IMPORTANT NEWS FROM VIR-GINIA.

MOVEMENT OF THE ARMY OF THE PO-KILPATRICK REPORTED NEAR RICH. MOND.

[Correspondence of the N.Y. Tribune.] WASHINGTON. Tuesday, March 1, 1861.—"Beta" reports from the Headquarters of the Almy of the Potomac, under date of March 1: reports from the Headquarters of the Army of the Potomac, under date of March 1:

It would seem that General Sedgwick was sent to the extreme left of the enemy to engage his attention, and divert his vigilance from the Rapidan fords. Kilpatrick seizing advantage of this crosses the river and proceeds to make a rapid defour to the southwest of the enemy's main positions, around Orange Court House and Gordonsville, while Custar swings rapidly around the extreme right of Sedgwick, via Madison Court House and Stanardsville.

Cur latest information from Kilpatrick was up to 8 o'clock yesterday morning, when he was reported to be at Spoitsylvania, and on the trot.

Of Custar, we have positive knowledge that his long lines of cavalry dashed rapidly through Madison Court House before daylight yesterday morning.

It is reasonably conjectured by a Tribune special who left the Court House at roon, that Custar had engaged the enemy at 1 o'clock; for a heavy cannonading was heard at that hour in the direction of Orange Court House, and it continued up to dark.

"Heta" indulges in the speculation that Kilpat.

nonging was near at the house and it continued up to dark.

'Beta' indulges in the speculation that Kilpatinick's movement has for its object the dissemination of the President's Amnesty Proclamation. He says that there is no truth in the rumor that the whole army or any considerable portion has moved or is about to move. Deserters and prisoners come in freely, out of the movement. In our camps, on the other hand, officers' wives and children abound, and arrive as well as depart daily.

Gray sends' news' from Madison Court House, dated Monday noon, that Sedgwick's corps marched at suprise on Saturday, with four day's rations, bivouacked at night seven miles beyond Culpeper, leached Russell's Ford on Robinson River on Sunday forenoon, where most of the corps bivouacked, and Sedgwick established his headquarters. Talbot's brigade pushed on to Madison Court House with cavalry under Captain Claffin. A rebel picket fled from the town toward Grange Court House. Three of the pickets were captured. Nota single able-bodied man was found in the town; all had been remors cleasly conscripted.

Frange Court House. Three of the pickets were cap ured. Nota single able bodied man was found in the town; all had been remorsclessly conscripted. The 1st Division of the 3d Corps came up to the support of the 6th on Sunday might.

At 1 o'clock on Monday morning Costar's cavalry, with horse artillery, marched out of the town to the Rapidan, which was cressed near Barnett's Ford;

Mr. Long adds that our troops marched for miles on the road to Madison Court House through a lane of fire and smoke, the brush and stubble's in the fields on both fides and the rail fences being on fire, through accident or design.

LATEST.—The latest news from the front indicates a battle this morning at Stanardsville, between Custar's cavalry and rebel infantry. Rumors persistently place Kilpatrickat about wenty-five miles from Richmond, give us Spottsylvania Court House and Madison Court House, and, as a a drawback, swell the waters of the Rapidan six feet over the level of yesterday.

Washington, March 1.—The latestinformation received here from the Army of the Potomac is up to Line o'clock this morning. Heavy muskelry, probably, carbine firing was heardearly this morning off to the extreme right, in the direction of Stanardsville, where it is supposed that Custer's cavalry were engaging the rebels. Madison Courthouse as well as Spottsylvania Courthouse are the outperference of the part of Lee to avoid a battle, by keeping behind his intrenchments. Kilpatrick has been heard from. The report is favorable. Lee's communications no longer remain unbroken. It was reported to day at Culpeper that Hampton's Leegion had been healy whipped by Kilpatrick; with a loss of several hundred prisoners—Hampton himself among the number.

ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, March 1, 1864 —A great excitement was started to-day at Brandy Station and throughout the army by the publication, in the New-York Times, of an announcement of the movements of a part of this army. The result will be probably the expulsion of that paper and its correspondents from the army.

A large rebel mail was captured to-day at Fairfax, which filled five large trnuks. The whole was covered by a pass from the War Department, but the vigilance of Colonel Deversaux's railroad detectives circumvented the miscreants and led to the arrest. The offender was a woman, who professed to be on a mission of mercy to the Army of the Potomac.

FROM GENERAL GILLMORE'S DEPARTMENT
The Hilton Head correspondent of the Iterala writes as follows:

On the Stst. wit. an expedition consisting of the 5th Pennsylvania, a detachment of the 6th Ohio and the 4th New Hampshire regiment, Col. Bell, under the command of Col. Howell, proceeded from Hilton Head in the steamers Dictator, Capt. Blankeman, the Mary Burton, the Golden Gate, the Mayflower (almed). Captain Young, to Whitmarsh Island, to capture a fatigue party said to be at work there building intrenchments. The expedition reached Freeman's Cut late at night, and before daylight pushed up towards the scene of their operations. Captain Hughes, with his company of the Sth Pennsylvania Volunteers, was first landed, and surprised the rebel picket and put them to flight, and captured fifteen out of the fifty men that constituted it. The rebels waited only to give our men one volley, when they broke and ran, with our men closely after them. Our force, or a portion of it, was put ashore quite rapidly, considering the defective character of the boats used on the occasion. Assoon as a smiliciant number was ashore. Company B, ith New Hampshire, Captain Greenleaf, was thrown out as skirmishers, and ordered to feel the enemy's position and strength. He advanced nearly two miles, and found the enemy quite strong in the woods, and after driving in the enemy, skirmishers, he found himself in the presence of a rebel force of at least fifteen hundred men. As soon as this fact was developed, he fell back and joined the command, closely followed by the enemy. When the exact state of affairs was made known to Colonel Howell, he determined to embark his command on the transports, and relinquish the planef operations, as with his inferior force, he could do but little and might positive be captured. The enemy pressed on our command, as it was slowly embarking, and opened fire, wounding two of our efficers and one man. Colonel Bell ordered companies F and C, of the Fourth New Hampshire, to throw have desired. The rebels were kept

THE LOSS OF THE HOUSATONIC-TORPEDORS. [From the N. Y. Sunday Mercury, of Feb. 28th.]
The most persistent experimenters with international machines are the rebels, and in a few instances they have been amply rewarded for their perseverance. The last act performed by them has been the total destruction of the steam sloop-of-war Housstonic, of thirteen guns. This vessel was PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 2, 1864.

hreniened with destruction a few weeks since; and in all probability would have been sunk at that time, but from the fact that the torpedo-vessel filled with water and sunk before reaching her object. On the night of the 18th inst, at about the crew were in their beds, the submarine devil came down through Breach Inlet, and approaching the Houstonic, was discovered. The master's mate on the lookout discovered her, and immediately alarmed the ship's company, who enceavored to fire agun, but owing to some mishap it would not go off. The rebel quietly propelled and under the quarter, when he exploded his shell, shivering that portion of the vessel into ten thousand fragments. The Houstonic sank in aboutfive minutes, and five lives were lost—two about five minutes, and five lives were lost two of them being officers. It is rumored that her commander, Captain Pickering, is so severely wounded that he cannot recover. of them being officers. It is rumored that her commander, Captain Pickering, is so severely wounded that he cannot recover.

The Housatonic is a second-class screw sloop, and was built in Boston shortly after the rebellion broke out, and was considered one of the filest vessels in the Navy of her class. Although a great misfortune to us, it must prove of great value to us, as it clearly demonstrates the necessity of our fixed authorities taking immediate action in reference to this method of naval warfare. We are now planning to protect that portion of our vessels which are supposed to be affected by shot above water-line, while these very rebels are proving to us that the bottom of a vessel is the most vulnerable part of her, and consequently they will do their rumost to strike us where we are the weakest. Scientific men in this country and in Europe have been and are now, doing much to develop this new art in naval warfare. In our own country, we have one of the ablest engineers in the naval service who is at work with one of the most effective torpedo vessels. yet devised; we refer to Chief-Engineer W. W. Wood, United States Navy. His plans have been submitted to a competent Board of skillful naval officers, who pronounce in its favor in the highest terms; and we ventuse to prophesy that the day is not far distant when the iron-clads as well as the wooden vessels must give way to the torpedo vessels. J. The manner in which this rebel torpedo vessel has disposed of the Housatonic, leaves no doubt of the efficiency of that class of vessels. Men who, a few weeks ago, pointed to the failure of this torpedo vessel to blow up the New Ironsides, and who still later, scouted at the idea of the rebels ever attempting to try the destruction of the Housatonic leaves no doubt of the efficiency of that class of vessels. the Government, under orders from home, of the Confederate cruster Tuscaloosa, which was in Simon's Bay rather more than three months ago, returned to that port on Saturday, Dec. 28.

"During her cruise the Tuscaloosa put into one of the Brazilian ports for water and supplies, but was refersed both, in consequence of which her crew are said to have been placed upon short allowance. Lieut, Lowe hoped on this visit to Simon's lay to get the bottom of his vessel re-compared, as well as to take in all the supplies he needed. But his hopes were doomed to be disappointed, to routhe day after her arrival Admiral a lieuterant and a bearding parly of 25 men to take possession of the Tuscaloosa in the Queen's name. The officer promptly exceuted the orders of the Admiral, and the vessel was seized accordingly. Licuit, Lowe lodged with the Admiral a formal protest against the seizure, which will be transmitted to the Home Government.

"The United States' Consul, Mr. Graham, lodged a claim to the vessel on behalf of her former owners, and has since been informed by the Government that she will be defained, until she can be hinded over to them. The point upon which the authorities at home differ in opinion from Mr. Denyssen, who was acting Autorney-General, and, as such, legai adviser of the Government, when the Tuscaloosa formerly visited the Cape, is as to the competency of Captan Semmes to condemn prizes without taking them to a regularly consitute of board the Alabama by virtue's of any virtue's even the first of the government; and the theory of captan semmes to condemn as the first of the government; and the theory of any virtue's of the conversion of the confederate States are exteptional, and that the court imples that the circumstances of the Conf as such, were equally so, and she cannot claim indemnity from seizure as a man of war. If, on the other hand, it be held that the condemnation was sufficient, then is the Tuscaloes entitled to all the privileges of a ship of-war, one of which is freedom from arrest.

THE WALNUT.—Though there was but a small house at the Walnut last evening, the personation of Fanchon by Mies. Ettie Henderson was even more ispirited than upon the first night, and it received warm applause from the audience. This evening Miss Henderson brings out a piece, new, we believe, in this conntry, called "The Flower Girl and the Convict Marquis." She takes the character of the flower girl, and will, no doubt, make a charming picture of it. The afterpiece is "The Laughing Hyona."

Dr. Jennings, V. S.. called attention to the disease of glanders, which is now prevailing extensively ameng horses in this country. It is a dangerous and contagious disease, and has become quite common since the beginning of the sale of army horses. Dr. J. stated that within the past two years he had seen more cases of glanders, than he had done in the whole of his previous practice. He has been appointed upon a committee, in Burling on, to prepare a law to present to the Legislature to prchibit the sale of condemned horses in New Jersey, and suggested that some such action be taken by this society. He said that he had prepared an interesting pamphlet upon the subject, and offered the society the use of the type if it was desirable.

Their importations are the largest they have ever made, and the taste displayed in the selection of their elegant spring fabrics we are sure will be universally approved. They are selling off the balance of their Winter Clothing at greatly reduced prices.

A WONDERFUL PIECE OF MECHANISM .- The A Wonderful Piece of Mechanism.—The popular Grover & Baker Sewing Machines, sold at 750 Chesinut street, have the distinguishing notoriety of having taken the first premium wherever they have been exhibited in comparison with other fingchines. This, with the fact that, among the thousards of families throughout this land who have the Grover & Baker Machines in use, there is not to be found one who would substitute any other in its stead, is no mean proof that it possesses more merits than any rival machine. The most rigid tests have demonstrated that for many reasons the Grover & Baker Stitch is preferable to any other. The elegantly embroidered garments displayed in the windows of their establishment in his city are a splendid card of what the Grover & Baker Machine can do, and they attract much at CROSS AND JARVIS'S SOIREE. If anything was needed to give new evidence of the growth of nunsical taste in our community, it was afforded by the brilliant audience assembled at the Foyer of the Academy of Music last night, despite of the extreme inclemency of the weather.

The character and quality of these choice expositions of classical music are now so well known that an extended notice of last evening's entertainment is unnecessary.

The pièces de resistance were Spohr's great Quintett in C. Minor, and Mozart's Quartett No. 3, which were rendered with a finished precision and delicacy of expression which attested the highest degree of appreciation of these great masters by the accomplished performers.

The vocal part of the soirce was in the hands of Herr Habelman, the distinguished tenor of the German Opera Troupe, who sang the Wanderer by Fesca and a "Vogelsang" by Abt, in magnificent tyle. He was greeted with round after round of well deserved applause.
Mr. Ahrend's "Souvenir de Suisse," by Servais, was played with all the extraordinary brilliancy and exquisite finish which is so well known to the countless admirers of this really great artist, and lastly but not least, Mr. Jarvis gave us an Etude, by Henselt, and a Polonaise, by Chopin, in his own best style, which has established for this young artist such an enviable reputation. The Grand Pianos used on the occasion, were, as usual, of "Steck's" make, and under such hands as those of Mesers. Oross and Jaryis, could not fail to win new encomiums for that purity and brilliancy of tone that have won for them so high place in public estimation.

PERSONAL.

The death of Mrs. Gen. Harrison was announced by telegraph a day or two since. The funeral sorvices were held on Sunday, at the Preebyterian church at Cleves, Ohio, whence her remains were conveyed to the family cemetery and land by the side of those of her husband, on the beautiful mound at North Bend Mrs. Harrison was the daughter of John Cleves Symmes, the original purchaser of the Miami country. She was married to Captain Harrison, who commanded Fort Washington, seen after the departure of General Wayne for the Atlantic States, probably in 1796. She had, therefore, been forty five years mayried when her husband, then President of the United States, died, and more than twenty years since a widow. She was with her husband as he passed through all the stations of civil and of military career. She married him as Captain Harrison, she saw him as General and Commander. In Chief, member of Congress, Senator, Governor and President. She was with him in prosperity and adversity, for they were compelled to see, in various ways, not a little of adversity.

At the death of Daniel Webster, Mr. March published a series of interesting personal reminiscences.

A WAR EAGLE IN THE WAR.

A WAR EAGLE IN THE WAR.

A correspondent of the Virequa (Wis.) Tiges, gives the following interesting particulars of the eggle wold Abe, of the 5th Wisconsin Regiment.

Old Abe, of the 5th Wisconsin Regiment.

Old Abe is an intelligent bird, and understands himself. When at liberty to go where he pleases, the sutler's tent is his favorite resort. If any live chickens are to be found, he is sure to pounce, on one, eazing it with one claw, and hobbling off on the other, with the aid of his wings. Old Abe, we see sorry to say is quite a thief. There is one favorite dog in the regiment with which the eagle keeps on good terms. They will both eat together at the beginning of the meal, but towards the close, as provisions get scarce, the eagle will pitch into the dog and drive him off. If a horse comes within reach, Mr. Eagle is sure to exhibit his superiority over the quadrupedal creation by hopping on to the nag and inserting his talons in no very complimentary manner.

Old Abe manifests his appreciation of oratory in a very unique manner.

When a distinguished officer comes along and addresses the troops, he joins with the soldiers in their cheers. His method of cheering is to spread his pinions to their utmost extent, and then jamp up and down on his perch. This mode of applauses adopted by the eagle is said to be very inspiring to the orator.

When the regiment is engaged in battle, Old Abemanif. sis the fiercest delight. At such a time he will always be found in his appropriate place at the head of company D. To be seen in all his glory, he should be seen when the regiment is enteloped in the smoke of battle. Then the eagle, with prival pri Thousanus nack to see him, and the kept at the expense of the State, at the capitol in Madison, and the heroic warrior who bore him safely through should be pensioned by the State, and be retained as the keepersof the eagle. To this we are sure all the people of the State will agree.

THE FRENCH IN ACAPUICO.

The Washington correspondent of the World unter date of yesterday writes as follows:

I am authorized to state that the entrance of Acapulco by two French frigates, to which you allude in your issue of yesterday, and the s arching of American vessels in that port, has taken placed with effect of the blockade notification transmitted by the French government to the Secretary of State, and does not violate in any way the relation existing between this country and France. The proceeditize of the French in the Pacific ocean can be accounted for by the fact that since the beginning of the war New York houses have been in the habit of shipping large amounts of provisions, arms, and ammunitions of war to Acapulco for Juarez's account, in open transgression of established usages and customs. These articles, according to the reles established in such a case, were contraband of war, and, as such, subject to be selzed. This is what the French Government has decided to do. Informed by his agents of the illegitimate trade which was going on between New York and Mexico, anxious, on the other hand, to put an end to a transaction which had for its object to give life and strength to the enemy, the Emperor has determined to search all vessels trafficking with Acapulco, and to confiscate all contraband goods found on board, avid has communicated his intentions officially to Washing—ton in order to avoid all difficulties in the matter.
