DALTON, GA. Feb. 21, 1864. Our army is in DALTON, GA. Trunel Hill. There was a sharp line of battle at Tunnel Hill. There was a sharp line of battle at Tunnel Hill. There was a sharp line of battle at Tunnel Hill. There was a sharp line of battle at Tunnel Hill. There was a sharp line of battle at Tunnel Hill. There was a sharp our line, and were repulsed three times. A hundred yankee saddles were emptied in the first assalt. Our ten-inch rified Parrott did great execution. Our cavalry and two infantry brigades of cution. Our cavalry and two infantry brigades of Yankees are at Lafayette

DALTON, Feb. 25.—P. M.—There has been heavy artillery elimishing along the lines all day, with artillery elimishing along the lines all day. With artillery elimishing along the lines all day, with a stillery elimishing all along the standard of the same and the same and the lines all day. With a stillery elimishing all along his the Holston as yet. Major General Buckner has the war news.

[From the Richmond Examiner, Feb. 27.]

An official despatch was received by the President from General Johnston yesterday, stating that the enemy was skirmishing all along his lines northeast from Dalton. It is not doubted that the enemy is making a general advance in Georgie.

Georgis. General Beauregard telegraphs that all is quiet Georgia.

General Beauregard telegraphs that all is quiet General Beauregard telegraphs that all is quiet in his department.

Now that Sherman's force is dispersed or withdrawn, there appears to be but little anxiety as to anything Farragut may accomplish with his fleet off Mobile. He would find it very difficult to get this yessels through the shallow waters of the passes and fords. The Mobile Register remarks:—

'Hartford frigates and his Monitors can have no place in the picture, and we have nets enough set for his smeller crafts. He must come here, then, with a large army; and he must come to encounter the best confederate troops, behind the best and strongest works that have been erected in the South.'

the best confederate troops, behind the best and strongest works that have been erected in the South."

The war is going on vigorously in Florida. The Savannah News of the 123d says that Gen. Taliaferro left that sity on the preceding evening, and will assume command of all the troops in Florida. The same paper says that Col. Robert H. Anderson, of the 5th Georgia cavalry, will command the cavalry forces in Florida, and Col. George P. Harrison, Jr., of the 23d Georgia, will command a brigade, consisting of the 23d Georgia, will command a brigade, consisting of the 23d Georgia, Will command a brigade, consisting of the 23d Georgia, Will command the News says:—"(In the battle near Lake City the enemy were completely defeated and routed. It is reported that the Sixty-fourth Georgia lost severely in officers and men, but no particulars of the casualties other than those reported have been received. The enemy have advanced a considerable force of cavalry and infantry between Traders' Hill and the Satilla river. The gunboats and several transports are in St. Mary's river, near King's ferry, about eleven miles from Jeffersonton. A small party of Yankee cavalry made their appearance near Centre Village, in Florida, a few days since. The impression exists in that neighborhood that this is but a small raid to draw the attention of our people from their main body, which are enamped on the St. Mary's river, some thirty miles from Lake City. Nothing of importance has occurred during the past tew days.

"The last reports from Florida give the following as to the situation of the opposing armies: The pickets of both forces are within three miles of each other. At last accounts the enemy was busily engaged in throwing up fortifications around their camp at Barber's, near the St. Mary's river. Their

Their force is supposed to be not more than three thonsand men, composed of cavalry, infantry and artillery. They have about fifteen hundred negroes is their service, who serve as infantry."

The Floridian, published at Tallahassee, says: "It appears that the Yankees design establishing a fortified camp at Baldwin, and it would further seem that their design is, if allowed, permanently to occupy that portion of Florida.

[For the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.] PROTECTIVE UNIONS FOR WOMEN. It ins been stated recently that a protective society (or Union), for the temale industrial classes, believe that the control of the productive of the control of the contr amount of their salary, whether there is work or not.

A lady who went through the Echool of Design in the city with much credit to herself and the institution, was employed by a professedly liberal manufacturer as calico designer at a salary of $12 per week. This was not half so much as he had paid a man; but it was an advance upon what the lady could have elsewhere; and it was accepted, she regarding it as a salary of $621-or thereabouts; but she found there was a vast difference between $12 pr week and $621 per year, for whenever it ruited the convenience or pocket of her employer, she was placed on half time, and before the close of a year the mills from some cause, were closed and the out of omployment. Would any man bear such the aiment patiently?

Let protective unions be formed in every city, let women determine to be true, to themselves and their interests. The factory girls of New Engl. and are accustomed to "strikes," and have greatly ameliorated their condition thereby. Let the benevolent turn their eyes from distant "Borriob ola Ghas," and set their hands to some practical good at home. The purchase of fine tooth-combs and red finned shirts for negro babies thousands of miles away may very well be left, whilst some attention is being given to the saving of our countrywomen from sinks of iniquity and disease, into which low wages and oppressive treatment too often drive them.

Signor Blitz.—This renowned magician and ventriloquist has consented to keep his Temple of Wonders, corner of Tenth and Chesnut streets, open for another week. The lovers of fun and the admirers of first class legardemain, will please take notice and bear in mind that the Signor performs nightly and upon the afternoons of Wednesday and Saturday.

The Arch.—A splendid house attended the production of Chas. Gaylor's "Magic Marriage" at the Arch last evening. Mrs. John Drew was warmly received, and played the character of the Marchoness de Volterra with great spirit; her changes from youth to age were admirably made. Mr. Hill as Chevaller Monte Cellini also made an excellent impression and was heartily applanded by the audience. Miss J. Henry as Zillah, the gipsy, looked beautifal, and acced charmingly; while Mr. Griffiths, as Signer Mained, displayed his usual ability. The plot of the play is well arranged, the incidents are worked up with all of Mr. Gaylor's appreciation of stage effect, and we consider the piece a most emphatic success. The afterpiece was that admirable comedy, "Simpson & Co.," the characters being taken by Airs. Drew, Miss Freeman, Miss Price, Mrs. Marlow, and Resears. Griffiths, Hill and Regers. This evening "The March Marriage" will be repeated, with "The Follies of a Night." There will be a splendid house.

THE WALBUT -Miss Still Henderson mades The Walbur.—Miss Ettle Henderson made a most favorable impression on the large audience which attended the Walnut last evening. Her Fanchon was an exquisite impersonation and derived much of its effect from her graceful demeanor and pretty cyes. "The Shadow Dance" was most felicitosely given and was heartily applauded, as indeed Miss H. was throughout the entire play. To-night "Fanchon, the Oricket," will be repeated, together with the amusing farce of "Sarah's Young Man."
