth street west so as to return by Christian street east to Ninth street, up Ninth to Green, down Green to Franklin up Franklin to Master, down Master to Front, up Front (north) to Lehigh avenue; thence to place of starting, with right of purchasing any road now laid on any portion of their route. The said company also ask to be permitted to lay a track on Harrison and Palmer streets, from Front to Frankford road, down Frankford road to Jefferson street; also, on Seventh street to Washington (or Prime) street, up Prime to Broad, up Broad to Christian. The corpora-tors are R. J. Dobbins, J. G. Brenner, A. C. Harmer, Don Carlos Enos, J. A. F. Laws, Geo. W. Middleton, Isaac M. Post, J. W. Souder F. S. Seitzinger, J. B. Harmer, Stephen Benton, Wm. Goodwin, Wm. B. Mann, J. J. Seit-zinger, John Daly, and Theo. M. Apple." This proposed new "diagonal" railway runs around sufficiently "promiscuously" to embrace within its iron bounds almost any locality in the city; but by some singular accident scarcely one of the corporators named in the bill lives upon, or even near, the line of their "Diagonal" road. So far as they are concerned the new road is not a necessity, and we have heard of no public demand for the construction of such a road. We have enough and to spare of city railways, and we trust that the Legislature will grant no more charters, or, if they do insist upon bestowing upon us any new lines, that city councils will decline to accept the favor. We have consulted the directory with view to ascertain the residences of the coff porators of the "Diagonal railway," and the result of our investigation is as follows;

R. J. Dobbins, 108 South Fourth street; house 1315 North Broad street. John G. Brenner, Nos. 23, 25 and 27 North Fifth street; heuse, Harrison street, Frankford. A. C. Harmer, Recorder of Deeds; house, Germantown.

Don Carlos Enos, Fifth and Chestnut; house,

Chestnut and Thirty-seventh street. J. A. F. Laws (not in directory). George W. Middleton, 2218 Mount Vernon street.

Isaac M. Post, 1103 Girard avenu 1425 North Twelfth street. F. S. Seitzinger, 1233 Walnut street. J. W. Souder, 16 North Fourth street; house, J.B. Harmer, 128 NorthThird street; house, 679 North Twelfth street.

Stephen Benton, 520 Walnut street; house, Germanton.

Germantown. Wm. Goodwin, 2301 Green street. Wm. B. Mann, District Attorney; house, corner Fifth and Green streets.

J. J. Seitzinger, 272 South Fourth street; house, 933 North Broad street. John Daley. (There are so many of this name in the directory that we cannot tell which is the original John of "Diagonal" railway fame). Theodore M. Apple, 124 South Water street; house, 334 Reed street.

From the foregoing record it is evident that the persons named do not need the "Diagonal" line for their own accommodation, and we are quite sure that the public at large do not desire any such wholesale ## addition to our city railways.

THE RETURN TO THE FIELD. The tide of troop transportation is beginning to flow strongly towards the seat of war once again. The veteran regiments are closing their furloughs, strapping on their knapsacks and resuming the grasp of the familiar musket. Many new recruits have been added to the ranks, and the veterans will soon initiate them into the arts of life in camp, in the field and on the march. The Southward-bound veterans have mingled among their relatives for a brief period, and have once more felt the charm of being in a friendly country, where the only guerillas have been the robbers who infest our cities, and the only other enemics the sellers of poisonous liquors. The masses of people at home have welcomed the gallant volunteers with generous sympathy, and with true pride in their achievements; and the soldiers have felt that the patriotic determination of those who remain at home is to urge on the conclusion of the war, anh in the meantime to prevent any ."fire in the rear" of the army by the Copperheads. We feel assured that the army is entering on its final year's work; that ere next autumn the doubly veterans will return to their homes and lay down their warlike weapons for the implements of peaceful arts; that the brotherhood of the nation will never again be disturbed by fratricidal machinations, and that America can then defy the world in arms. As a measure of strict justice, to that portion of the veterans who are returning to the field without being credited to any sub-district of Pennsylvania, we hope to see Mr. Glass's resolution, offering a State bounty of $400 to each man, pass the Senate at once. It went through the House Southwest corner Sixth and Arch, GRIFFITH & PAGE.

The Representatives without delay, and we hope the Senate will adopt it on organization. In every other case, where justice has not been done to re-enlisted men, we also hope prompt action will be taken, so that not a single volunteer may face the words battles he is fighting, have not rewarded his devotion to his country as that devotion deserves. A B: AUTIFUL PICTURE.

Visitors to Earle's Gattery, attracted by that misterpiece of gente painting and of color, the Derby Day, or Schuessele's magnificent tableau (almost vivant) of American Inventors, should pause just before entering the anteroom, and study a magnificent landscape, which fully deserves a place with the two pictures first mentioned. - We refer to The Gates of the Susquehanna, by Edmund S. Lewis, of this city, one of the best works of its kind especially as regards composition—if that word can be correctly applied to an exquisite reproduction of nature—which has been of late brought before our public.

Those who were in camp at Harrisburg and at "Fort Couch," during the emergency of last summer, will recognize in this view a scene which strikingly resembles that view above the city where the river filled with innumerable islets and rocks "like a flock swimming." winds away in the blue distance between overhanging hills-recalling the Neckar, where, to borrow a comparison from Longfellow, it opens on the Rhine-land at Heidelberg "like the mouth of a trumpet." It is a happy incident for any artist, when he can, in a landscape, introduce an avenue, or other leading lines, in which, although, like "shadowy corridors," they lead to nothing, the eye is always gratified by that gradation which forms the ground of all harmony. The principle is beautifully illustrated in the composition of Mr. Lewis's picture, and it is as beautifully carried out in almost every detail. Even the lines of the clouds are in happy harmony with fore and back-ground.

Within a very few years landscape painting has made a remarkable advance in this country, both as regards popular favor and the number of devotees which it has gained among artists—the reason being that, as culture advances, nature, in her purer forms, is invariably more appreciated. And as the profession of a good landscape is, among the conceded laws of "esthetic furnishing," a decided indication of superior taste and refinement, we congratulate our fellow-citizens on having the opportunity to obtain works of art like this, the owning of which is of itself a reputation.

MUSICAL.

GERMAN OPERA. -The reappearance of Mme. Rotter and the performance of Kreutzer's popular and beautiful opera, A Night in Grenada, attracted a large and fashionable audience to the Academy last evening. Mme. Rotter's voice has lost power and freshness-the effect, probably, of iliness; but she sang and acted with so much spirit and intelli gence, that every one was delighted. Herr Habelmann deserved and received enthusiastic applause for his beautiful singing, and Herr Steinecke also came in for a full share of the honors. The fine choruses were sung grandly, and the orchestral part was well done. The artists were called out several times and vociferously applauded. This evening, the last of the season, Faust is to be given, with a cast much improved since its former per-"Siebel," and Hermanns that of "Mephisto pheles." We are glad to hear there is a prospect of a large audience. For to-morrow's matinee, which closes the season, the two last acts of La Dame Blancke and the two last acts of Faust will oe given—a most attractive bill.

THE HANDEL AND HANDY SOCIETY Will produce at the Musical Fund Hall, next Thursday evening, Mendelssohn's great work, The Hymn of France. They will have the assistance of the Germania Orchestra. We have learned not to be astonished at anything. Years of experience and a correspondence extending throughout all nationalities of the habitable globe have turned theories into facts and established a basis from which we need not err. "HAVEMEYEE MANSION, Ffty-seventh street, New York, August 2, 1853.

DR. DRAKE: Your wonderful Plantation Bitters have been given to some of our little children suffering from weakness and weak lungs with most happy effect. One little girl, in particular, with pains in her head, loss of appetite, and daily wasting consumption, on whom all medical skill had been exhausted, has been entirely restored. We commenced with but a teaspoonful of Bitters a day. Her appetite and strength rapidly increased, and she is now well.

Respectfully, MRS. O. M. DEVOE."
